New State Officer

Hal Hoss Succeeds Sam Koser as Secretary of State

Hal E. Hoss, of Oregon City, has been appointed by Governor I. L. Patterson to serve as secretary of state, filling the unexpired term of Sam A. Koser, who resigned to take over new duties as director of the state budget. The change in state officials is set for Monday, September 24th and Mr. Hoss will serve by appointment of the Governor until January 7, 1929, the end of the term for which Mr. Koser had been elected. Mr. Hoss is the republican nominee for the office of secretary of state, winning in the primaries by a wide margin over H. H. Corey and Tom B. Handley. Prior to entering the race for election as secretary of state, Mr. Hoss served as private secretary to Governor Patterson and before that was manager of the Morning Enterprise, published at Oregon City. He has been active in newspaper organization work, and has held a number of offices in publishers associations. Mr. Koser, who is nearing the end of his second term as secretary of state, was selected by Governor Patterson to direct the state budget because of his many marked qualifications. There is perhaps no one in the state more familiar with the operative and fiscal affairs of the commonwealth than Mr. Koser, due to his long contact with all its various departments. As director of the budget, working directly under the governor whom the 1927 legislature designated as state budget officer, Mr. Koser will give Oregon taxpayers the advantage of his vast fund of knowledge about public business, and will fill an important place in the administration's official family. There will be no drastic changes in the personnel of the office of secretary of state, according to Mr. Hoss, who has let it be known that he intends to conduct affairs as efficiently as possible, without regard to professional job-hunters and political hangers-on. The Hoss family has moved to Salem and taken up residence in the Fairmont hill district.

HAL E. HOSS Succeeds Koser, Secretary of State

ARMY'S OLDEST COVERED WAGON
Used throughout the Civil War with General Phil Sheridan's division, this ancient wagon is the only one of its kind in existence. It is now being brought to Washington, D. C., to be added to the Quartermaster Corps' Museum and will be exhibited at the Military Exposition and Carnival at the Army War College, Washington, D. C., this fall.

THE NEW FARMING ACCOUNT SCHOOL

The good business farmer today watches his farm accounts carefully. In respect to his labor, his farm stock and his soil, he knows what they can do and how they can be most profitably handled. He knows the mathematics of growing feed from the soil, pigs and poultry from the feed and cash profits from pigs and poultry. He knows whether he is milking the cow for paying better returns or the cow is milking him. Wherever his accounts show a deficit or insufficient profit on one or more items, he immediately studies the reasons for the handicap and corrects any mistakes that have been made.

The Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association is conducting a nationwide educational campaign for better methods of farm accounting. The commission has been stressing the wisdom of country bankers through cooperation of county agents, casting farmers together, and holding account schools where instruction is given on the use of the farm account books.

Each person is led through the various steps in keeping accounts and each enters his own inventory which he has previously been instructed to take and bring to school. This gives a good start and when properly followed up by letters and an occasional visit by the specialist in charge, greatly aids the man who is really interested to come through his first year of keeping accounts successfully. Many times country banks offer the rooms for holding the account schools. In some instances, an employee of the bank is designated to assist the farmer during the year in keeping their accounts.

HOW TO GO BROKE FARMING

1. Grow only one crop.
2. Keep no livestock.
3. Regard chickens and a garden as nuisances.
4. Take everything from the soil and return nothing.
5. Don't stop gullies or grow cover crops—let the top soil wash away, then you will have "bottom" land.
6. Don't plan your farm operations on hard work—trust to luck.
7. Regard your woodland as you would a coal mine, cut every tree, take the timber and wear the cleared land out cultivating it in corn.
8. Hold fast to the idea that the methods of farming employed by your grandfather are good enough for you.
9. Be independent—don't join with your neighbors in any form of cooperation.
10. Mortgage your farm for every dollar it will stand to buy things you would have the cash to buy if you followed a good system of farming—Division of Extension, University of Tennessee.
