All Help Unfortunate
A singular custom prevails among the Tartars or Kurds. If a man loses his cattle or other property he pours a little brown sugar into a piece of colored cloth, ties it up, and carries one such parcel to each of his friends and acquaintances. In turn he is presented, according to circumstances, with a cow or sheep or a sum of money.

Picture Show News For The Current Week

Those who have ever lived or visited in the Capitol City will always remember the view of Pennsylvania avenue with its rows of chestnut trees and the Capitol's dome in the distance. They will appreciate, more than others, the reproduction of this scene in the photoplay "Abraham Lincoln," which comes to Moro theatre next Tuesday.

"Abraham Lincoln" has been acclaimed everywhere as one of the most unusual entertainment offerings of the year. It tells the life story of the Great Emancipator forcefully and dramatically, from the time of his birth to the last days of his presidency.

Jones Pleads Guilty to Liquor Law Violation

Lawrence Jones, reputed vendor of moonshine products at Wasco, was arrested Saturday evening at the rear of his residence in Wasco, by federal officers who also found several pints of moonshine in his home and two pints in his car. In the justice court at Wasco on Monday, Jones pleaded guilty to the unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor. His car was confiscated, he was given a term of one year in the county jail, fined $490 and $10 costs. It is said that two men from Grass Valley, who were with Jones at the time, talked quite earnestly to the arresting officers before they were allowed to go their way under promise to sin no more. They also spilled all the beans, as far as their business with Jones was concerned, before they were allowed to depart in a confused state of mind.

Chester Clark, United States customs collector at Marshfield, in his monthly report on business done by lumbering interests shows an export of 11,205,037 feet of lumber during April.

J. D. Mickle, state dairy and food commissioner, is notifying egg producers and dealers that the egg law passed at the recent session of the legislature will go into effect on May 26.

Governor Pierce is being besieged with requests to commute to life imprisonment the death sentences imposed upon L. W. Peare and Arthur Covell, who are scheduled to be hanged May 22.

About 1000 citizens of Lincoln county assembled in the streets at Toledo in a mass meeting to oppose the importation of Japanese labor for operation of the Pacific Spruce corporation's sawmill.

Dr. Maurice Butler, dentist with offices in Independence, suffered the loss of his right eye and a fractured skull when an automobile in which he was riding skidded off the Salem-Dallas highway.

An analysis of the stomach and vital organs of Mrs. R. L. Gimlin, who died suddenly at Coquille about a month ago, and whose body was examined for examination recently, showed only negative results.

Establishment of a game reserve to take in the land on which the Oregon caves, in Josephine county, are located, is advocated by Governor Pierce, members of the state game commission and forestry officials.

A marriage license was issued at Mobile, Ala., to Jonathan L. Bourne, ex-United States senator from Oregon, to wed Miss Frances Baker Turner. The ex-Oregon senator gave his age as 70 and the bride-to-be as 20.

The fruit situation in Marion county is the most serious for many years according to S. N. Van Trump, county fruit inspector. Mr. Van Trump said the Italian prune crop would be far short of normal. A similar condition exists with relation to the Petite crop. On the lowlands the cherry crop was badly damaged, while in the higher elevations the crop will be short of previous years. Not more than a 15 per cent crop of loganberries will be harvested. The raspberry and black cap crops will not be 50 per cent of normal.

Chas. A. Buckley Dies Monday Eve at Portland
Colonel Chas. A. Buckley, prominent sheep man, farmer and business man of Sherman county, died Monday night in Portland following an operation for stomach trouble. He had been visiting at the Buckley farm, southwest of Grass Valley, where he became suddenly ill last Friday and was taken to Portland the following day in an invalid car. Surviving him are his widow and son Conklin. Funeral services were held in Portland this Friday. Mr. Buckley came to Sherman county in 1883, first engaging in the sheep business and later becoming identified with all phases of progressive farming. He was keenly interested in the growth and prosperity of Sherman county and could always be counted on to do everything possible to further the interests of this section of his adopted state.

