Picture Show News For The Current Week

"Frisolous Sal" is a real west drama. It combines all the thrills of the pioneer mining camp days, when life was what you made it, and nothing more, with a love story as big and as tender as Mother Nature, herself.

How the woman and the little boy work together to bring the man back to his birthright—and to them—is the story. It is a story that will blind an audience with tears, and yet freeze the tears with thrills.

"Frisolous Sal" has a scenic background the like of which has rarely been seen on the screen in dramatic production. Rainier National Park, in northwestern Washington, and the great mining region of Idaho's Couer d'Alene were chosen as locations.

Strongheart, greatest of dogs, in the greatest dog role that has ever written! That in itself is enough to recommend "White Fang."

The world owes you a living but you must show it what for.
