False Rumors Corrected

Owing to the fact that various false reports are in circulation in regard to the city water supply, the Board of Health wish to make the following statement.

At the suggestion of the members of the Board of Health, the City Marshal sent samples of the water in the wells and cistern for examination and it was found that the water coming from the cistern was slightly tainted.

Immediately on this information the Board of Health had the cistern cleaned out, and the statement is made by the City Marshal, who assisted in the work, that no decayed animal or vegetable matter of any description was found in the two compartments in which the water is received.

The Board of Health further wish to state that all statements to the contrary are false, and entirely misleading.

Signed on behalf of the Board. N. W. Thompson, Chairman.

A bounteous birthday dinner was served at the L. H. Martin farm home last Sunday, October 16th, in honor of the 69th birthday of Mr. Martin. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Martin, Wm. Martin and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. Pierson and three sons Carl, Ted and Peris, Ora Workman. Several nice presents were received by Mr. Martin in honor of the day.

A flat narrow collar or no collar at all and a V-shaped or U-neck line is most becoming to a short, stout figure. Square neck lines should be avoided.

Old Residents Visit Moro

Mr. and Mrs. Everett White, former residents of Sherman county and Moro, now living at Newberg, spent the last weekend visiting old scenes in Sherman county. When Moro was young, Mr. and Mrs. White built and owned and lived in the white house directly in the rear of the residence now owned by Harry Kunsman.

At one time Mr. White farmed lands in the Rutledge district, later moving to lands now owned by L. V. Moore across the road from the Meloy farm.

They were also owners of the land where Erskine station and the Farmer's elevator is now located south of Moro on the railway line to Grass Valley.

They left here 24 years ago, coming back on a short visit about five years later. This was their first visit here in 19 years.

Mr. White said it was a wonderful change to him to be able to drive up the Sherman highway grade from Biggs at a speed of 35 miles an hour where formerly he crawled along driving a wheel team and two wagons at a rate of speed of three miles an hour.

Part of their visit here was spent in driving to former places with which they were familiar in the old days. Several could no longer be located by them. They found the Boardman school house, apparently the same building where Mrs. White taught school having been the first employed by the district in 1891 and the succeeding term.

Mrs. White said that one of the most pleasant moments of their visit was when she found the door of the Boardman school was unlocked, permitting her to again enter the building where she played several of the old-time school-room pieces on the organ she found open in the school room.

Roosters Dine Boosters

Wednesday afternoon of last week the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church held its yearly banquet at the home of Mrs. O. A. Ramsey. The society for very practical reasons divided into two sides viz., the Ramsey Boosters and the Bryant Boosters. As the Boosters were the winners this year the Roosters had a fine opportunity to do their crowing a bit late but very effective by putting on an excellent dinner with most artistic decorations. Seventeen ladies attended the dinner. The society reports a very fine year's work, raising more than one hundred dollars for missionary purposes and having held each month meetings of study and prayer. Mrs. O. A. Ramsey is president of the organization.

Forty Bibles Dedicated

H. A. West, head of the Red Rock cheese business on the Pacific coast; A. A. Cole, manager of The Book Room of Portland; P. W. Sprague, special representative of the Knight Packing Co. of Portland; F. W. Beach, secretary of the State Hoteliers' association, composing a special delegation of the Gideon Association, were in Moro last Friday evening for the purpose of dedicating 40 Bibles which were placed in the rooms of Hotel Moro. A special program was held in the lobby of the hotel, participated in by the four men named and a number of local people.

Dr. Poley reports that Mrs. Susie Hastings is suffering from an attack of bronchitis.

L. W. Rakes, county superintendent, acted as principal of Moro schools part of this week, during the absence of Mr. Sibley in Portland.

Funeral services were held at Portland on Tuesday, October 19th, for Mrs. Clara Sibley, mother of Professor Homer Sibley of Moro, who died at the family home in that city.

J. E. Coleman left Moro on Thursday in company with his son by way of a motor trip over the California highway for Eureka, California, where he will visit with his married daughters. He expects to return to Moro within the next two weeks.

W. A. May, visiting in Portland the first of the week, attended a business meeting of the Oregon Grocers association of which May & Son store at Moro is a member. Part of the business transacted was to pack different brands of superior quality merchandise under association labels, thus permitting members to sell goods at less prices.

Mr. and Mrs. Quincy MacAffree of the Hob Shop at Portland will be at Hotel Moro on Sunday, October 30, to do permanent waving. The charge will be $15 each. All work guaranteed. Hours 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Anyone wishing an appointment are requested to notify Mr. Larimore.

At a meeting last Sunday evening of those interested in Mrs. Feenstra's course of religious instruction in the Moro public school for the coming year, it was decided to change the method of meeting the expenses of this work. Instead of asking the parents for contributions, the plan is to place the finances in the hands of a committee representing the churches and the men's and women's clubs. Mrs. Feenstra plans to begin work in the school next week.

Carpenters this week have remodeled the interior of the Dr. J. R. Morgan residence by making the two front rooms into one and placing French doors between the dining room and kitchen.

Dr. C. L. Poley was called to the Ellis Hughes farm west of Grass Valley on Monday to give aid to Mr. Hughes who had been kicked by a horse, receiving a compound fracture of the left elbow.

J. B. Adams drove to The Dalles Thursday where he met W. S. Martin of San Francisco, principal owner of the Eastern Oregon Land Co., who is visiting here on an inspection tour of the company's property.

W. A. May drove to Portland last Sunday in company with his mother, who had been visiting at Moro. On his return Tuesday he was accompanied by Mrs. H. P. Disher, sister of Mrs. May, who will visit at Moro.

