

OREGON STATE NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST

Brief Resume of Happenings of the Week Collected for Our Readers.

Sixty-one turkey growers of the Redmond district last week received $12,730.88 for 3496 birds shipped out for the Christmas trade.

Dr. John Rankin, Astoria, was elected president of the Willamette Valley Veterinarian association in session at Oregon City last week.

An order has been issued authorizing the establishment of a mail delivery service at Coquille with two regular carriers, effective March 1, 1928.

Roseburg was chosen as the 1928 meeting place of the Oregon State Horticultural society, which closed its 43d annual meeting in Hood River last week.

A group of business men has made application for a charter for a new national bank for Tillamook. The proposed capital is $50,000 and the surplus $10,000.

Benjamin B. Ostlund, manager of the Coos Veneer & Box company, has announced an expansion of the business to the construction of furniture, an entirely new department.

Schools at Clatskanie, 40 miles east of Astoria, were ordered closed last week following the death of a 6-year-old boy from infantile paralysis. It was the first case reported.

The Newberg tourist park this past season had the best patronage in its history. Caretaker Van Fleet having taken in about $350, practically three times the amount taken in last year.

Purchase of the assets of the State bank of Talent by the First National bank of Ashland, which will transfer the entire business of the Talent institution to Ashland, was closed last week.

Ellis S. Dement, Myrtle Point stockman, resigned as mayor of that city, and W. W. Baynes, president of the council, was immediately nominated for the office and elected by unanimous vote.

The Oregon State Motor association, after an investigation, finds that approximately 1000 storage garages and 1660 regular repair shops are necessary to keep Oregon's motor cars on the road.

Extensive improvements are to be made soon at the Necanicum river trout hatchery, damaged by floodwaters on Thanksgiving day, according to G. C. Webb, superintendent of the hatchery.

A huge blast set off to loosen a solid rock cliff Monday destroyed the new Gallic bridge over Rogue river, leaving Gallic residents without means to cross the river to Grants Pass. The damage is $5000.

When surgeons recently made an incision for an emergency operation for appendicitis on Mrs. E. K. Jones, prominent Marshfield woman, they found a needle had been imbedded in the flesh for years.

Five or six carloads of turkeys were purchased by buyers throughout Douglas county for shipment to Pacific coast market centers. The turkeys are all of prime stock and will be used for the holiday trade.

There will be no teachers' institute in Coos county in the school year 1927-28, Mrs. C. E. Mulkey, school superintendent, announced. Cancellation of the institute was due to infantile paralysis ban.

Between $150,000 and $175,000 will be distributed by the Hood River Apple Growers' association the latter part of this week. This is the first "melon" to be cut by the co-operative association this year.

The streets of Dayton have received their Christmas decorations of small fir trees being placed at close intervals. A large fir has been placed in the center of the main street and electrically lighted at night.

Books, 2,745,298 of them, were circulated by the Portland Library association for the year ending October 31, 1927, a gain of 123,589 over the previous year, Miss Anne M. Mulhern, librarian, reported recently.

Bonded indebtedness of Moro, Oregon, $76,200.00.

HAROLD A. LA FOUNT

Harold A. La Fount of Utah, who has been appointed by President Coolidge a member of the federal radio commission.

The proposed new highway between Sweet Home and Holley, which eliminates the steep hill over the Rowell hill, is meeting with general approval in those communities, according to word received from that section last week.

The Marion county community federation in session at Salem last Wednesday went on record in favor of a county agent and agreed to sponsor a movement to place the question before the voters again at the November, 1928, election.

The Arlington city council at its last regular meeting adopted a resolution calling for bids for the leasing of the municipal auto camp. The lessee will be required to construct several modern cabins and otherwise attractively improve the site.

The Brandon chamber of commerce is championing the action taken by the Port Orford chamber in an effort to remove all road signs from the Roosevelt highway from the California line north to the Coos-Curry county line, it became known in Coquille recently.

Forty-seven years ago telephone exchange service was established in Corvallis, and that event was celebrated at a meeting last Saturday night in that city, when about a half a hundred of the original users of the telephone service in Corvallis were guests.

Toledo high school students returning to their classes after lunch one day last week, were routed by stifling skunk fumes which permeated the classrooms. Investigation disclosed that the animal had been killed and hidden in a cloakroom by some of the scholars.

Aviation is not exclusively a young man's game, J. M. Staats, 65, told officials of the Pacific Airplane Service corporation in Salem last week, when he signed up as one of 16 students being instructed by the corporation at their field adjoining the state fair grounds.

In honor of Dewey Morris, Ed Nichols and Roy Wilson, Bend trappers murdered at Little Lava lake early in 1924, a volcanic cone, prominent landmark in the upper Deschutes country, is to be named Three Trappers butte, Bend forest service officials have announced.

PRAYER BOOK REJECTED

British House of Commons Votes Against Revised Edition.

London.—Contrary to all expectations, the house of commons has rejected the revised prayerbook, despite the fact that Premier Baldwin recommended its adoption. It had already been approved by the house of lords, by a vote of 441 to 88. The commons rejected the measure, 247 to 205. It therefore cannot now be presented for royal assent.

Seldom has a decision of parliament thrown this great community into such confusion. Rejection seems to have been a possibility which no one contemplated. Preparations had been completed for printing millions of copies of the new prayer book, and now all this work of printing and binding has suddenly ceased, throwing hundreds of workers out of employment.

Orderly Apple Marketing Planned. Portland, Or.—Extension of functions of the Pacific Northwest Advisory board to orderly marketing of the apple crop of Oregon, Washington and Idaho was determined upon at the closing session of the board here. The board voted to create a committee to make a comprehensive study of the subject and report recommendations.

Congressmen Should Be Native-Born. Washington, D. C.—Only American-born citizens would be allowed to sit in congress under a constitutional amendment introduced in the house by Representative Wilson, democrat of Tennessee. This provision now applies to presidents only.

Russians Ordered to Leave Shanghai. Shanghai, China.—Approximately 100 persons in the Russian settlement were notified by police that they must leave immediately. The order was given in pursuance of the nationalist campaign to deport communists and other Russians considered undesirable.

Former President of N. P. Road Dead. Concord, N. H.—Charles Sanger Melton, former president of the Boston & Maine, the New York, New Haven and Hartford and the Northern Pacific railroads, died at his home here in his 77th year.

Miss Stone, Noted Missionary, Dies. Chelsea, Mass.—Miss Helen M. Stone, the American missionary whose kidnapping by Macedonian bandits in 1901 electrified this country, died here. Her life was saved by the raising of a heavy ransom by popular subscription in the United States.

Perishable freight affected by freezing temperatures has been shifted by the Southern Pacific company from the Cascade line to the Slakivoy line, on account of the colder weather at the summit of the Cascades and in central Oregon.

Representatives of the state veterinarian department left Salem last week for Tygh Valley, Wasco county, to inoculate a herd of hogs which contracted hog cholera. The county agent of Wasco county sent the request for state assistance.

The population of Baker, based on number of families, is fifth among the cities of Oregon, according to the results of a house-to-house count. The count is by families only: Portland leads with 52,435, Salem follows with 33,446, Eugene is third with 23,151, Astoria fourth with 2173 and Baker fifth with 1325.

It is expected that the quarantine imposed at Roseburg two weeks ago when the first case of infantile paralysis was reported will be lifted soon. For the past two weeks movies and churches have been closed, public meetings forbidden and all children under 21 years have been confined to their homes.
