Some of the young men about town have a kick coming. They say that ordinarily a married man has a right to do as he pleases. But in such cases as in room 5 Sunday, when he has a good thing he has no right to tantalize them with it. He should take the cover of night or pull down the blind.

The patriotic window in the O. T. Co. store has new attraction this week in the shape of some splendid pictures of our navy, and the officers commanding it, also a bunch of hemp right from Manila. It is quite a curiosity, and the decorations make the window very attractive. It is viewed daily by numbers of people.

The D. P. & A. N Co. are having bad luck. Owing to the sinking of the Regulator, work was hurried on the Dalles City, and Thursday evening an attempt was made to launch her, when she left the ways and came near being a wreck. It will be a few days before she can be gotten into shape again.

It is with satisfaction that the people of Wasco, as well as those south, view the carrying of the mail by the Columbia Southern. The service is much quicker and better than a stage can possibly be. It began Monday morning. Stages carry the mail from this point south. This gives the interior towns mail several hours earlier than formerly.

It's a busy sight to look over the hills of Sherman county. Here a header, there a combined harvester, and countless stacks of ripened grain begin to tell of the harvest and of the work that is just beginning.

For the first time in the history of the county, one can be in Antelope and The Dalles all in the same day. This can be accomplished by leaving Antelope at 5 o'clock in the morning and catching the 4:30 train at Wasco.

Saturday was the last day for the stage to carry the mail, and in order to make it pleasant the Wasco mail went to Moro and came back. The new man seems rather careless, but he won't get the chance to inconvenience us any more.

The Spaniards are not supposed to be a race of humorists, but what must one think of the official report which stated that "we won a complete victory, but the enemy persisted in fighting after they were defeated and we were compelled to retreat?"

The particular friends of Geo. W. McCoy, the promoter, will be pleased to know that he has been found guilty of using the mails for fraudulent purposes and fined $100. McCoy always has tried to earn a dishonest living, and while he has up to this time succeeded, he has had a few narrow escapes. His fine should have been heavy enough to cause him a little confinement.

The Somers Family, a family of musicians, played to a fair house Saturday night, and again Wednesday night. They are splendid artists, and Miss Nellie especially has a sweet voice; yet her selections are scarcely along the lines one would expect. They do not allow her to do justice to herself. On the whole, the Family are above the average troop that visits country towns.

H. RICHELDERFER

Hearing that "our soldier boys" in camp are suffering from lack of writing materials, the manufacturers of Blackwell's Bull Durham Tobacco have taken advantage of the new postal card law to distribute among them private postal cards to be used in writing to friends at home. The cards bear artistic representations in colors of troops awaiting inspection, cavalry on the march, and so forth. Space is left for the address, also for the stamp, while in one corner is a picture in colors of the well known Bull Durham bag. The communication is written on the back of the card. The whole idea is ingenious, and indicates how quickly the advertiser of today discerns the advertising possibilities inherent in a new law.
