COOLIDGE POSTPONES CUT IN SUGAR TARIFF
Washington, D. C.—President Coolidge has decided to postpone indefinitely action on the recommendation of a majority on the tariff commission for a reduction of 1/2 cent a pound in sugar duties.
Discussing the issue at length, the president points out that the commission failed to agree on the difference in cost of production of domestic and imported sugar, and divided, three to two, on the question.
He asserted that fluctuating prices of the last few years had made it next to impossible to arrive at accurate calculations and emphasized the necessity of protecting the beet sugar industry, of encouraging farmers to diversify their crops and of providing an adequate sugar supply for the American consumer.

AGED YAKIMA INDIAN DEAD
War Veteran Falls to Keep Boast of Living Forever.
Goldendale, Wash. — Wah-fa-cinch (Black Jim), 103, veteran of early day Indian wars, is dead, in spite of boasts made to white residents on Rock Creek, 20 miles east of Goldendale that he was going to live forever.
Jim was kicked to death last Friday by a wild horse.
As a fully matured youth Jim saw the first covered wagon come over the old Oregon trail. He was a warrior in the forces of Kamiakan, Yakima chieftain who battled the whites in the 50's, and the hero of many personal encounters with settlers in the early days.

CANADA MAY OBJECT TO MACMILLAN BASE
Ottawa, Ont.—Canada will protest against the United States' MacMillan expedition using Axel Heideburgland as a base while exploring the Arctic, unless the reply to a communication sent Washington by the dominion government is satisfactory.
While not specifically naming the MacMillan expedition, Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, announced that the Canadian government felt that foreign explorers should get a permit from the dominion before making use of land Canada claims between the dominion and the North Pole.
According to the minister of the interior, the question of a permit has been taken up with the Washington authorities and a reply to the Canadian government's communication is expected here shortly.

Iowa Floods Take 3 Lives.
Dubuque, Ia.—Three lives and property loss estimated at $1,250,000 was the toll taken by floods in Dubuque, Delaware and Buchanan counties following torrential rains. Manchester and Dyersville were the communities hardest hit. Damage in these two sections was estimated at about $1,000,000.

Pioneer Visits Moro After 33 Year Absence
Iver B. Hansen and mother, Mrs. M. C. Hansen, of Goldendale were visiting in Moro on Tuesday of this week. They were accompanied by George N. Petersen, a former resident of Sherman county, who left here in 1892 to make his home in Muncie, Indiana. Mrs. Hansen is the mother of Martin Hansen, now living near Camp Sherman, and who formerly lived and farmed lands near Rutledge. Mr. Petersen got in touch with his old friends by means of a letter addressed to them at Rutledge, a postoffice in this county long discontinued. When he decided to visit Sherman county again he asked for a railroad ticket to Grants, but no railway agent could locate the place. He thought them quite ignorant and told them so, because when he left here Grants was the largest town in the county with large mercantile stores, distillery plant, flour mill, cattle feeding stations, etc. Now all there is left is a small section house. Then stages each morning left a large livery barn that covered a city block. Now there is only a passing track for trains, which do not stop.
The change in Grants was made by the Columbia river flood of 1894 which completely destroyed the town. As great a change was seen by Mr. Petersen in all parts of Sherman county since he left here. It was a sort of Rip Van Winkle experience to him to return to his old home after 33 years absence. The farm then owned by him at the head of Fulton canyon is now farmed and owned by one of the Kaseberg boys.

Visiting County Agents Will Discuss Home Crops

Any farmer in Sherman county is invited to attend, provided the secretary of the club, Attorney I. M. Peterson, or the management of Hotel Moro be notified before Monday morning so that the hotel manager will know the number to be provided for. All members of the club are also expected to notify the secretary of their intention to be present.
An interesting program is expected including mainly a discussion of agricultural problems and crop prospects in eastern Oregon. The hotel will serve a good dinner for which there will be a charge of 75 cents per plate.

