Senator Stanfield Renders

Great Service to Oregon

In an address sent to and read before the Portland Advertising Club, Wednesday, April 21, 1926, United States Senator Robert N. Stanfield said:

"When I entered the U. S. Senate, March 4, 1921, agriculture was in dire straits, prices were down, producers were hard up and the bankers and loan companies in farming communities were unable to realize on the notes they held. Quick action was necessary to relieve the agricultural distress.

Works hard, with Gooding for Emergency Tariff

"After repeated efforts I succeeded, assisted by Senator Gooding of Idaho, in overcoming the objections of Senator Penrose, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, to an emergency tariff on farm products, and on May 27, 1921, the Emergency Tariff Bill became law. This act placed protective duties on 28 of the principal farm products, including wheat, corn, potatoes, onions, cattle, meat, wool, butter, cheese, milk, apples, cherries and nuts.

Stanfield Comes to Rescue With Amendment

"On May 20, 1921, the Stanfield Bill was introduced 'to preserve the livestock industry of the United States, to release for commercial, agricultural and industrial purposes certain funds of banks, livestock loaning and trust companies, to amend the war finance corporation act, and for other purposes.

"The Stanfield Bill, or its principal provisions, became a law on August 24, 1921, the Senate Committee on Agriculture submitting its main features through Senator McNary as an amendment substituted for the Norris Bill, along with other provisions. Under its terms the War Finance Corporation made advances for agricultural relief amounting to $289,000,000, of which the banks, trust and loan companies of Oregon that serve agriculture received $6,696,000.

Drafted into Relief Service by Treasury Department

"As soon as the War Finance Corporation was prepared to function under this law, and at the request of the Treasury Department, I went West, where I spent months assisting and advising with the bankers, thereby enabling them to procure the needed help quickly and before it was too late to save them. Fortunately, very few failed in Oregon in comparison to other states.

Forced to Keep Silent to Protect the Banks

"Much was said about my absence from the Senate during this time, but I was forced to keep silent and go about my work without referring to my absence or mission, because if the people had known why I was in the West and what I was doing, suspicion would have been directed to every bank I entered, and to every banker with whom I talked. Until the banks could turn their frozen paper into liquid assets, my silence was imperative to avoid embarrassment to them, and the defeat of the relief needed and sought."

Kaseberg-Foss Nuptials

May Day was chosen as the wedding day of Miss Marguerite Foss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Foss of this city and Lawrence Edward Kaseberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Kaseberg of Portland. The ceremony was solemnized at eight o'clock at the Presbyterian church at Moro, Rev. Henry G. Hanson officiating, who used a modification of the Episcopal ring service, written by Dr. Henry Van Dyke, one of the regular forms prescribed for use by Presbyterian clergymen.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin faced crepe made with tight bodice and full skirt embellished with embroidered silk lace. Her veil was of silk net edged with silk lace and fell from a low coronet held in place by bands of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids, rosebuds, and lilies of the valley.

Miss Gwendolyn Foss was her sister's maid of honor and wore a frock of pale pink beaded georgette with which she carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds and lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaids, Miss Roxina Blake of Camas, Washington, and Miss Marguerite Hill of The Dalles, sorority sisters of the bride, were attractively gowned in pale green georgette and carried nosegays of pink sweet peas and lilies of the valley.

Little Eleanor Ann Fortner in a chic frock of pink organdy and carrying a basket of Cecil Bruiner roses and forget-me-nots acted as flower girl and Robert Richmond, small son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Richmond of Centralia, Washington, as ringbearer carried the ring in the heart of a calla lily.

The groom was attended by Orville Burres of Wasco as best man and ushers were John and Searl Searcy. Preceding the ceremony Miss Laura Urquhart played "Meditation," and Wayne Hull of Wasco sang "Because."

The bride party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March played by Mrs. Harry Pinkerton who also played softly during the ceremony.

The church was charmingly decorated. At the altar was a screen of pink and white blossoms and huge baskets of pink snapdragons and gladiolas. Tall wrought iron floor urns filled with pink and white flowers were used to mark the aisles.