The deep well being drilled by A. S. Johnson on the W. J. Martin farm, struck water last Friday at the 142 foot level. Drilling was through solid rock with the exception of 15 feet of dirt at the start. The water raises 60 feet in the well and is not lowered by fast falling.

A letter received by Mrs. L. H. Martin from her son residing at Lexington conveyed the news that an unknown disease had caused the death of four of his best horses, that another was sick, and that two others who had recovered were not in condition to be worked.

At a congregational meeting of the Presbyterian church, last Sunday; it was voted to begin work on excavating under the church for a full basement and also to build onto the manse and construct a basement under that building. Work on the two projects was begun this week.

The ladies of the Methodist church missionary society attended a district convention of their society at The Dalles on Tuesday. A feature of the meeting was the presentation of a demonstration of a thoroughly organized missionary society by Mrs. O. A. Ramsey, district president.

Following a special prepared luncheon, served in the club room at Hotel Moro on Tuesday evening, 18 local men signed as charter members of the Kiwanis club that is being organized at Moro. A charter list of 35 members is required before the club can be fully completed. The additional membership will be easily secured as soon as the benefits of such an organization to this community is a little better understood.

Mrs. Lulu Crandall of The Dalles was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Moro Women's Club held Friday afternoon. The topic for Mrs. Crandall's talk was "Know Your Own State." Accompanying Mrs. Crandall from The Dalles were Mrs. E. G. Merrifield, Mrs. Simon Bolton, Mrs. N. A. Bonn and Mrs. R. A. Brouhard. All five ladies are members of The Dalles Sorosis club, Mrs. Bolton being the president and Mrs. Merrifield the secretary.

Auto Lights Burn Out

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Henrichs suffered a few anxious moments a short distance south of the A. D. Richeider farm when returning from Portland late last Saturday evening. The cause was the burning out of the headlights on their car while driving at an estimated speed of 25 miles an hour. The sudden failure of the motor lights when traveling at such a speed is nerve wrecking, said Mr. Henrichs. Fortunately no damage was done and he was able to drive into Wasco and have the lights repaired.

Mr. Henrichs was returning from a pheasant hunting trip to Hillboro where he had been visiting with his married daughter and also had met Mrs. Henrichs at Portland upon her return from a visit with relatives in the east. While at home on this visit occurred the sudden death of Mrs. Henrichs youngest sister.

Happy Hunters

Roy M. Benson and Vic Barr drove into Moro at 1 a. m. Thursday morning on their return from a deer hunting expedition into the Blue mountains north and east of Prineville. The two had been hunting in company with W. S. and C. L. Powell, who remained at Prineville for an additional day's hunt. Two deer were shot by the four men, one of the animals having fallen to the gun carried by Roy Benson. This trophy of the hunt was brought to Moro and divided among several of the less fortunate friends of the hunters. The editor of the Sherman County Observer was one of the favored stay-at-homes. The favor is appreciated when it is remembered how diversified are the joys on a hunter's generosity at such a time.

Plan to Build New Hall

At the meeting to be held Thursday evening, October 27th, the members of Harland View grange will discuss the advisability of building a new grange hall which has been under discussion for some time.

It is planned to build a building about 40x60 feet with basement upon about two acres of ground directly in front of Harmony school house which has been donated to the grange by M. G. Melzer.

All members are requested to be present at the meeting. A special program has been prepared and refreshments will be served by the home economics committee.

Visits Moro After 34 Years

Mrs. Hattie Cole is visiting at the E. A. Cushman home from Husum, Washington. Mrs. Cole is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Comstock, pioneer farmer residents of the Kent section. Mrs. Comstock, now 91 years old, makes her home with her daughter at Husum. This is the first visit that Mrs. Cole has made to Sherman county since leaving here 34 years ago. At that time she was quite familiar with the two blocks that formed the town of Moro, but is completely lost in trying to locate places where buildings formerly stood in the old days when Moro was young.

Drugless Healing

A great many people have a misapprehension that drugless physicians treat only a few diseases and are unable to cope with the majority of ills to which all are more or less subject. I wish to say that this is a very great error. The truth is that practically every disease of the human body can respond to Drugless Treatment and in most cases obtain phenomenal results, after all other methods of treatment have failed.

There are, however, certain diseases and conditions that are impossible of cure by any known method of treatment and it would therefore be unwise to employ spinal adjustment in them. Such diseases as advanced T. B., cancer, etc., are accompanied by a profound destruction of tissue elements that recovery is impossible. Not only the organs primarily affected but the entire "house in which we live" is falling to pieces, and nothing can replace that which has been destroyed.

Here are a few of the diseases that respond very readily to Drugless Methods of healing: Neuritis, bronchitis, hay fever, chronic articular rheumatism, pneumonia, coughs, colds, influenza, chronic stomach trouble except cancer, female disorders of various kinds, sciatica, and many other ailments.

In connection with the above it is well to say that Moro has now in her midst Dr. Thos. D. Fisher who is thoroughly equipped, both by study and practice, as well as possessing the necessary paraphernalia, to successfully treat any and all of these aforesaid diseases as well as many others not mentioned.

He is here to stay and serve you. Give him a call. Consultation and examination free.

A little kerosene in clear water helps in window washing. Wash with even, overlapping strokes and rub dry with soft paper or clean cloth. A rubber wiper can be used on large windows.

To store farm butter for winter use the best method is to wrap the rolls or prints in parchment paper and pack in a stone crock, covering with a strong brine and store in a cool place. The butter intended for winter use should be made from sweet pasteurized cream churned at a fairly low temperature, washed thoroughly and worked merely enough to dissolve the salt.
