IN MEMORIAM

MARTHA EVAN VINTIN
October 14, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Lettie A. Walker, Wasco, Martha Vintin, aged 76 years, mother of Mrs. Estelle Snook of Madras; Mrs. Sadie S. Gray, Mrs.
Margaret Rutledge, Mrs. Mamie P.
Rollins and Roy Vinton of Portland; George and David of Grass Valley, and Edward Vinton of Coquille. She is also survived by 14 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren. Deceased was taken to Portland, where funeral services were held Monday afternoon followed by commitment at Riverview cemetery. Mrs. Vintin was actively identified with the early farming and business life of Sherman county, at Grass Valley in the hotel business and previous to that residing on farm property in what is known as the Rosebush district east of Grass Valley.

High Mansions

A little Australian lad, on being told about heaven by his mother, who said that everything, even the chairs and tables, were golden, remarked sadly: "Mother, I don't think we will go there. We couldn't afford the rent."—Boston Transcript.

Brief Resume of Happenings of the Week Collected for Our Readers.

The Willamette valley typographical conference met in Eugene Sunday.
The Washington County Christian Endeavor union held its annual convention at Gaston.

Mrs. Carrie McNutt, 73, was killed at The Dalles when struck by an automobile driven by C. E. Silbaugh of Burns.

The fall meeting of the southern Oregon presbytery of the Presbyterian church was held at Malin in Klamath county.

The assessed value of Yamhill county is $20,058,640 for 1926 according to figures compiled by Martin Miller, county assessor.

A check among growers of all parts of the Hood River valley reveals that the toll of the past week's drop of apples will reach 200,000 boxes.

The entire townsite of Westlake, on Siltcoos lake in the western part of Lane county, will be sold November 13 on account of delinquent taxes.

The Eugene school enrollment is growing every week and the total is now more than 3600, according to David John Jones, city superintendent.

William Henry Gray hall, first unit of the new Albany college plant at Albany, was dedicated before a large audience of students, alumni and friends.

Seventy thousand people visited the Cascade national forest during the past summer, according to an estimate made by Nelson F. Macduff, supervisor of the forest.

An unidentified man about 45 years old committed suicide by throwing himself in front of the McMinnville stage, one mile west of Salem, on the Salem-Dallas highway.

The construction of a new $300,000 hotel at Baker is definitely assured, depending only upon the subscription of about $15,000 by Baker people for the purchase of the site.

The 16th annual district Odd Fellows' convention was held in The Dalles with 400 members of the order from Wasco, Sherman, and Hood River counties attending.

Mrs. Johanna Packwood, 84, early resident of Oregon and widow of the late William H. Packwood of Baker, died in Salem at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John L. Rand.

Linn county republicans increased their percentage of the total registration from 69.9 per cent in 1924 to 83.7 in 1926, according to figures compiled by R. M. Russell, county clerk.

The public service commission has approved the application of the California & Oregon Lumber company for permission to discontinue its electric service at Brookings, Curry county.

W. B. Riley, well-known stockman of McEwen, now at Russell, Kan., has purchased 80 head of the best purebred Angus cattle he could find in the state. They will be shipped to Oregon.

Ralph Schneeloch & Co. of Portland purchased world war veterans state aid bonds in the amount of $2,000,000.
The bonds were sold on a basis of 4.2784 per cent. There were 10 bidders.

A record was established for the Crater national forest during the season past when 54,770 persons entered its boundaries en route to various parts of the forest and Crater lake national park.

Linn county's assessment roll for 1926, exclusive of public utilities, is $26,114,670, according to figures made public by Grant Froman, assessor.
This is a slight decrease from the 1925 assessment.

Sam A. Koser, secretary of state, sent a writ to the sheriff of Klamath county fixing November 2 as the date for holding the recall election involving A. L. Leavitt, circuit judge of the 13th judicial district.

Mrs. Emma Cole, 76, of Jefferson, was killed when an automobile in which she was riding collided with a car driven by Mrs. G. W. Brown of Reedley, Cal., on the Pacific highway, eight miles south of Salem.

The walnut growers of Sheridan are hoping for clear weather. They have now harvested about half of their bumper crop, but if rainy weather continues they are afraid they will lose the rest of their walnuts.

Lena Maud Johnson, 11-year-old school girl of the Summerville district of Union county, was so seriously injured when she fell beneath the feet of a galloping horse she was riding that she died half an hour later.

The huge Owyhee reclamation project, which will render productive 124, 000 acres of arid land in Oregon and Idaho, became a reality with an announcement from the White House that President Coolidge had approved a report from Secretary of Interior Work recommending its construction.

Invitations for the hangings of James Willos and Ellsworth Kelley, which have been set for November 5, will be limited to prison officials, clergy, physicians and newspaper men, according to Warden Little of the state penitentiary.

J. A. Yaden, 75, of Kelo, Wash., took a bouquet of fresh flowers to the grave of his wife in a cemetery at The Dalles, knelt in meditation for a moment, and then placed the mumsie of a pistol in his mouth and pulled the trigger. He died before a physician could arrive.

Three hundred thousand bushels of wheat of the 1926 Umatilla wheat crop has been sold within the last two weeks, it was estimated by Henry Collins of Pendleton. Approximately 60 per cent of this year's crop has been sold, he said, at an average of $1.20 a bushel.

Governor Pierce issued an order establishing a quarantine against the shipment into Oregon of sheep from Wyoming, Washington and California, unless they are certified by inspectors of the federal bureau of animal husbandry as originating in territory free from sheep "infection."

STEIWER For McNary-Haugen Bill

The primary election gave Frederick Steiwer a remarkable vote of confidence. Of the eight candidates in the field he received 32 per cent of the votes cast. As the nominee of the Republican party for U. S. Senator, he is entitled to the vote of all Republicans.

Frederick Steiwer stands solidly behind the McNary-Haugen bill, and justice to the farming industry, his home being in Umatilla County where he has been extensively engaged in wheat raising.

Frederick Steiwer resigned his seat in the State Senate and, leaving his wife and small child, went to France to fight our battles in the World War.

FREDERICK STEIWER
U. S. SENATOR

The election of Steiwer as U. S. Senator from Oregon is of national importance. By virtue of republican control of the senate Senator McNary holds the chairmanship of the important irrigation and agriculture committees. If the voters of this state should go so far afield as to elect a democrat it might mean a loss of republican control of the senate and a consequent surrender of Senator McNary's vital committee chairmanships.

A vote for Steiwer, the regular republican primary nominee is a vote for republican control of national affairs.

I. L. PATTERSON
GOVERNOR

Patterson is familiar with the problems that would confront him as Governor of Oregon. A farmer, he understands the problems of the farmer. A business man, he knows the needs of business. He promises fair and just treatment for all. He will seek to lower taxes through a reduction of the cost of state government. He will not follow established precedent and spend most of his time away from the state capital.

Patterson will be your Governor, on the job, attending to the business of the state, as it accrues.
