Does not let go of you when you apply lotions or liniments. It simply loosens its hold for a while. Why? Because to get rid of it you must correct the acid condition of the blood on which it depends. Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured thousands.

KEEP YOUR BLOOD CLEAN

WINTER IS COMING BRINGING CATARRH

Every Catarrh sufferer dreads the coming of winter, for with the first breath of the "ice-king" this miserable disease is fanned into life and all the disgusting symptoms return. The nostrils are stopped up and the throat can be kept clear of mucous secretions only by continual hawking and spitting. Catarrh is a nuisance and source of annoyance, not only to the one who has it, but everybody else. The thick, yellow discharge from the head produces a feeling of personal defilement, and the odor of the breath is almost intolerable. The catarrhal poison brings on stomach troubles and affects the kidneys and bladder. It attacks the soft bones and tissues of the head and throat, causing total or partial deafness, the loss of smell, and giving to the voice a rasping, nasal twang. No part of the body is secure from its ravages. Catarrh makes you sick all over, for it is a disease of the blood, and circulates all through the system, and for this reason, sprays, washes, inhalers, powders and salves have proven failures.

The way to cure Catarrh thoroughly and permanently is to cleanse the blood of the unhealthy secretions that keep the membranes of the body inflamed, and nothing does this so surely and promptly as S. S. S. As long as the blood is poisoned with Catarrhal matter the discharge of mucus and other disgusting symptoms of the miserable disease will continue. S. S. S. goes to the fountain source of the trouble and purifies and enriches the blood, and so invigorates and tones up the system that catching cold and contracting Catarrh is not so likely to occur. Keep the blood in order and winter's coming brings none of the discomforts of Catarrh.

Write us particulars of your case, and let our physicians help you get rid of this blood-tainting and stubborn disease. We make no charge whatever for medical advice.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. COULD NOT HEAR THE TICK OF A CLOCK.

Watsontown, Pa., July 13, 1903.
Dear Sirs:
I have used S. S. S. for Catarrh of the inner ear, and have found it an excellent remedy for same. I had been troubled with this disease for years and tried many things in an effort to get relief, but nothing did me any permanent good until I began S. S. S. I had a discharge from my ear and my hearing was so badly affected that I could not hear the tick of a clock. I was in bad shape when I began your medicine. S. S. S. has done away with the discharge and my hearing has been wonderfully improved; so much so that I can now carry on a conversation in an ordinary tone, whereas a year ago this was impossible.
Your medicine has done me a world of good and I do not hesitate to give it the credit it deserves.

About thirteen years ago I used your remedy for Catarrh. I had been troubled with it for about nine years, but since taking S. S. S. have never been worried with it. I feel able to recommend S. S. S. as a sure cure for Catarrh.

HERBERT SPENCER DEAD.

The Last of the Great Thinkers of the Victorian Age.

Herbert Spencer, the distinguished English philosopher and author of many scientific works of great value, who died recently at his home in Brighton, was the last of the great thinkers of the Victorian age, which included Charles Darwin, Thomas Huxley and John Tyndall.

Herbert Spencer was born April 27, 1820, the son of a poor schoolmaster in Derby, England. His advantages in early life were few, most of his education being received through his father, yet he lived to be one of the greatest thinkers of the age. At 17 he began the struggle as a civil engineer, a calling which he followed for eight years. While thus engaged he spent his leisure hours in the study of social science, but it was not until 1855 that the result of all this thought and preparation was published to the world. Then appeared his first book, "Social Statics," which was four years in advance of Darwin's "Origin of Species" and dimly anticipated some of the proofs of evolution therein set forth.

Spencer's first volume was received with frosty air when noticed at all. Others followed only to experience a scarcely less frigid reception. At first the determined philosopher paid the cost of publication out of his own slender means; that being the only way he could get his work before the people. Not until twenty-four years later was he able to say that he had got his money all back so that he had lost nothing by his work. Discouraging as all this must have been, Mr. Spencer was not of a kind easily turned aside. He continued to think and write, and his great lifework stands to-day the strongest kind of evidence that the sublime faith he had in his own ability was well founded. He lived to hear the applause of the world acclaiming him one of the greatest intellectual leaders of his time.

Herbert Spencer was simple and unostentatious to a marked degree. He repeatedly declined academic honors from colleges and universities, and titular honors which the late Queen Victoria was willing to bestow upon him in recognition of his distinguished services to humanity.

The romantic side of Mr. Spencer's life may be summed up in a few words. He was devotedly attached to his mother and grieved much during her last illness. The only other woman for whom he seemed to entertain feelings of affection was George Elliot. They were great friends and it is said that he was in love with her. Perhaps the strongest evidence in support of that claim is the knowledge that he was never in love with anyone else and the fact that he never married.

In his contributions to science Mr. Spencer has shown the workings of a master mind; one that was clear, vigorous, forceful and original in its conceptions. The world of mankind is greatly indebted for his services and will not soon know his equal.

AN EQUINE GIANT AND AN EQUINE DWARF.

One of the features of a recent horse show in Vienna was the appearance of two horses, the one said to be the largest horse in the world, the other supposed to be the smallest. The illustration shows the comparative size of the two, and when it is added that the smaller horse was the size of a St. Bernard dog the huge proportions of his big comrade will readily be understood.

In every country of the civilized world Sisters of Charity are known. Not only do they minister to the spiritual and intellectual needs of the charges committed to their care, but they also minister to their bodily needs.

With so many children to take care of and to protect from climate and disease, these wise and prudent Sisters have found Peruna a never failing safeguard.

Dr. Hartman receives many letters from Catholic Sisters from all over the United States. A recommend recently received from a Catholic institution in Detroit, Mich., reads as follows:

Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio:
Dear Sir—"The young girl who used the Peruna was suffering from laryngitis and loss of voice. The result of the treatment was most satisfactory. She found great relief and after further use of the medicine we hope to be able to say she is entirely cured."
—Sisters of Charity.

The young girl was under the care of the Sisters of Charity and used Peruna for catarrh of the throat with good results as the above letter testifies.
