The city council met Monday evening in special session, and in response to a petition signed by a large number of voters, elected J. A. Ellis to fill one vacancy on the council. The other vacancy was not filled. Mayor McKee read a scale of water rents which he had prepared, and as a committee is now working on the matter, we may soon expect to have a new scale adopted.

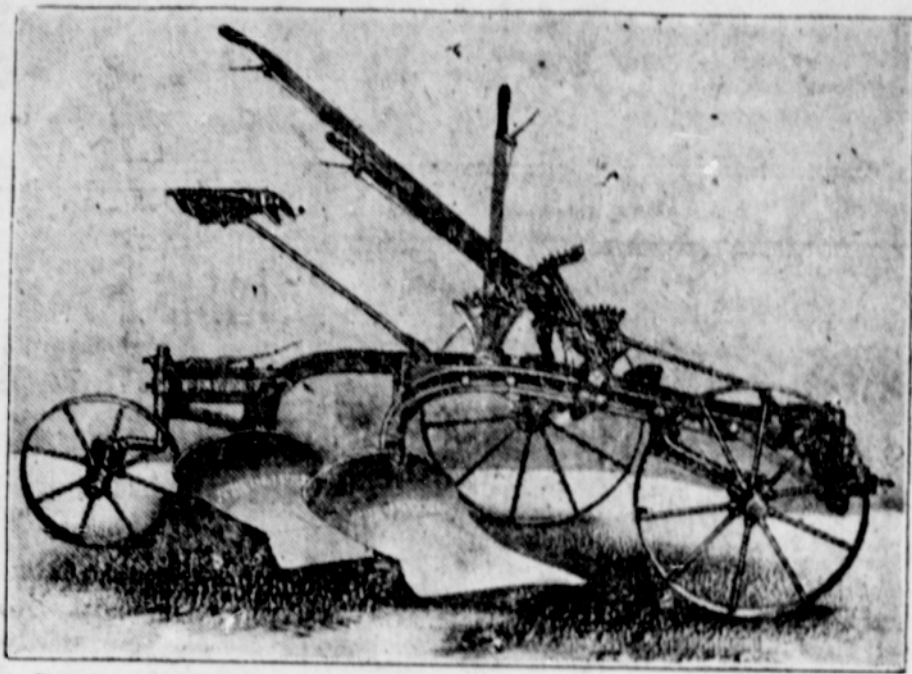

The La Mott Comedy Company, said to be one of the best shows of its size on the road, is billed for three nights at the Akers Opera next week, commencing Thursday night January 23d. The La Mott combination consists of circus performers, comedians, vocalists and dancers. They have Black-face, Irish and Dutch comedians, society sketches, and one and two act farce comedies and call special attention to their great Hullo box mystery.

A west bound freight train was derailed near De Moss yesterday afternoon, in consequence of which the south bound passenger was delayed here and is still here at the time of going to press this (Friday) morning. No serious damage was sustained. Conductor Lytle and others spent the night at the Western Hotel. Some other passengers were distributed around town and some spent the night on the train.

Will King and family left during the week for their home in Marion county, where they intend to engage in the dairy-farming business. Will left with the stock on Wednesday and Mrs. King and their niece, Miss Amie Burris, will join him later. The people of this locality regret to lose the King family as neighbors but we can not expect to have all the desirable neighbors, so the News will wish Will and his wife the best of fortune in their new home.

True to their promises farmers west of town are refusing to re-rent the E. O. L. Co's land under the terms now offered. The farmers are American citizens and can not but oppose the oppressive terms offered by the company. The writer "grew up" in that neighborhood and knowing the farmers as we do, believe they will stand to a man by their agreement. Goat 'em boys. Don't let anything interfere. Adjust your private grievances as best you can. But you are American citizens and as such assert your rights in this particular.

R. S. Ward returned home from Moro on Wednesday, having been acquitted of the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. The jury was out one hour when they returned a verdict of not guilty. Mr. Ward has many friends both in this and Gilliam county who are glad to know that the jury arrived at such a verdict.

The Pavilla Dramatic and Musical Comedy Company gave performances at the Akers Opera on Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Their entertainments were fairly good and they received a good patronage.

Joint installation.

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs held jointly their semi-annual installations on Saturday night last. G. E. James, of Moro, D. D. G. M., assisted by W. S. Wines, who acted as Grand Marshal, was installing officers for the Odd Fellows. Approximately one hundred fifty people witnessed the impressive installation ceremonies of this noble order and of its sister lodge, the Rebekah. The installing officers of the Rebekah's were: Mrs. R. C. Atwood, D. D. G. M., Mrs. W. S. Wines, G. M. The new officers for the O. F. were: B. Adams, N. G.; W. E. Tate, V. G.; J. R. Howell, Sec.; R. C. Atwood, P. M.; W. J. Underhill, Warden; W. C. Walker, Conductor; W. S. Fields, J. M. Shannon, J. G.

F. S. Clark, I. S. N. G.; E. G. Barzee, R. S. V. G.; C. H. Rich, L. S. V. G.; Clyde Hearin, R. S. S.; F. M. Pough, L. S. S.

The new officers of the Rebekah's are Miss Mardina McLeod, N. G.; Mrs. Ruthia J. Howell, Sec.; Mrs. Bertha Glass, Treas.; Mrs. Louise Tate, War.; Mrs. Mary McMullin, Con.; Mrs. Hannah Hailey, J. G.; Mrs. J. M. Shannon, O. G.; Mrs. Emma Walker, R. S. of N. G.; Mrs. Emma Lucas, L. S. of N. G.

After the ceremonies two hundred people gathered around the banquet board and enjoyed the good cheer of the Rebekah's. A prize was offered for the best cake and earned by Mrs. R. C. Atwood. The judges knew what they were doing when they decided that the prize winner was a perfect piece of pastry, but it is difficult to understand how perfection, even, could excel others which were presented. The guests will look forward with eagerness to the next public entertainment off the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs.
