Mr. Barnum will receive $650 as compensation for all damages to his property. $200 of this will be paid by the Farmers Elevator & Supply company.

Warnings that no temporary licenses will be issued in 1926 for cars duly licensed in 1925 have been issued to all sheriffs, police magistrates and county and city officials by Secretary of State Sam A. Kozer. The state executive mailed application blanks to each automobile owner in November, and feels that sufficient warning has been given that individuals need not ask for extension of time in which to make application. Only owners of vehicles purchased after January 1st, 1926, should be granted temporary tags, and then only after application has been filed. Under a state law passed by the last legislature the secretary of state cannot issue a motor car license until certificate of ownership has been filed in his office.

Following the liquidation of all of the Oregon seed wheat loans in Sherman county, comes word from Gilliam county that the loans remaining in the latter district will be cleared up in their entirety by the first of the year. The total amount loaned by the state for this purpose in the district centered by Condon, was $107,445.10. By the middle of December all but $6814.23 of this amount had been paid. As the loans in Sherman county totaled approximately half of all the seed wheat funds loaned for the state this year and in view of the situation in Gilliam county, the agrarian districts of eastern Oregon plainly are recovering nicely from their setback of about a year ago.

MOTOR LICENSE FEE LAW TO BE SUBJECT TO SUIT

The constitutionality of Oregon's automobile license law is to be attacked in a suit to be filed in the United States district court by W. R. Crawford, an attorney representing the Portland-Hood River truck line, the Alert Transfer & Storage company and other automobile and truck interests.

The suit will be an injunction proceeding in an effort to enjoin Secretary of State Kozer from the collection of the automobile license fees for 1926.

The proceeding, according to Crawford, is to be based on the theory that the license fees collected by this state are in the nature of tolls and as such are in violation of the rural post road act passed by congress in 1916 and the federal highways act passed by congress in 1921, both of which appropriated funds for aiding the states in highway construction and both of which, it will be contended, forbid the charging of tolls for the use of such federal-aided highways.

Secretray of State Kozer explained that the filing of the suit would have no effect whatever on the collection of license fees for 1926 until the suit has been determined. A suit recently filed in the federal court in Portland is directed at the collection of the state tax on gasoline, which, as does the license money, goes into the construction and repair of public highways.

Owing to the fact that the state highway construction program as planned in 1917 is drawing to completion and that not much new work will be underaken next season, the highway department will be reorganized at the beginning of the year by a reduction from six to five divisions and the dropping of a division engineer. The Klamath division has been consolidated with the Marchfield and the Dalles divisions causing the removal of division headquarters from Marsh-

YEAR'S LOANS TOTAL OVER SIX BILLIONS

American Gold Finances Industries and Stabilizes Currencies.

New York.—The flow of American capital into foreign and domestic investments, comprising loans for governments, municipalities and corporate enterprises, reached unprecedented proportions in 1925. While accurate compilations are not yet available, preliminary estimates indicate that the total of capital flotations eclipsed last year's record of slightly more than $6,000,000,000.

For the second time in history American investors poured more than a billion dollars into foreign loans during the year, equaling, if not surpassing, the 1924 record of approximately $1,200,000,000. Productive enterprises claimed about $350,000,000 of the total, the gain in this type of business offsetting a moderate decline in government borrowings.

America's commanding position as lender to the world also was strikingly revealed by the establishment of huge private credits to help in the stabilization of foreign currencies. Fortified by the possession of enormous gold stocks, American bankers set aside $300,000,000 for the protection of Great Britain's return to the gold standard and advanced many millions additional to insure the stability of the Belgian and Italian currencies preparatory to their re-establishment on a gold basis.
