

Stanfield Fighting to Develop Resources of Oregon

U. S. Senator Robert N. Stanfield maintains that the natural resources of Oregon belong to the people of Oregon, and he is leading the fight to establish Oregon's right to use the revenues from these resources to develop the state and materially reduce taxes.

Grazing Bill Entering Wedge

Stanfield's Grazing Bill, which has been unanimously recommended for passage by the Senate Committee on Public Lands, (Stanfield Chairman), is the first step toward restoring control to Oregon of the revenues from its resources. Secretary Work, Department of the Interior, pronounces the bill "a constructive measure which will result in definite and positive benefits to the livestock industry, and will permit the use of the public lands by both large and small livestock raisers."

Stanfield for Port and Shipping

U. S. Senator McNary wired Bert Anderson, republican county chairman of Jackson county, on May 4: "Senator Stanfield, Chairman of the Senate Public Lands Committee, has conducted hearings and given much of his time to Oregon and California grant lands tax bill. I AM ASSISTING HIM IN EVERY WAY I CAN. I am busy assisting in the hearings before the Senate Commerce Committee on the attempters of the Oriental line by the Shipping Board to the Dollar interests. SENATOR STANFIELD IS ASSISTING ME IN EVERY WAY HE CAN."

Stanfield Comes to Rescue of the Farmer

The passage of the emergency tariff bill on May 27, 1921, placing protective duties on 28 of the principal farm products, was due largely to the insistent efforts of Senator Stanfield.

On May 20, 1921, the Stanfield bill was introduced for financial relief of agricultural banks and loan companies, through the War Finance Corporation. The main features of this measure became law as a part of the Norris bill August 24, 1921, and Oregon banks, trust and loan companies that serve agriculture received $6,696,000 under its terms.

Working for Oregon's Reclamation Projects

Senator Stanfield favors active continuation of the reclamation of Oregon's arid lands until every irrigable acre is reduced to cultivation and production. He is working in full accord with his colleague, Senator McNary, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Irrigation, and with Representative Sinnott, Chairman of the same committee in the House, in reclamation legislation. The Oregon Senators won out in their contention that financial aid to settlers should be provided by the Government and the Interior Department, in March, 1925, agreed to use $500,000 of the reclamation fund for the purpose of making experimental loans to settlers on certain selected projects over a period of three years.

STANFIELD'S HIGH RANK ON SENATE COMMITTEES HELPS OREGON. IT WOULD TAKE YEARS FOR A NEW MAN TO ATTAIN HIS RANK IN THE SENATE.

MORO PASTOR WILL ATTEND NATIONAL CHURCH MEET

Rev. Henry G. Hanson will leave in the early part of next week on his assembly trip to Baltimore, Maryland. On the way east he plans on going by way of Spokane and the Great Northern railway. This passes directly through Wilmar, Minnesota, the home of his boyhood, and a place where two sisters and a brother are still residing. He also expects to visit his mother-in-law in Mishawaka, Indiana, and friends in some parts of the state of New York.

The general assembly of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., meets annually for a week or more. Assembly proper opens Thursday, May 27th. The meetings will be held in the Lyric theatre, a commodious building suitable for the thousand commissioners and committee men, with big lobbies and plenty of committee rooms to take care of the various interests of the church boards. Dr. Charles E. Erdman of Princeton seminary is the retiring moderator. A successor will be nominated the first afternoon as the moderator holds office for only one year and is never re-elected to this office. Assembly itself is a representative body, commissioners being elected by Presbyteries, an equal number of ministers and laymen. The lay representative for Pendleton Presbytery this year is Prof. E. E. Hurrey of Milton.

DOERNBECHER HOSPITAL NOW READY TO OPEN

With work almost completed, officers of the Doernbecher hospital guild have issued a call for "the friends of children" throughout the state to send in voluntary gifts totaling $18,000 to $20,000 in order to finish the project.

Previous to this call there has been no campaign nor any appeal, the contributions simply coming from persons in Oregon who felt the project worthy of support. The movement for a hospital was started early in October, 1924, when Edward Doernbecher and his sister, Mrs. Ada Doernbecher Morse, gave to the University of Oregon medical school $200,000 toward a children's general hospital.

An organization was formed to secure the rest of the money. Gifts are sent either to Nathan Strauss, treasurer, or C. C. Colt, chairman of the hospital guild, both of Portland. The largest contribution was $20,000 from the Portland Rotary club.

The building stands on Marquam hill, adjacent to the Multnomah county hospital and the University of Oregon medical school in Portland. Its capacity is 82 beds, and it is equipped to care for sick children of every description, except those with contagious cases. It does not conflict with the Shrine hospital in Portland, for the work of the Doernbecher hospital will be confined to the treatment of general children's diseases, and they do not expect to take charity cases of crippled children under 14 years of age, which is the special province of the Shrine hospital. The Doernbecher hospital is to be a teaching hospital, where for the first time young men who are going to practice medicine will have an opportunity in Oregon of working in a strictly children's hospital.

Cost of the hospital was more than $223,000, the equipment and furnishing calling for an expenditure of between $45,000 and $50,000. Many individuals, families and organizations have made gifts of $500 which entitles them to the naming of a bed. These gifts have come from all parts of the state. Citizens of Bend, under the leadership of Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, recently sent in $500. Eugene contributed more than $1,000, Mrs. P. L. Campbell having been head of the committee. In Dallas, under the chairmanship of Mrs. A. B. Starbuck, contributions were secured.

Women's federated clubs of Oregon have pledged $20,000 toward permanent endowment of a bed, and more than $3,000 has been paid in from different groups, so that the money may be used immediately to get the hospital under way.

Since the last lap of the project has been reached, the committee has appealed for aid, so that the hospital may be opened as soon as possible.

CLARK CLOSE TO FRONT IN SENATOR RACE

The republican senatorial campaign has taken the center of the political stage and has very largely diverted attention from the campaign of candidates for other offices.

The situation in the senatorial campaign has been rapidly changing during the past two or three weeks. Everywhere there has been noted a decided swing towards Alfred E. Clark in the republican contest and in political circles and among political writers of the daily newspapers it is figured that at the present time he is probably the leading candidate for the republican nomination.

There is some divergence of opinion as to the causes which have brought about this result. It is probable that chief among these causes are the united support of the progressive element of the republican party, his vigorous support of the direct primary system, and the revolt of members of the party against what appears to be an attempt on the part of the Oregonian to dictate the nomination of the man selected by it.

These are the causes that appear on the surface. But underlying it all is the wide spread view among republicans that because of Clark's ability, his familiarity with Oregon conditions and his strength as a campaigner, he is the best qualified among the contesting candidates and could lead the entire republican ticket in Oregon to a victory this fall.

Some time ago the Portland Daily News which has a large circulation in Portland and vicinity came out in support of Mr. Clark. More recently the Portland Telegram did likewise. A number of up-state papers are also supporting him.

It is quite generally conceded that he will carry Multnomah county by a big vote, that a number of outside counties will also go to him and that he will get a considerable vote in the balance of the state.

To Whom It May Concern: I purchased last season a Case Combined Harvester from the Peoples Hardware Company and cut about 805 acres of grain. The machine was highly satisfactory and I do not regret purchasing the Case. I was well pleased with the service as every few days a Case mechanic inspected the machine. I can recommend this harvester to any grain grower.

Very truly yours, A. L. Caseberg.

Another advantage in being the ruler of a mere republic is that one never has to leave town between two days.—Duluth Herald.
