Voters of Sherman County

There is a bill on the ballot for the election November 6th to withdraw the water of the Deschutes River from appropriation for irrigation, power or industry and conserve the river for the sport fishing and salmon propagation. The Deschutes is the greatest power stream in Oregon, capable of developing 500,000 horse power.

Several of the most important power sites are in Sherman County. The construction of plants, sure to come some day, will add millions of dollars to our tax rolls and bring great industries among us and widen our local markets.

The enactment of this withdrawal measure would block all such development for a long time to come, perhaps permanently. Vote NO on this and all the other Fish and Water Power bills.

Eastern Oregon Voters have been apprised of the qualifications of the outstanding and leading candidate for Congress from the Second Oregon District — Robert R. Butler. He has not made any promises except to serve all of Eastern Oregon as this district has been served in the past through the long service of N. J. Sinnott. That is a worthy promise, one that can be fulfilled and one that should appeal to you when you vote next Tuesday, November 6.

ROBERT R. BUTLER

Long and Short Term Candidate for Congress

Elect a Man Whose Sun Is Rising Instead of One Whose Sun Is Setting

Paid adv. by Republican Congressional Committee, H. J. Warner, Chairman, Pendleton, Ore., Ben R. Little, Secretary, The Dalles, Ore.

In the satire on "reform" prisons, the famous laugh team are seen as convicts in a collegiate penitentiary where they have guards only to keep paroled prisoners from breaking in again.

A jail football team supplies the principal motivation behind the love interest in which the warden's pretty daughter is the center of complications. Dane and Arthur, as the prison gridiron gladiators, duel with touchdowns for her hand and their football antics are uproarious with side-splitting situations.

Charles F. ("Chuck") Reiser directed the new M-G-M laugh riot from an adaptation by Earl Baldwin and Lew Lipton of "Big Hearted Jim" written for a national magazine by Peterson Marston.

Jean Arthur (no relation to George) is the leading lady and the supporting cast includes Edward Connelly, Richard Carlyle and Marcia Harris.

"THE SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS"

Real, living, breathing human characters — these are the screen's most valuable entertainment elements, according to Director Albert Rogell. They have become basic in screen story telling, he maintains, and given them, through story characterizations and skillful acting, three-fourths of the battle to make good pictures is won.

Rogell achieved such a result in the latest picture he directed, "The Shepherd of the Hills," coming next Tuesday, November 6th, to the Moro Theater. It is an elaborate screen dramatization of the Harold Bell Wright novel, which Charles B. Rogers produced for First National Pictures.

Humaneness, Rogell points out, is the quality that made Harold Bell Wright novels head the lists of best-sellers for so long. It is due to their strong and realistic characterizations that they have achieved such phenomenal popularity. The screen version of "The Shepherd of the Hills" is highly dramatic, and realistic reproductions of the picturesque Ozark character are its basic qualities.

Alec B. Francis, Molly O'Day, John Boles, Matthew Betz, Romaine Fielding, Otis Harlan and other notable players supply them, bringing the characters of the book to the screen with rare skill.

"THE ENEMY"

The heart-grIPPING night vigil in Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" has a remarkable parallel in "The Enemy," Lillian Gish's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle coming Sunday, November 11th to the Moro Theater, in which, under the direction of Fred Niblo, the suspense of a night vigil has almost the same effect, though the situation is one entirely different.

In the picture, based on Channing Pollock's famous stage play, Paul, the heroine, the role played by Miss Gish, and Carl, her lover, are married on the eve of his call to the front during the war. Their last hours together are before the dawn that hurries him away with his troops. All night they sit, watching the relentless hands of the clock, ever moving toward their separation, perhaps forever.

As worked out in the screen play, this vigil in the dark is one of the most powerful dramatic touches in the history of the screen.

The new picture is a story of Austria during and after the war, in which Miss Gish plays the daughter of a university professor, who sees her family torn apart by war hatreds and the hysteria of battle times. The play, on the stage, was hailed as one of the drama's greatest contributions to the cause of international understanding.

