Picture Show News For The Current Week

What is said to be the most original plot ever employed in a comedy is woven into Douglas MacLean's "Never Say Die." The story is an adaptation of one of Willie Collier's greatest stage successes, a piece which kept Broadway laughing for a year and also played for three successive seasons on the road. The play was also presented in London, Australia and other world centers where it swept audiences off their feet and broke attendance records. But the screen version is said to be even more funny and thrilling than was possible through the limited medium of the stage.

There are some plays that depend on mystery for their appeal; some on dramatic action or surprise climaxes; some purely on thrills and excitement, but after all, the greatest appeal in a play is humanness. This is exemplified in "The Turmoil," Hobart Hanley's Universal-Jewel production of Booth Tarkington's famous novel.

The play has all qualities, one laughs with its characters, one weeps with them; its smashing dramatic episodes thrill; but over all these things, the play is great because it is life itself. Booth Tarkington, perhaps better than any other author, knows how to get real human beings into his stories. It is a powerful story, the tale of a self-made millionaire, imperious, ruthless and indomitable, fighting ever to gain more dollars.

More than 7,500 actors, including one of the most notable casts ever assembled on the screen, appear in "Janice Meredith," Marion Davies' newest picture, which comes to Moro on Friday, May 22nd.

It is the most pretentious picture ever made by the Cosmopolitan Corporation, combining a charming love story and a series of dramatic thrills with the most important events in the founding of the American Republic.

For magnitude, for dramatic sweep, for sheer splendor and magnificence of settings and costumes, it surpasses anything heretofore accomplished by Miss Davies. And it is American to the core. Historical authorities on the period of the American Revolution have pronounced it the most authentic picture of its kind ever produced. It is from the famous novel by Paul Leicester Ford.

"Janice Meredith," can be called a screen epic of the American Revolution. It embraces the entire Revolutionary era from 1775 to 1783. Such important events as the Boston Tea Party, the Ride of Paul Revere, the Battle of Lexington, Patrick Henry's speech, the Crossing of the Delaware, the Battle of Trenton, the Battle of Yorktown, and surrender of the British; as well as many other incidents in the making of this nation, are all faithfully depicted in this picture.

George Washington, Benjamin Franklin, Lafayette, Alexander Hamilton, Patrick Henry, Paul Revere and other characters famous in the founding of the nation live again on the screen, together with Lord Cornwallis, Sir William Howe, Colonel Rahl, Major Piteairn, King Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette.

In an unsuccessfull effort to make the turn at Main and First streets last Saturday evening, Mrs. Otis Baker hit the sidewalk curb with both right hand wheels. The hind wheel was broken, the front wheel badly-dished and front axle broken as a result. Mrs. Baker and children accompanied by Mrs. Hazel Woods, and daughter, had just returned from a trip to The Dalles.

MORO CHURCH NEWS

Notes of Interest to All Denominations

The usual services will be held at the Methodist church next Sunday morning, Mrs. R. A. Feenstra preaching.

Christian Science church services are held on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and on Wednesday at 8:00 p. m. Sunday school at 10:15 a. m. The reading room is open daily in the rear of the church. All are invited to attend the church services and to make use of the reading room.

Next Sunday promises to be a big day at the Presbyterian church. Rev. W. L. VanNuis, secretary of the Board of Religious Education for the Synod of Oregon, and an expert in dealing with problems concerning the Sunday school, the home, the week day religious school, and kindred interests will be with us all day. He will speak at the Sunday school at 10, and will be the speaker at the morning service at 11:00. Special music is being prepared to add interest to the service. In the evening he is the invited speaker by the Senior Class of Moro high school to preach the baccalaureate sermon for the class, at 8:00 that night. Special music is also being prepared for this service.

Death Calls at Two Moro Homes Last Week

Mrs. Wm. Morrison died at the hospital in The Dalles last Saturday following an illness of many months. Funeral services were held in that city on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. H. G. Hanson of Moro Presbyterian church preaching the sermon followed by a service by the Eastern Star lodge of Moro at the graveside and interment in the I. O. O. F. cemetery at The Dalles.

Mrs. E. E. Helyer died suddenly at her home in Moro last Sunday night from acute heart trouble. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at Moro Methodist church, Mrs. R. A. Feenstra preaching the sermon, after which deceased was taken to McMinnville for interment.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank all our many kind friends and neighbors for the assistance extended to us during the last illness and death of our wife and mother, Mrs. Wm. Morrison. Especially do we appreciate the kind thoughts that accompanied the beautiful floral offerings.

MORO THEATRE
MORO, OREGON

"The Signal Tower"
Friday, May 15

The most appealing thing in the world—a brave man's devotion to duty in the face of dreadful peril to his wife. It's all in Universal's tremendous railroad drama, "The Signal Tower" featuring Virginia Valli, with Wallace Beery and Rockliffe Fellows.

"Never Say Die"
Saturday, May 16

"Never Say Die" is the funniest romance ever screened—with the fastest-working bridegroom who ever slipped a ring over a bride's finger—the most fascinating Parisian vamp who ever burst a romance—and the most furious fiancé who ever lost a girl!

"Janice Meredith"
Friday, May 22

"Janice Meredith" is a remarkable contribution to the screen presentations of American history. It should quickly find its place among the few pictures that have unquestionable permanent value. For those who may insist on treating it as merely entertainment, "Janice Meredith" fills the bill. It cannot fail to hold any audience of Americans. It is a remarkable skillful blending of history and romance.

"The Turmoil"
Saturday, May 23

A big creamy slice of up-to-the-minute American society and business life with a crash and a smash in it. Packed with well-known American types so true and family clashes so realistic as to strike home with every audience everywhere.

THE STORY

Nan, as a baby, is stolen from Mr. Enlow by some fishermen, including Injun Jim. When brought back, another baby—that of Moll Buzzer—was substituted. Therefore, Hortense is in reality Moll Buzzer's child and Nan is Mr. Enlow's daughter.

The action of the play portrays the incidents leading up to the restoration of Nan to her proper place and the humiliation of the haughty Hortense.