Mrs. Helen Bair, 29, who was being transported from Bend to the industrial school for girls at Salem, to which she had been committed after pleading guilty to a charge of liquor possession, was kidnapped by a man driving an automobile bearing a California license plate, while the party stopped at a Hood River service station.

The public service commission has vacated an order suspending new rates sought by the Spokane, Portland & Seattle Railway company and the Spokane, Seattle & Portland Transportation company. The proposed new rates, which are a slight increase over those now in effect, will become operative as soon as the completed tariffs are filed.

MORO CHURCH NEWS

Notes of Interest To All Local Denominations

The union service Sunday evening will be held in the Presbyterian church at 8:00 o'clock. The sermon will be preached by Mrs. R. A. Feenstra.

Next Monday to Wednesday will occur the state convention of the Council of Religious Education in Portland, and several local people are expecting to attend, among whom are Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Byers and Mr. J. E. Coleman.

At the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning in the absence of the pastor the sermon will be preached by Rev. W. L. Dillinger at 11:00 o'clock. The Sunday school will meet as usual at 10:00 o'clock in charge of Mr. M. G. Melzer.

Christian Science church services are held on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and on Wednesday at 8:00 p. m. Sunday school at 10:15 a. m. The reading room is open daily in the rear of the church. All are invited to attend the church services and to make use of the reading room.

The picnic dinner which the Keystone class of the Presbyterian Sunday school had planned for the Square Deal class last Saturday had to be postponed and is now scheduled for next Wednesday afternoon, May 13th at the Fleek orchards camp grounds near Rufus. The people will assemble in the afternoon at that place, while those that are in school go as soon as they are free to do so. A big picnic dinner is being planned for five thirty and the time before and after will be spent in games and stunts of various kinds.

Sunday, May 17th, gives prospect of an unusually interesting Sunday for Moro people. At eleven o'clock Rev. W. L. VanNuy, field man for the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, will speak on some phase of his particular line of work. He will also address the Sunday school, that morning. Mr. VanNuy's main object in coming to Moro at that time is in response to the invitation of the senior graduating class of the high school, who have invited him to preach the baccalaureate sermon on the evening of that day.

Next Sunday is remembered thru out our country as "Mothers Day." Many great tributes have been rendered to the mothers of men, but none more acceptable to Christian Mothers than to honor her God and the blessed savior who gave her her place of lasting affection and true rulership in the hearts and lives of men. Let us gratefully remember our mothers next Sunday and fittingly worship the great eternal giver of all good gifts. At the Methodist church, Mrs. R. A. Feenstra is going to bring a fitting Mothers Day message. Special music for this service is being prepared.

MORO THEATRE
MORO, OREGON
"Butterfly" Saturday May 9
She stole her only sister's first sweetheart and married him but when she tried to steal the general her wretched husband started a drama that makes a wonderful picture. That's "Butterfly." Adapted from Kallimachus' famous and uniformly successful novel of the same name.
"Abraham Lincoln" Tuesday, May 12
There are many important points about "Abraham Lincoln" which should be kept in mind. The first and strongest of all is the fact that "Abraham Lincoln" is entertainment. The next important fact is that this picture portrays the life of the greatest man America has ever produced and that the man, who appears as Lincoln, does not play the part but lives it. He is as true in appearance and character to the real Lincoln as a man can be.
"The Signal Tower" Friday, May 15
The most appealing thing in the world—a brave man's devotion to duty in the face of dreadful peril to his wife. It's all in Universal's tremendous railroad drama, "The Signal Tower" featuring Virginia Valli, with Wallace Beery and Rockliffe Fellowes.
"Never Say Die" Saturday, May 16
"Never Say Die" is the funniest romance ever screened—with the fastest-working bridegroom who ever slipped a ring over a bride's finger—the most fascinating Parisian vamp who ever busted a romance—and the most furious fiancée who ever lost a girl!