The ceremony was followed by a large reception at the home of the bride's parents. The rooms were fragrant with snapdragons, gladiolas and sweet peas, and the supper table, presided over by Mrs. C. C. Richmond and Mrs. Frank E. Fortner, was gay with a graceful basket of pink sweet peas and pink tapers.

The bride's bouquet was thrown to a bevy of her girl friends and was caught by Miss Roxina Blake.

The bride was lovely in her going away costume, grey georgette frock worn with a pastel blue charmeuse coat with squirrel trimming and a small grey hat.

After a short sojourn at Columbia Gorge hotel, Mr. Kaseberg and his bride will motor through California, visiting Los Angeles, Pasadena, and other southern points and will be at home to their many friends after May 15th at their farm home west of Wasco.

Numbered among the out-of-town guests, aside from immediate family relatives, were Mrs. A. D. McDonald from Spokane, great aunt of the bride; J. B. McDonald and wife, cousin of the bride, Lewiston, Idaho; Mrs. Ace Clark, cousin of the bride, Pullman, Washington; J. A. Foss and wife, uncle of the bride, Redmond, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Kaseberg, Wasco, parents of the groom; and son Collis; J. E. Kaseberg and wife, Portland, uncle of the groom; Mrs. Gollner, Wasco, great aunt of the groom; Mrs. N. P. Hanson and daughter Margaret, Portland; Chris Andersen and wife, Portland; Chester Andersen, White Salmon; Miss Helen Smith, Portland, sorority sister of the bride; A. B. Woods and wife, Walla Walla; M. E. McKee and wife, Hermiston; E. D. McKee and wife, Wasco; Miss Georgia McKee, Monmouth; W. H. Burres and wife, Wasco; W. B. Guy and wife, Wasco; A. C. Kaseberg and family, Wasco; Dr. C. L. Poley and son Robert, Grass Valley; Herbert Root and family, Wasco; Wayne Hull, Wasco; Ross Hilderbrand, Wasco; Earl Jones and wife, Wasco; F. E. Fortner and wife, Wasco; Floyd Ford and wife, Wasco; Wade Hull and wife, Wasco; Mrs. Webber, Portland, aunt of the groom.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

ON SAVING TO INVEST

"You have talked so much about saving, Aunt Emmy," said Hilda to Aunt Emmy. "I wonder if you will be kind enough to help Jack and me work out a way to save regularly. We do so want to get ahead. As Jack is getting a little more money this year, we plan to save that and keep right on living on what we got last year. Of course, it is hard to do without a lot of things we might have, but then Jack and I both feel that we don't want to be worried about money. If we have a little reserve fund, we can be prepared for emergencies."

"Bless my heart," exclaimed Aunt Emmy. "It surely does sound good to hear such sensible talk from a youngster these days! I'll tell you what I think is a good plan for you to follow—open a savings account with a bank that has a thrift department and every week put away a stated sum in your savings account. You will receive interest on this money, you know. Of course, you receive only a moderate rate of interest on your savings, so it is a good idea to make a definite investment plan and invest your savings in sound securities that will yield a higher rate of interest."

"Accumulate your money," said Aunt Emmy at a time, in your thrift or savings account. Determine what sum you will use for your initial investment, say, $100 or $500. Save until you have twice that amount. If you decide to begin your investment on $100 save $200, then take $100 and buy a baby bond, or buy a large bond on the installment plan and apply the $100 on the first payment, if you are sure you can save regularly enough to meet the other payments."

"Why not use the $200 and then begin all over again, Auntie?" queried Hilda.

"Because you ought to have some money on hand. You don't want to wipe out your whole savings, even for the best sort of investment."

"But how can we know what to invest in?" asked Hilda.

"Your bank will help you in that, my dear. Bankers are always glad to advise their customers concerning sound investments."—Anne B. Aymes

Homes for Aged

Accounts are not very definite concerning the establishment of the first home exclusively for the aged. In England in early days and in Germany at the end of the Seventeenth century there were hospitals to which the aged and infirm could go. Such a hospital was founded by St. Cross near Winchester, England, in 1193, and another, the Coningsby hospital at Hereford, was founded in 1314.
