The following from the Oregonian, while not very favorable to the administration, is right, and McKinley would receive more praise if he would follow such advice: The timidity of the administration in the matter of enlisting and forwarding men to the Philippines is not commendable. Fear of the political consequences should be put aside. War should be conducted vigorously or abandoned. Now this war cannot be abandoned. The country does not want it abandoned. It remains, therefore, to push the war vigorously. So, only, can success in war be had; and success is what the country wants. But it does not expect success in the absence of means necessary to obtain it; so it wants more men sent to the Philippines. If it is political success at home that the administration wants it should take note that political success never can be achieved through hesitation in war.

It is thought 65,000 men will be required to completely control Luzon and the other islands. Let them be sent immediately.

On Tuesday about seventy-five of the young people of Wasco and vicinity went out to the Allen place, about 12 miles from town. In going, many of the timid ones walked down the steep grade which leads to that beautiful place. They then spent the time in strolling about until the call that dinner was ready brought them back, when a bountiful repast was enjoyed. Trips were then made to the Lover's Leap and the Arm Chair, while some indulged in fishing. It is needless to say that they met with fisherman's luck. Ice-cream was then served, and the crowd slowly started for home, tired but happy with the day's success.

On last Friday night Mr. Kenneth McPherson was taken seriously ill. Dr. Beers was called and found him in a critical condition from strangulated hernia. His only hope of recovery lay in an operation, which was successfully performed on Saturday morning by the Drs. Beers assisted by Dr Geisendorfer of The Dalles. While he is not yet out of danger, he is doing well, and his chances are good for ultimate recovery.

Only Three Hours in Length in the Early Stages of the World.

When the earth was young, says Dr. Ball, the eminent British astronomer, it turned on its axis so rapidly that it made one complete revolution once in every three hours! The earth was liquid then, says the St. Louis Republic, and it spun around at that fearful speed probably for thousands of years. The sun caused ever-increasing tides on the surface of the great liquid planet, and at last it burst in two. But the break was not in the middle of what had been the great, swift-revolving globe of liquid matter. It was to one side, and the effect was to throw the smaller fragment out into space. That fragment kept on turning, and was soon fashioned into a globe. We see it to-day and know it as the moon. The larger piece also kept turning on its axis, and in the course of ages became the spherical, habitable earth. The smaller fragment of the great original globe, being held in place by the attraction of the larger, has been going around the earth ever since, but has been gradually increasing the distance between itself and its primary. Some astronomers believe that eventually the moon will get so far away that it cannot be seen by the inhabitants of our planet.
