Dr. Goffin was a north bound passenger from Moro on Tuesday's "limited." He was taking Mrs. Hinton, of DeMoss, who is quite ill, to the hospital in Portland.

Mr. W. C. McFarland, of Pendleton, was in Wasco this week looking after the estate of the late F. C. St. Clair, he having been appointed administrator by the court.

The bill for nominations by direct primary affords the people an opportunity to take and hold the whip hand, and should receive the support of all parties.

Work on the O. T. Co.'s brick is delayed this week until a new supply of brick can be burned. Brick making is progressing rapidly at the brick yard in the edge of town.

I have for sale three quarter-sections of fine farm land, a short distance east of Klondike, Ore. If you want land call on, or address, C. J. BRIGHT, Wasco, Ore.

Voters, are you going to register now or wait until election day and have to swear in your vote? You had better not put this duty off any longer. Any Justice of the Peace in your precinct can register you.

Miss Pearl Hulery, who has been so ill at her father's home near this city for the past three weeks or more, is, we are glad to say, on the high road to recovery, under the efficient care of Dr. Wm. Huckin.

Lewis & Clark envelopes, 15 cents a bunch, at this office. These envelopes have a unique and original design on the front, showing the nature of Oregon when the great explorers first discovered this country. Try a bunch, and use them when writing East.

Geo. B. Bourhill, republican nominee for County Judge, was in the city last Sunday, attending the I. O. O. F. anniversary. In fact the Odd Fellows seem to be sure of a rake-off so far as offices in the county, as all seem to belong.

Quite a number of our subscribers came in during the week and paid up. There are others, however, in fact they amount up all told to over $700.00. Wouldn't this little help you? Well it will help us, wonderfully.

Judge Bradshaw was a south bound passenger last Saturday. Some of our citizens requested him to try the rapists sent to the county jail a short time ago from Wasco, but as there is no legal means of drawing a jury at present, it was impossible.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lucas were calling on friends in Wasco from Friday last to Monday. They were just returning from Portland, where Mr. Lucas underwent an operation for cancer, having had the left half of his jaw bone removed. He was getting along nicely when here, but his face was badly swollen.

Otto Peetz, republican nominee for assessor, was in Wasco this week, getting acquainted with the people. Mr. Peetz is a young man, but is qualified for the duties of assessor and certainly deserves the support of his party. He has lived in Sherman county the major portion of his life and is well known as an upright, industrious man, who can be relied upon to make every effort to perform the duties of his office to the satisfaction of his constituents.

E. A. E. Webber is building a new warehouse next to his store. The building is to be 20x100 feet, of corrugated iron.

Bro. S. F. Blythe and son have sold the Hood River Glacier to Mr. A. W. Moe. The Glacier is one of the best weeklies in Eastern Oregon.

Instead of a carnival this fall, the business men of The Dalles have decided to hold a district fair and stock show. Really, a fair of this kind will be of more benefit and interest than a carnival, anyway.

Dr. Thomas Nelson, of The Dalles, was in Wasco Monday and Tuesday, on one of his regular trips, testing eyes and fitting glasses. He fitted ye editor Morgan on his first trip to this city, with glasses that have given entire satisfaction.

Overalls of all descriptions, for big, little and old, spring and summer hats, candy, oranges—in fact, anything that anybody can possibly want, can be had at the Wasco Commercial Co.'s big store, and our prices are the lowest in the city.

Misses Florence and Marie Barnett expect to leave next Tuesday for St. Louis where they will see the sights of the World's Fair. They will go via Sacramento, Calif., and expect to be at the fair by Oregon Day. They will visit in the East before returning home.

Dr. Nelson, the eye specialist, left for Moro Tuesday. He will again be in Wasco on or about the first of August. The doctor is a graduate optician and thoroughly understands his business. All those needing attention to their eyes should consult him at the first opportunity.

The interest of the present campaign is rapidly centering in the sheriff's race and it will probably be around this plum that the chief battle will be fought. Sheriff McGinnis has been an excellent officer and the people of Sherman county will look many a day before they find another that is so well fitted in every way for the place as its present incumbent. We doubt that there is another officer in the state that is as good a tax collector as McGinnis.

The instrumental and vocal concert given in the M. E. church last Monday evening by Miss Ethel Lytle, soprano, assisted by Prof. Boyer, tenor, and Miss Agnes Walton, reader, was attended by quite a large audience. Miss Lytle is a singer who has a rare, sweet voice, with a very wide range, and all her numbers were well received, she having to respond to a number of encores. Prof. Boyer is a tenor singer of note, and his singing was much appreciated. Miss Agnes Walton made quite a hit by her pleasing and entertaining recitations and impersonations. She shows unusual expression in the rendition of all her pieces. The receipts of the evening were $62.50, 20 per cent. of which was given to the church.

