Clean Up!

There is no "sure sign" of spring, but spring should be a "sure sign" of the arrival of that time for the community to clean up.

When warm weather has come to stay (until cold weather returns in the autumn) every owner of property and tenant should instinctively feel it his duty to remove the evidences of winter's ravages and to aid and augment nature in her work of re-vegetation.

Every spring clean-up program should include disposal of winter's accumulation of litter and decayed vegetation, repairing and repainting of buildings, and landscape gardening.

Cleanliness about the person or the home costs nothing. A community clean-up need involve no expense, except of a moderate amount of labor on the part of the householders.

What is the compensation of a community-wide clean-up campaign? It improves the general health of the community by removing deposits that are breeding places of disease germs and disease carrying insects.

It improves the appearance of a town, is a better place in which to live than one that is unsanitary and unsightly. And the best community advertising is the appearance of being "cleaned-up, painted-up and planted-up."

FAMOUS CROOK PLAY HERE AS HAINES' PICTURE

Good screen plots, like good stories or plays, do not age, but are certain to win the same commendations from audiences of the future as those of today, in the opinion of Jack Conway, director of "Alias Jimmy Valentine," which will open at the Moro theatre Saturday.

Sustained popularity of striking or unusual dramatic themes is proved by efforts of picture companies to make successive versions of the same story, Conway declared.

William Haines, whose forte, as all picture fans are aware, has been a series of light comedy dramas on the order of "West Point" and "Telling the World," turns to a different type of role in "Alias Jimmy Valentine."

The bare fundamental theme of "Alias Jimmy Valentine" has the same appeal for dramatic audiences today as it had fifteen years ago, Haines plays the part of a gay, carefree crook who outwits the forces of law until he finally robs the bank of the father of the girl he loves.

The revival of so many pioneer successes in the picture field, notably "Broken Blossoms," "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" and early Barrymore and Barthelmess films, is pretty convincing evidence that the public market is a steady one in so far as the classic plots are concerned.

The district oratorical contest on "The Constitution of the United States," a part of the National Bar association, will be held at Pendleton Friday evening, with contestants from Hood River, Wasco, Sherman, Gilliam, Wheeler, Morrow and Umatilla county eligible for entry.

The state bar association, as a part of the national organization, is sponsoring the contest which is in no way connected with the school declamatory contests now being held.

The contest is nation-wide and contestants write original essays which must be judged worthy of presentation before the right to enter the oratorical contest is given.

Moro Woman's Club

Nina Pinkerton, press correspondent. The Moro Woman's Club met last Friday, with a good attendance.

An invitation to the Club from the Wasco Study Club, was read and accepted; the meeting to be at the Wasco Fraternity Hall, the afternoon of April 19, with Mrs. G. J. Frankel, state president of O. F. W. C. as speaker.

This being the regular meeting date of the Moro Club, it was decided to change their date to April 26, Friday afternoon, at which Mrs. Margaret Peetz will be director.

On May 4, at Moro, will be held a District Federation Institute, with the Moro Woman's Club as hostess, delegates will come from five counties, and it will be an all-day meeting.

Preparations will begin for the annual Mothers and Daughters Banquet, to be held sometime near Mothers' Day. Mrs. J. L. Searcy, Mrs. T. S. Reese and Mrs. Harry Pinkerton are the arrangement committee.

The Art Department had charge of the program, with Mrs. T. S. Reese as director. Mrs. Collis Moore gave a very interesting talk on the life and paintings of Rembrandt.

Roll call was responded to by each member showing and telling about some cherished heirloom or treasure belonging to her family.

The committee to prepare the program for next year were named as follows: Mrs. W. C. Bryant, Mrs. T. Reese, Mrs. J. L. Searcy, Mrs. Roy Powell, and Mrs. D. E. Stephens.

Mrs. O. A. Ramsey and Mrs. E. E. Barzee were the hostess for the afternoon.

Repair crews were instantly sent to the scene. In record time 1000 men from five states were on the job. Within 72 hours the isolated exchanges and telephones were back in service.

In any crisis there are no state lines in the Bell System. In all emergencies of flood or storm, as well as in the daily tasks of extending and maintaining the nation-wide network, is seen the wisdom of One Policy, One System, Universal Service.

Personally, I wish to thank the committee of which I was chairman, for the enthusiasm shown by those who participated on this occasion, as did also all the committees.

The thanks of the city are also due to the ladies who participated in providing and serving a splendid lunch at noon in the basement dining room of the Presbyterian church.

We would not be forgetful of those who furnished and operated trucks for this occasion.

George A. Williams, City Marshal.

The presiding officer Friday will be S. D. Peterson, president of the Umatilla County Bar association and the judges will be W. C. Bryant, Moro, and C. L. Sweek of Heppner.

The third judge is not yet announced. Timekeepers will be C. C. Proebstel, and A. C. McIntyre, Pendleton, orations are limited to 10 minutes.

The contestants will be as follows: Manch E. Gadwa, Pendleton, "The Constitution, Our Heritage," Lucile F. George, Echo, "Americanization."

Iola Kimura, Hood River, "Liberty and the Constitution." Ross Knotts, The Dalles, "The Constitution, Our Priceless Heritage," Emmajean Stephens, Moro, "Our Constitution."

Suddenly, out of a spring sky... All was well on the telephone front on April 27, 1928. Suddenly, out of a spring sky, rain began to fall, and as night came on this turned into a furious storm of sleet, snow and wind.

Repair crews were instantly sent to the scene. In record time 1000 men from five states were on the job. Within 72 hours the isolated exchanges and telephones were back in service.

Words of Appreciation

As a private citizen and city marshal, interested in the appearance of our city, I wish to thank Louis L. Peetz for the inception of a "clean-up" day. I am sure I voice the sentiment of the city council and citizens of Moro when I state that we all appreciate what was done.

The commercial club is to be congratulated for the very efficient manner in which the various committees, sponsored by them, responded, and this illustrates what can be done by thorough organization and cooperation.

Federal Hay Supervision

A few days ago a meeting of hay dealers was held in the state market agent's office in Portland to consider the question of having federal supervision of hay inspection established for Oregon. E. C. Parker, in charge of hay standardization and inspection in the department of agriculture, gave a complete and interesting explanation of the system and of the desirability of having such supervision in order to secure a uniformity of standards and grades.
