COMMITTEE BEGINS PROHIBITION QUIZ

Two Weeks to Be Given Over to Hearing; Wets Start
Testimony:

Washington, D. C. — Opponents of prohibition marched on congress Monday in their first organized demonstration in several years.
The whole week has been set aside for hearing the wets and all of next week will be given over to arguments by the drys.

"This will be an open forum for presentation of all evidence," Chairman Means of the committee assured both sides before the hearings began. "If the committee determines that more evidence is needed after the wets have used their six days and the drys have used their six succeeding days, it will summon whom it pleases."

The wets' case was begun with an opening statement from William C. Bruce, democrat, Maryland, author of a resolution to permit states and cities to determine whether they want prohibition or liquor dispensed by the government under the Canadian system.

After Senators Bruce and Edge, and Julian Coleman, of Boston, who has charge of the wet's case, had made statements to the subcommittee, Assistant Secretary Andrews, of the treasury, upon whose shoulders rests responsibility for dry law enforcement, was called as the first witness.

The prohibition field marshal made clear his policy to dry up the sources of supply, but conceded that he would have to have a largely increased force to do it.

The federal forces are not concerning themselves much with distributors. Mr. Andrews said, leaving that task to the local police. He said it was useless to arrest a bootlegger because "his brother or his uncle" would take up the traffic where he left off.

Disclosing a plan for a patrol of 1500 to 1600 men on the Canadian and Mexican borders, General Andrews said he believed this force would break up any organized smuggling traffic.

Construction of Salem's proposed new $400,000. linen mill will begin within the next ten days, according to announcement made by the directors. Machinery costing $105,000 has been ordered and will arrive in Salem before June 1.

Influenza is declining rapidly throughout the state with the advent of spring weather, according to figures compiled by Dr. Frederik D. Stricker, secretary of the state board of health, which showed but 97 cases. Two weeks ago there were more than 300.

One hundred acres of land near Joseph, and more than a score of acres of test plots in other points in Union and Walla Walla counties, will be seeded in flax this year, according to H. G. Avery, Union county farm agent. An attempt is being made to substitute flaxseed for cereals.

Net operating revenues of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company in Oregon during the year 1925 aggregated $1,415,014.06, or $54,753.73 less than in the year 1924, according to the annual report of the corporation filed in the offices of the public service commission at Salem.

Gilliam county's pet flock of wild geese, which is growing in size, is proving a decided annoyance to farmers of the region, upon whose fields the birds are complacently fattening, according to reports from ranchers that have come into the state game commission offices at Portland.

ATHEISTS WOULD CUT CLERICS' SALARIES

Washington, D. C. — A petition for an injunction to prevent payment of the salaries of chaplains of the senate and house and of all clerics attached to the war and navy departments was filed in District of Columbia supreme court. James I. Elliott, member of the recently chartered American Association for the Advancement of Atheism, is the plaintiff, and Frank White, treasurer of the United States, is named defendant.

The petition sets forth that "the employment of chaplains in the congress of the United States, in the department of the navy and the department of war constitutes the promotion and establishment of religious and sectarian views and objects in violation of article 1 of the constitution," which provides that "congress shall make no laws respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

The plaintiff prays the court to enjoin the treasurer of the United States from paying the salaries of the chaplains and to declare null and void the acts of congress under which such salaries are authorized.

ISLANDS AGITATE SENATE

Appointment of Commission to Investigate Conditions Various Viewed.
Washington, D. C. — What to do about the Philippines has become once more, a much-discussed question in Washington.

Revitalized by President Coolidge's unexpected appointment of a special commission to investigate conditions in the islands, the old fighting issue of post-Spanish war days provided fuel for an hour's debate in the senate, promoted a proposal for a congressional inquiry, and led to all sorts of conjectures among officials and politicians.

The president's selection of Carmel A. Thompson of Ohio to make his inquiry in the islands was variously described in the discussions as a wise and essential step, a reflection on Governor-General Wood, an effort to give support to what General Wood has done, a move in the interest of Ohio rubber concerns to exploit the islands, and an attempt to remove Mr. Thompson as a factor in the 1926 Ohio campaign.

Dry League Seeks $50,000 Battle Fund
Washington, D. C. — The Anti-Saloon league has started a drive to raise a "battle fund" of $50,000 to combat the wets in hearing before the senate judiciary committee.

The survey of the Columbia river channel from Portland to the sea which will be ordered by the board of army engineers as soon as funds for the next fiscal year become available, will be made on the basis of a 36-foot channel as well as a 30-foot channel at the request of Senator McFarley. Major-General Harry Taylor, chief of engineers, had announced.

Hundreds of women in Oregon are wearing coyote skins around their necks under the impression that they had purchased fox furs, according to Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian. Dr. Lytle says that between 5000 and 6000 coyote pelts are available in the state of Oregon annually and that many of these are put through a process that gives them the appearance of genuine fox skins.

The earliest forest closing order in the history of the district forest office has closed to smoking an area of more than eight thousand acres in the Cascade national forest on account of extreme hazard caused by slaking and dry weather. The area affected is a large timber sale tract, and the order limits smoking to designated safe areas. Such closing orders as this usually do not occur until the months of July or August.

Ex-Governor West of Portland has filed with the state engineer application for permission to close the outlet of a nameless stream in central Oregon, construct a dam and divert the waters down the Deschutes river channel to the intake of the central Oregon canal. The water then would be carried through this canal to the Powell butte district for the reclamation of approximately 2000 acres of land.

Moro, Oregon, March 1, 1926.
Ginn, Coleman & Co., Moro, Ore.
Dear Sirs:
I take pleasure in recommending the McCormick-Deering Hill-Side Combine I purchased of you in 1925, as the machine gave perfect satisfaction.
I would make special mention of the leveling devices as they are so arranged as to keep the separator level and also automatically keeps the shoe and recleaner level at all times from front to back, making it possible to save the grain on extremely steep land.
Yours Respectfully,
(Signed) L. D. Eakin.

Gentlemen:
Since I have gone through harvest using your Hill-Side Combine Harvester, I feel that I owe to my fellow wheat farmers a statement concerning the same.
I harvested over four hundred acres with it using eight head of horses on level land and twelve head of horses on the rough land. I hired one man with myself and we did the whole job.
My total expense, besides myself and equipment, was $146.00 for harvesting and piling sacks.
I am more than pleased with your harvester and will be glad to recommend it and the Company in every way.
Yours Truly,
(Signed) John Buether.

Dear Sirs:
I have cut one season with your No. 7 Combined Harvester Thresher and am very much satisfied with it. We used twelve horses and three men, and it cost us about eighty cents an acre to run it.
We figured it up and it averaged about 30 acres a day with the 16 foot cutter.
I have found it much more economical to run the Combine than the Header and Thresher.
Yours truly,
(Signed) Henry Piirainen.

Buick is More Expensively Built

But it Costs Less to Buy one

Buick is built more expensively than any other cars in or near the Buick price class.
"Expensively built" means that the different parts and units of the Buick motor car are the best that engineers can design. But, thanks to the large volume which public demand has given to Buick, and thanks also to production methods that are models of efficiency in an efficient industry, the Buick motor car can be sold to you at a very moderate price.
Many Buick features are duplicated only in America's highest priced motor cars.
Buick, for instance, uses the Torque Tube Drive to transmit the drive of the rear wheels to the chassis, instead of burdening the rear springs with this added duty. The highest priced car in America uses the torque tube. And so does Buick!
The American public wants finer transportation and Buick provides it at lower cost. Consequently Buick is a very popular car. Come in and examine the Better Buick.