If the democrats elect but one man in this district that man will be Judge W. L. Bradshaw. There is probably not a more popular and efficient officer in this part of the state, or one that works more for the advantage of the people, than Judge Bradshaw. He has been Judge of this district for ten years, and in that time speedy and impartial justice has been the rule in his court, and all, both high and low can depend on fair treatment at any and all times at the hands of the Judge of the 7th District. The office which he holds is not a political office, and the Judge has consistently recognized this; we think the people will do well if they discard political differences next June and see to it that the most efficient Judge that ever accepted the Judicial seat in this district, is continued in his place.

I. O. O. F. Celebrate in Wasco.

The three local lodges of Odd Fellows of Sherman county, comprising the Grass Valley lodge, Moro lodge and the Wasco lodge, met in this city last Sunday and fittingly celebrated the birthday of the order. A special car was attached to the train at Grass Valley, and 73 tickets were sold at that place. Moro added her quo ratta, and altogether, Wasco had the pleasure of entertaining quite a large crowd of noble Odd Fellows and Rebekahs.

Immediately upon arrival the visitors were escorted to the M. E. church, where Rev. Perry Chandler, local pastor, delivered a very appropriate discourse, followed by an interesting talk more directly in regard to Oddfellowship by Rev. Stuhl. The church was well filled, but luckily, none had to stand.

After the services at the church, the visiting brothers were entertained at lunch in the Christian church by the Odd Fellows of Wasco. All seemed to enjoy themselves quite well, and we of Wasco hope to have the pleasure of entertaining our neighbor towns and lodges again at a future date. The birth of the Odd Fellows was April 26, 1819.

Red Kids in the Lead.

One of the largest crowds of spectators ever on the Wasco diamond was assembled last Sunday afternoon to witness the crossing of bats between the Red Kids of Wasco, and the A. M. Williams teams of The Dalles. Although most of the Wasco team were clerks who have not had opportunity for much practice this season, they had a walk-over with The Dalles boys, who, perhaps, had not practiced much either, from the way they were fanned out. Marshall Wm. Nixon, of this city, acted as umpire, and his decisions were, on the whole, considered very fair. Billy Meyers, of the Red Kids, showed very plainly that he had lost none of his old tricks, by sending the ball in such roundabout and various ways past the batter, and he called forth frequent cheering from the grand stand. The pitcher for the Williams team also did very good work, but he was not backed up as well as he should have been. The game was called about 3 o'clock and ended at 5 o'clock p. m.

Following is the score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total
A. M. Williams	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Red Kids	5	5	0	0	1	0	2	1	1	14

Gradually the railroad in this part of the United States are replacing their Japanese and Chinese section crews with white men. The S. P. Co. have just turned off their Japs on several divisions in the Valley, and hired white men in their places. It is well.

President Roosevelt has signed the bill opening up 416,000 acres of the Rosebud Indian reservation in Gregory county, S. D. This will give many a chance to secure a good farm worth $3,000 or more, with very little real cost. The opening is to take place July 1st, 1904.

E. D. McKee has moved into his new brick drug store. He now has one of the neatest drug establishments in Sherman county, and his new building will give him plenty of room to carry a much larger stock than heretofore. Nixon & Cottmire have moved their candy kitchen and bakery into the room formerly occupied by Mr. McKee, and it is said a restaurant is to be opened in the building Messrs Nixon and Cottmire have just vacated. Store room is in great demand in Wasco, and several businesses have been turned down this spring on account of the lack of suitable store buildings.

Impressive dedication exercises were held Monday at the Lewis and Clark Exposition grounds, and work on the grounds will be rushed right along until all is finished. Mayor Williams gave the opening address, and spoke in favor of the purchase of the site to be used afterwards as a public park. President Scott spoke of the scope of the Exposition, and President Myres of the State Commission broke ground for the ele-

Oregon Pioneer Association members from the eastern state line to the coast are planning for the 32nd reunion of the organization, which is to be held in Portland during the week of June 20, the chief exercises taking place Wednesday, June 22. This association, one of the oldest of its kind in the west, is composed of men and women who came to Oregon in the days prior to 1850, or who were born in the state before that date. In addition to these the Native Sons and Daughters have a strong organization, which will meet in Portland during the same week.