Miss Gish and Ralph Forbes head a notable cast that includes George Fawcett, Frank Currier, Ralph Emerson, Karl Dane, Polly Moran, Fritz Ridgeway, John Peters, Billy Kent Schaefer and others of note.

"CONEY ISLAND"

"Coney Island," a tale of the world-famed resort, is to be brought to the Grass Valley Theater Saturday and Wasco Theater Sunday. No expense has been spared to make "Coney Island" the finest amusement park story ever to have been filmed. FBO studio officials claim.

The picture has been directed by that veteran of the megaphone, Ralph Ince, and stars Lois Wilson and Lucia Mendez. Residents of this city who have journeyed to New York and seen "Coney Island" will recognize many of the famous old landmarks of that international resort. Ince travelled three thousand miles to get actual pictures of the mid-summer crowds.

One of the largest and fastest riding devices in this country, "The Giant Dipper," known to thousands, was taken over for two days and nights when the proper atmosphere might be obtained and a truthful picture be presented to the people who have not had the opportunity of seeing the great playground.

During the filming of the fight scenes everyone but actual actors and

Too Many Umpires

Political bureaucracy in the United States is showing a dangerous growth, according to Representative Chas. A. Eaton of New Jersey.

"It is idle to deny," says Mr. Eaton, "that in recent years in this country there has been a tremendous enlargement of government interference in the private liberties and lives of our citizens. The whole relation of the American citizen to his government has undergone and is undergoing a profound change."

"Political bureaucracy is growing like a weed. In every case it involves increased political personnel, increased expenditure, increased taxes and diminished initiative and opportunity for the individual."

Mr. Eaton maintains that under the American scheme, the government is merely the umpire and the people play the game. The people do not wish to see their umpire come down and take the bat.

FREE COLLEGE COURSES

Nine thousand dollars will be distributed among high school students by Carl Laemmle, president of the Universal Pictures Corporation, in a scholarship competition in connection with the screen presentation of the Universal-Film de France Production, "Les Miserables," which comes to the Wasco Theater Wednesday and Grass Valley Theater Thursday.

The purpose of the award is to stimulate interest in the works of Victor Hugo, who is deemed by the motion picture magnate to be the greatest of romantic fictionists.

Any high school student of either sex may submit essays, not to exceed 500 words. The essays may be based upon either the novel or the screen presentation of "Les Miserables" and should be written on the subject "What Ideals for Life Do You Find in 'Les Miserables'?" The only condition is that the money be used for purposes of higher education in colleges and trade schools.

All manuscripts should be addressed to the editor, Carl Laemmle-Victor Hugo Scholarship Awards, 730 Fifth Avenue, New York.

Every purchaser of a new Ford is entitled to Free Inspection Service for the first 1500 miles

THE modern automobile is a finely built piece of machinery and it will stand a lot of abuse. Considering the work it does, it gives surprisingly little trouble. But there isn't a car made that will not run better and longer if given proper care.

The first few hundred miles are especially important because that is when the mechanism of your car is being broken in.

Proper attention during this period will lengthen its life and prevent unnecessary trouble later on.

We are particularly interested in this matter because we believe it is our duty not only to make a good automobile, but to help the owner get the greatest possible use over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

With this in view, the entire Ford dealer organization has been specially trained and equipped to service the new Model A car.

Furthermore, we have instructed every Ford dealer to give the following Free

Inspection Service at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles:

- Check battery
- Check generator charging rate
- Check distributor adjustment
- Check carburetor adjustment
- Check lights
- Check brakes
- Check shock absorber adjustment
- Check tire inflation
- Check steering gear
- Change engine oil

See your Ford dealer, therefore, and get this Free Inspection of your new car at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles. Find out, too, how little it will cost to have your car given a thorough going-over at regular periods thereafter.

A checking-up by experienced mechanics, together with oiling and greasing every 500 miles, will add months and years to the life of your car and mean more economical and pleasurable motoring every mile you drive.