Wm. B. Mathews, for the past year teacher in the Grass Valley high school, was united in marriage to Miss Frances Rolfe, also of Grass Valley, at the Methodist parsonage in this city Tuesday morning, Rev. They will spend the summer traveling by motor and, next September, Mr. Mathews will again take up school duties as teacher at Hood River. Francis Anderson, Mauris Douma and Owen Searcy returned late Saturday from their trip to Badger lake in south Wasco county. They report plenty of snow yet at the lake side. Fishing in the lake was good, but all fish caught more than ten inches long were found to be wormy. Rangers say that trout in Badger lake seem to become wormy each spring, especially the larger ones. The three left Moro at 7:30 a. m. June 8th and, after an 8-mile hike packing their equipment, were fishing in the lake at 5:30 the same evening. On their return they stopped at Shearer bridge for a days fishing, catching several big ones.

Dr. J. A. Wonderlick, who has taken over the medical practice of Dr. W. N. Morse at Wasco, was a business visitor in Moro Wednesday morning. Dr. Wonderlick comes to Sherman county with high recommendations as to his professional ability. He is a graduate of the University of Oregon medical school, served two years as interne with the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland, a year on the house staff of the Seattle city hospital and since leaving the Seattle city hospital has been one of the house staff with the Shrine hospital in Portland while conducting a private practice in that city. Dr. Wonderlick, his wife and family moved to Wasco last Saturday.

NEW SETTLERS ARE LACKING IN CAPITAL
Washington, D. C.—Only 10 per cent of prospective settlers on reclamation projects have cash capital of more than $2500.
Settlers on new projects investigated in Oregon, Washington, Utah, Nevada and Wyoming should have from $4000 to $7000 to succeed.
This is the summary of economics reports made by experts as announced by Elwood Mead, commissioner of reclamation.
The statement results from a study of the reports made by representatives of the reclamation service collaborating with local committees of bankers and business men. The conclusion of all those participating came to the same result, Mead said, pointing out that local interests are found to connect with the outside investigators.
The problem presented, in his view, is making up in credit the difference between the capital the would-be settler has available and the sum he needs to see him through. Men with $1500 to $2000 can be secured in reasonable number, he says, and the federal or the state government must step forward with the advances which settlers must have.

BRIEF GENERAL NEWS
Nellie Taylor Ross, governor of Wyoming, announced that she had removed William H. Loomis from the office of sheriff of Park county.
Premier Baldwin announced in commons that the British government had decided to inaugurate a new secretaryship of state for dominion affairs.
F. E. Williamson of New York has been appointed vice president of the Northern Pacific Railway company, in charge of maintenance and operation, to succeed A. M. Burt, who died in April.
A temporary organization has been formed at Astoria, Or., for the purpose of obtaining congressional appropriations for the continuation of the construction of the Tongue Point naval base.
Striking miners of the British Empire Steel corporation in Cape Breton coal fields took law into their own hands and controlled situations throughout colliery districts of the island. Stores of the company were raided and looted at night, and in some cases destroyed. Homes of company officials were stoned by strikers. Damage done is estimated at $300,000.

Quarantine Board Urges Fight on Pest
Boise, Idaho. — Stringent measures to prevent introduction and spread of plant pests and diseases in western states are advocated in resolutions adopted by the western plant quarantine board at the closing session here of that body's annual convention. The recommendations of the quarantine board are seriously considered by federal and state officials, because the board is composed of experts in the field.

22 Land Office Jobs Abolished.
Washington, D. C.—The offices of 22 receivers of local land offices in 11 states were ordered abolished Monday by the interior department. The work of the receivers will be taken over by the registrars of the offices and the department estimates a saving of $50,000 a year will result.

Smile and the World Smiles Back to You
A smile is quite a funny thing
It wrinkles up your face;
And when it's gone you never find
It's secret hiding place.
But far more wonderful it is
To see what smiles can do;
You smile at one, he smiles at you
And so one smile makes two.
He smiles at someone since you smiled
And then one smiles back;
And that one smiles until, in truth,
You fail in keeping track.
Now, since a smile can do great good,
By cheering hearts of care,
Let's smile and smile and not forget,
That smiles go everywhere.

Fire late Tuesday afternoon at Wasco gutted the building used as a clothes cleaning establishment in that city. At the time of the fire the operator of the cleaning plant was using gasoline with which to clean clothes. The gasoline exploded with no injury to the man at work. Some of the clothes in the establishment were burned, the larger part being moved to safety. The building burned is a two story frame structure directly across the street east of the depot. The fire burned into the upper story and out the roof, slightly burning a warehouse back of the burned building before the fire was gotten under control.
