THURSDAY - FEB. 1, 1900

It is perfectly natural that there should be a strong sentiment in this community and throughout America, says the Telegram, with the Boers. Very likely a majority of Americans would prefer to see the British beaten back and driven out of South Africa than to see the Boers conquered. But there is very little solid ground in spite of all that has happened upon which to base any expectation that the Boers will drive the British back and out. Because Majuba hill happened is no more reason for concluding that it will happen again than it would have been to conclude that the United States government was irretrievably whipped because of Ball's Bluff and the first battle of Bull Run. There are reasonable and proper grounds for sympathizing with the Boers, yet they do not necessarily lead one into flaming, fantastic and foolish denunciations of everything the English government is doing, or even has done. The English government has been a potential force for more than 800 years on the side of civilization, with all that word implies. Whether civilization is altogether desirable or not may be a debatable question, too; but as our British friend Kipling says on several occasions—that is another story.

Leaving out minor matters, England is fighting against practically the very thing she forced on American miners in the Klondike and in the Kootenai mining district, in preventing aliens from even the working of cheap placers in British territory. Seeing that these restrictions were directed mainly against American miners, is it any wonder then, that England has little sympathy from Americans in her present crisis?

The youngest male member of the Gould family has just paid $10,000 for two dogs. This expenditure may seem a little extravagant, but Miss Anna Gould bought a pet some years ago at a much higher figure, and he isn't as valuable as any dollar-and-a-half dog in the country.

Aurora Borealis is the name of a new paper just started at Aurora in this state. It should be a very brilliant affair. It is to be hoped this borealis is not like its namesake a mass of bright rays that pass away and are seen only rarely.

McKinley put in the stocking of every man, woman and child in the United States the necessaries and luxuries of life at a cost of 25 per cent greater than one year ago. Even the stockings cost more.

Crook county's republicans are booming Representative Williamson for congress. He is a sheep man and their motive is to have the sheep interests guarded in congress.

The police authorities of Chicago have issued an order forbidding people to cut ice within the city limits. It will not affect Mr. Altgeld. He cuts no ice anywhere.—Ex.

A New York suit for $1.02 has already cost $1739. One of the greatest needs of this twentieth century is a bigger fool killer.

An exchange says one can easily be in fashion by going into debt. A very poor fashion to follow. Keep out of it.

Mr. Quay is said to be flirting with Democratic senators. His motto now is "Help Wanted. Help of any Kind."

Certainly no deserter from the Union army should receive a pension as is provided in a bill before congress.

The Cheerful Liar was recently given in Portland to a packed house. The name was sure to take in that city.

The Nicaragua canal has been a commercial and a military necessity to this country ever since the civil war. A canal anywhere in that part of the world would do. It is one of the stirring requirements of a country whose commercial interests are vast and constantly increasing; to a country whose naval strength, if not nominally as great as that of some other world powers, acknowledges no superior. And yet, while little impediment exists to the construction of the Nicaragua canal, the very mention of it in congress seems to produce a somnolent condition among the members, as well as a blank look on most of the faces. Being a matter of sound business sense, they do not understand it, they never having received a business education. But let some senator bring forth a silver bill and they will show what they don't know about business by quarreling over it for months, when a business man would settle it—as he does in the end anyway—in 30 seconds by the watch. In fact, congress seems to want to do nothing constantly, for political capital, and the things it should do, mildew.

Lots of men who swore off on New Year's Day, are now wondering whether it isn't better to taper off.

The British do the talking, but Oom Paul keeps on sawing wood.

This warm weather has kept many a woodshed from being emptied.

Oom Paul has evidently taken the John Bull by the horns.

After all politics generally are pretty well hashed up.

Smoking Stunts the Growth of Boys.

Whatever difference of opinion there may be upon the advisability of smoking for men, there is none as to its pernicious effect upon boys. It affects the action of the heart and reduces the capacity of the lungs. Young men who are being trained for athletics are not permitted to smoke by their trainers because, as they say, "It is bad for the wind." The argument that will appeal most forcibly to your boy is that smoking will stunt his growth. It has been proved that youthful smokers are shorter and weigh less than their comrades who do not smoke. Cigarettes are especially injurious. Nicotine, the active principle of tobacco, is said by chemists to be, next to prussic acid, the most rapidly fatal poison known. The tender tissues of a growing boy cannot absorb even a very small quantity of it without most injurious results.—February Ladies' Home Journal.

Umatilla county sheepmen apparently have decided to omit any element of speculation, neither selling ahead nor holding after shearing, states the East Oregonian. The easy and natural movement of the 1899 clip at market quotations soon after the wool was sheared worked to the benefit of the grower. He is likely to repeat this in 1900, but does not now care to dispose of the stuff several months ahead of the usual selling time.

Throat Troubles

"Bardwell, Ky., where I live, is in the extreme western part of the State and only a few miles from Cairo, Ill., where the Ohio empties into the Mississippi River. It may be that throat troubles are common here because of location, but, whatever the reason, I find it wise to constantly keep a supply of Acker's English Remedy for Consumption on hand. It is the best thing I ever came across for coughs, colds and throat troubles, and I have used it in my family for years. No druggist here can be depended upon to have it always, so I am writing this letter to W. H. Hooker & Co., 220 Broadway, N. Y., to order a dozen bottles at a time. My wife is bothered lately with sore throat and difficult breathing, but just as soon as the dozen bottles get here, I will give her a few doses, and she will certainly be well again. I expect to write another letter in a short time saying my wife is cured, for I feel absolutely sure it is what she needs." (Signed) T. A. WHITE.

Sold at 25c., 50c. and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada: and in England, at 1s. 2d., 2s. 3d., 4s. 6d. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back.

We authorize the above guarantee.
