Rain is badly needed by Linn County farmers, says a dispatch to the Oregonian. The crops have not received sufficient rain at any time this Spring and the hot weather of the past week has made the need more imperative. The hot wind of the past few days has been causing the grain to head out rapidly and dry up.

Rev. Father Hickey, has been in Portland during the week, under Dr. Dixon's care for very serious eye trouble. He can see but very poorly and suffers considerable pain. He is scheduled to celebrate mass and lecture in Antelope at the Axhandle school hall next Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. The reverend gentleman hopes to be able to take a much needed vacation after the issue of the June number of the Occidental Magazine which will appear in a few week's time.

The Roseburg News speaks thusly of a Sherman county boy: "Mr. Lloyd Barzee, who has been in this city for the past year reading law in the office of Attorney Louis Barzee, his uncle, has gone to The Dalles to visit his parents. From The Dalles the young man will go to Portland where he will take a course in a business college, after which he will enter a law school and take up the study of law, as he intends to make that his profession. Mr. Lloyd Barzee has hosts of friends in this city who are confident that he will acquire himself with honor in his studies and later rise to the top round of the legal profession.

William Smith, of Silverton, Marion county, who has been in Wasco for the past week in search of draft horses to be used in the logging camps of that locality, takes back with him, in all probability, the best span of animals for his purpose that could have been procured in the county, the combined weight of the two being nearly 3600 pounds. The larger of the two, a Clydesdale mare, bought of Mr. Johnson, of this place, tipped the beam at 1830 pounds, and price paid for her was $340. The other was found at the home of Mr. Wilmer Cooper of Grass Creek, and with her colt, only fifty remained of a $500 William when Mr. Smith was permitted to lead her away, her weight, however, being one hundred pounds less than the Johnson animal. They are both bright bays, and when side by side on the streets of Portland will bring forth tempting offers of glittering gold.

The Goldendale Sentinel says the Marshaling case came up before Judge McCredie Tuesday afternoon, and he took the matter under advisement. Mr. Burgen's counsel holds that the mayor in towns of fourth class has the full appointing power and such appointees do not need any confirmation by the council. And, further, that if the section under controversy does apply to this class, the appointment of Mr. Hartley was premature; and, furthermore that he has never legally qualified. City Attorney Ward contends to the contrary in all these matters and says the appointment of the council will stand. The matter will probably not be ended until settled by the supreme court.

Revival Meeting.

Evangelist, Rev. F. F. Burnstorf, of Winfield, Kansas, is here and will hold services at the M. E. Church until June 16th, as follows:
