THE FAUBEL ENTERTAINERS

CLARENCE FAUBEL, who heads the company, is a gifted platform entertainer. His character portrayals are clear cut and versatile, ranging from the intensity of his dramatic interpretations to the robust humor of his rural dialect characterizations. Associated with Mr. Faubel are Mrs. Faubel, talented violinist, pianist and impersonator, and Miss Marie Williamson, whose specialty solo numbers on the piano-accordion contribute greatly to the enjoyment. Other features are classical and semi-classical trios with two violins and accordion.

THE FAUBEL ENTERTAINERS
First Number For The Moro Lyceum is Varied Program

A program of continuous and consecutive surprises, that run from the sublime to the ridiculous in a never-ceasing array of variety in music and mirth, is what the Faubel Entertainers have to offer at their appearance here on Monday, November 8th. The program features pure, unadulterated, wholesome fun, combined with dramatic interpretations so cleverly arranged that the audience is whirled along in a vehicle of delight from the first curtain rise to its final fall. Dull care is banished and joy prevails at a Faubel entertainment.

The art of the impersonator is most severely challenged in presenting characters of a type familiar to everyone, but so perfectly do the Faubels reproduce these characters that the audience forgets that they are impersonations and sees instead the live character on the stage. No details are omitted in making both the characters and the settings true to life and special musical accompaniment where necessary.

The children roar when the Italian immigrant tells of seeing his first baseball game, while the appearance of Tommy, the country lad who tells of his visit to Chicago, is a spontaneous signal for a riot of hilarity. The ministers chuckle when they see the old deacon in his humorous attempt to take the pastor's place in preaching the sermon, but when the curtain rises on the home talent entertainment and the old maid reads the audience with a "wrap-sody," old and young alike give voice to their delight.

A very important feature of the program is the ventriloquist work of Mrs. Faubel. There are few successful women ventriloquists, but Mrs. Faubel has a very marvelous com-

ATTENDS TEACHERS INSTITUTE

State School Superintendent Has A Varied Business Training

R. R. Turner, state superintendent of public instruction was one of the instructors attending the Sherman county teachers' institute held at Moro this week.

Mr. Turner has been filling the position of state superintendent since the resignation last May of former superintendent J. A. Churchill; in fact it was largely on the basis of the strong recommendation of Mr. Churchill, that Mr. Turner was appointed to the position, this and the fact that he had won out in the recent primary election, as democratic candidate for the position.

One of the interesting features in that primary was the indorsement given Mr. Turner, a democrat, by Mr. Churchill, a strong republican, characterizing Mr. Turner as the "ablest man on either ticket for the position." Superintendent Turner was for ten years city superintendent at Grants Pass, Oregon. He resigned there to accept appointment as receiver for the United States land office at Roseburg, Oregon. After serving for seven years as receiver he returned to the teaching profession and for the past five years, until appointment to the state office, has been city superintendent at Dallas, Oregon.

Mr. Turner also is a practical and successful horticulturist, and is an authority on grape culture. He owns and operates seventy acres of bearing orchard and vineyard near Grants Pass.

As state superintendent he is attempting the practical viewpoint and benefit of contact and experience gained outside the teaching profession.

mand of this bewildering art and uses it to constitute one of the big surprises of the program and "Jimmie" in the box" becomes the talk of the juniors for days to come.

Then there is the little girl with the big piano-accordion that was manufactured especially for her by the Lyon & Healey Company of Chicago. This instrument is a pipe organ, and whole brass band all rolled into one. Besides her solo work, Miss Diller uses the big instrument to form the connecting links between the different parts of the program so that there is something peppy going on, even while the setting is being arranged for the next scene.

Horned Toads Harmless.
Horned toads are harmless. They will not bite, even when taken in the hand. As a means of defense, they have a habit of spouting little jets of blood alternately from each eye when disturbed.

I. L. PATTERSON

FOR GOVERNOR

Would you scrap Oregon's direct primary law? Would you surrender the important committee chairmanships now held by Senators McNary, Smoot, Borah, Johnson, Jones, Warren and Oddie, all Western men? Would you repudiate the policies of President Coolidge?

The fight for the U. S. Senatorship is between the democratic nominee and Frederick Steiwer, republican. No Independent has ever been elected to the U. S. Senate.

If you believe in the direct primary — if you want the West to retain its power in national affairs by reason of republican control of the senate — if you believe in the policies of Calvin Coolidge —

VOTE 15 X STEIWER, FREDERICK

The republican party of Oregon is fortunate in having Mr. Patterson as its candidate for Governor. Successful business man and farmer he is equipped to meet and solve the problems that will confront him as Governor. Economy, he has practiced in private life; economy he will practice as Oregon's chief executive.

The only real pre-election promise Mr. Patterson is making is that he will not follow established precedent and spend the people's time and money traveling about the state making speeches.

If you want a Governor who will be on the job attending to business —
