THURSDAY OCT. 5, 1899

The New York World insists Admiral Dewey is the only man in America who can beat the republican nominee for president in 1900. It advocates nominating him on the democratic ticket no matter what his politics or whether he has any, and running him strictly on his merits as a man and the record he has made in the navy. This might be called good politics, that is, as viewed by some—to get there no matter how—but the people want to know what a man is going to do after he is elected. They want to know what politics he will follow. Dewey appears to be an honest man, one of firm will, and one who would not be dictated to by scheming politicians; therefore he would be an improvement over the present incumbent. As a last resort, rather than suffer the re-election of McKinley, it might be advisable to run him without any platform or pledges, and take chances on his honesty to give us a clean administration.—Mountaineer.

The Oregonian well says: There is nothing equal to figures to prove the strides this country is making toward the capture of the world's markets. The treasury department statistics show that in the first eight months of the present year our grand total of foreign trade in merchandise amounted in value to $1,307,836,006, an excess of $102,251,251 over that of the corresponding period of 1898. The greater part of this excess was in exports, which are still largely in excess of the imports. The exhibit shows that we are able to buy what we want abroad, and to furnish in increasing measure manufactured goods that are in demand in foreign markets. This is prosperity of the type that advertises itself at home and abroad—not vauntingly, but substantially.

The enterprising citizen can be found in every county at this season of the year, gathering up samples of grain and other products to be shown at the different fairs. He generally puts in a great deal of his time and more or less money, while the old fogey neighbor is crying and condemning fairs and other public enterprises in general. The public spirited man never gets any thanks or praise for the work that he does, but generally contempt after he has worked hardest to make fairs a success. There is not a farmer in the state who cannot afford to spend some time in going to fairs, or in putting up products to be shown there. It is an educator and gives an incentive for a man to raise better crops.—Pacific Farmer.

The anti continue to lavish vituperation on the American army in the Philippines, wholly without reason. Those islands are United States territory, just the same as Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands, and should rebellion arise in either of those countries we wouldn't let the Alaskans and the Hawaiians have their own way about it either. The wing of the democratic party that advocates abandonment is slowly denuding itself, and for the good of the party in the West we would advise it to quit before the bird loses even its legs.

Now it is Anglo-Saxon vs. Anglo-Saxon, the most difficult of all fights. There will be no backing down on either side until a superiority of fighting qualities has been fully determined. England will meet with not only a stubborn resistance, but with an aggressiveness that will startle her. And should she not annihilate it at the onset, she will find the Afrikanders nearly as hard to deal with as she has our colonists in the past.

So Capt. Carter goes to jail for five years? There was once a man in Oregon who went to the penitentiary for three years for stealing a salmon, and Carter got away with a million and three-quarters!

Fossil Journal: S. P. Shutt has launched his latest paper, the Hood River Sun. He says: "In national politics we are, and always will be, republican." Better be converted late than never.

The Hood River Glacier has enlarged from a six-column to a seven-paper, possibly in anticipation of a lively competition from Bro. Shutt, of the newly-started Sun.

"Well, we would make a pretty mess of it," said Dewey, when a reporter reminded him that he and Joe Wheeler were mentioned as a democratic team for the presidential race in 1900. "I am not a politician, am a sailor. I know my business, or at least, I should know it; and I do not want to mix in the affairs of government. I am perfectly satisfied to live and die a simple sailor." In the same strain once spoke Andrew Jackson: "Do they think I am such a damned fool as to think myself fit for president of the United States? No sir; I know what I am fit for. I can command a body of men in a rough way, but I am not fit to be president." But Andrew Jackson became president and held that high position for two terms, and he was about as good a one as the United States ever had. Might not George Dewey be a second Jackson? He possesses many of the qualities of "Old Hickory."—T.M.

Says the East Oregonian: Sumpter, the second largest town in Baker county, and already a rival of Baker City, has "an even dozen" of saloons, one church edifice, with no resident pastor, and is otherwise known to fame. The Sumpter Miner pointedly says there is almost as rich and virgin a field there for the labor of those who seek to lay up treasures in heaven as for those who are hustling to accumulate this world's goods.

The long-handled English generals will now have a chance to show the world the metal they are made of when they run up against the short-sighted Dutchmen.

Asthma's Clutch

The sufferer from Asthma is constantly wheezing, sneezing, hacking and clearing the throat. When a storm approaches, when there is a cloud of dust, when a room is being swept, or when there is a bad odor, breathing becomes most difficult. Often it seems as though someone was clutching the sufferer by the throat with a terrible grip. The choking sensation is almost unbearable. The trouble sometimes lasts only a few minutes and again hangs on for many days. There is only one safe thing to do, and that is take Acker's English Remedy for Throat and Lung Troubles. Just what this medicine accomplishes is shown by the following letter from Mr. N. H. Andrews, a prominent resident of Springfield, Ohio, who writes:—

"W. H. Hooker & Co., New York: 'Gentlemen,—I have been a great pleasure to assure you that I have received both immediate and permanent relief from throat, bronchial and asthmatic troubles by using Acker's English Remedy, taken strictly according to directions. It is a blessing to humanity.'"

Sold at 50c, 10c and 25c bottles, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 1s. 2s. 3s. 4s. 6d. If you are not satisfied after trying, return the bottle to your druggist and get your money back. We authorize the above guarantee.
