City Recorder Boswell and family and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Downing left Monday for their mountain farms on Big Butte to enjoy an outing. The judge will bag a few strings of venison as soon as the law permits.

The hot wave is broken and since Sunday there is no danger of prevarication in recommending Central Point as a pleasant summer resort. The cooling breezes are doing business, at the old stand and everybody is happy and contented.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Freeman and their children are preparing for a visit to Mr. Freeman's old home at Woodstock, Ill. They go via Portland and Seattle and expect to take the Canadian Pacific east from the latter city. They expect to be away between two and three months.

The fish began running again Tuesday, the last day of the open season, and the boys at Bybee bridge landed about 50 nice ones that day. The seining season is now off but they will continue to fish for steelheads with hook and line for some time to come.

H. J. Dygert, of Woodstock, Ill., was a visitor in Central Point during the week, having stopped here to visit with the family of W. J. Freeman.

Mr. Dygert is making a tour of the western states and was very favorably impressed with the general appearance of the Rogue river valley.

J. I. Purkeypille, who is camping with his family in the mountains in the Big Butte country, was surprised the other morning by being awakened from a fine morning nap by a big bear nosing around for his breakfast. The bear looked pretty big but Mr. Purkeypille grabbed his trusty rifle and opened fire, the result being that bear steak was obtainable for breakfast in that camp.

Many of the young friends of little Miss Gladys Holmes helped celebrate that young lady's 12th birthday anniversary last Tuesday evening, and a right royal time was enjoyed by all. Many games were played and there was ice cream and cake and other refreshments galore. All joined in wishing Gladys many returns of the day and hoping they may all be as happy and free from care.

Lincoln Savage, county school superintendent of Josephine county, is here from Grants Pass getting his threshing machine in readiness for the season's run. Mr. Savage has operated a threshing outfit here for several years and this year expects to add an up-to-date alfalfa huller to his equipment. He expects there will be at least 400 acres of alfalfa to be threshed in the neighborhood of Central Point this season.

By-Laws Adopted

A stockholders' meeting of the Central Point Creamery association was held last Saturday afternoon, when the report of the committee on by-laws was received and, with some minor amendments, adopted.

R. C. Hensley, chairman of the executive committee, presided at the meeting, and A. J. Hanby acted as secretary. W. J. Freeman, chairman of the committee on by-laws, read the report in full, after which it was read by sections, discussed, amended and adopted.

The by-laws provide that the capital stock of the corporation shall consist of sixty shares of $100, which shall be fully paid up when stock is issued, and non-assessable.

The officers of the association shall consist of a board of five directors and a treasurer, it being provided that the first director chosen shall be considered president of the board; the second chosen shall be considered vice-president and the third chosen shall be secretary.

The annual meetings of stockholders shall be held on the last Saturday in July.

The board is authorized to elect a manager, a buttermaker and a salesman and to fix the compensation of each, such persons to be under the immediate supervision of the board of directors.

The stock of the corporation shall be transferable on the books only, in case of a sale of said stock, and it is expressly provided that the acquirement of additional shares of stock shall not entitle the purchaser to any additional vote at any meeting of the corporation.

The board of directors shall meet monthly, when, after paying all current expenses for the month and adding a sufficient amount to pay a six per cent annual dividend on the capital stock and one-half per cent per pound for all butter manufactured during the month—which shall be placed in a sinking fund for unexpected expenses—the balance shall be apportioned to customers for cream or milk delivered during the month.

A majority of stockholders shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Considerable discussion came up over the section providing for the employment of a buttermaker, the committee having recommended that he should be a disinterested party, but the provision was voted down and the directors were given the privilege of employing a stockholder for buttermaker, if they saw fit. It seemed to be the sense of the meeting, however, that the most important matter in the whole proposition is to secure a strictly first-class buttermaker at the beginning, in order that the product may take its place at once in the best markets.

The meeting was harmonious and every stockholder present seemed to have an abiding faith in the success of the new enterprise.

Across the River

A prosperous and contented community is that known as the Table Rock neighborhood, lying between the famous landmark of that name and the Bybee bridge, which spans Rogue river some six miles east from Central Point. Farming, fruitgrowing and dairying are all successfully followed and on every hand may be seen evidences of fertile soil and progressive, prosperous people. The soil is a rich loam of volcanic ash or pumice character with a sub-stratum of water-sand and gravel which is only a few feet below the surface. This furnishes an inexhaustible supply of pure, cold water for domestic purposes and also obviates the necessity of either so much surface irrigation or cultivation as is required in many parts of the country to keep a sufficient amount of moisture in the surface soil.

Wheat yields from 40 to 50 bushels per acre and other cereals in proportion. Heavy yields of apples of superior quality and coloring are also grown and many new orchards have been set in the last year or so.

While on a recent visit to that neighborhood, at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pendleton, the writer inspected Spitzenberg trees that will produce 20 or 25 boxes each while across the road in the fine orchard of R. C. Washburn there is as fine an apple prospect as can be found anywhere in the west.

The social side of life is not neglected in that neighborhood and the people of the community are noted for their hospitality and social qualities. Interesting Sunday services are held at the school house by the Endeavor society and social gatherings of the neighborhood are almost weekly features.

New Settlers Here

A party of homeseekers who arrived here a few days ago have decided, after looking over all sections of the valley pretty thoroughly, to cast their lot with Central Point and its immediate vicinity. The party consists of Mrs. Sarah Lake and her son, James Lake, and his family, of Boise, Idaho, and Mrs. Lake's son-in-law, John Sisty, and his family, of South Dakota. Monday morning Mrs. Lake closed a deal with P. B. Hensley for his fine 40-acre tract on the Bear creek bottom, just north of town, the consideration being $5000 cash. The deal was made through the real estate firm of Downing & Emry, of this city. Mr. Lake and Mr. Sisty will also buy good places here and are now looking around for something that suits them. Mr. Hensley is obliged to return to Washington for a time to look after business matters there but expects to return to the Rogue river valley to make his home again as soon as possible.

Medford Man Sentenced

Martin G. Hope, city attorney of Medford, was on Saturday sentenced by Judge Hunt in the United States court at Portland to pay four months in the county jail and a fine of $500 for complicity in the land frauds at the time the famous southern Oregon "sucker belt" was so successfully "worked" a year or so ago. Henry W. Miller and Frank E. Kincart, who pleaded guilty to the same charge, were sentenced at the same time to one year at hard labor at McNeil's island. Charles Nickell has until Monday in which to present an application for a new trial.

Bank Safe Arrives

The big Manganese time-lock safe for the Central Point State bank arrived here yesterday and will be unloaded and placed in position immediately. The inside work on the building will be finished in a few days, so that we may expect to have the bank in full operation in the course of another week.

Part of the machinery for the new creamery has arrived and the rest may be expected at any time. Once the machinery is all here it will require but a week or so to place it in position and the plant will then be ready for business.

Creamery Incorporated

Articles of incorporation of the Central Point Creamery have been prepared and forwarded to the secretary of state. The capital stock is placed at $6000, divided into 60 shares of $100 each. The incorporators are W. C. Leever, A. J. Hanby and S. A. Pattison.

Will Not be a Candidate

President Roosevelt has, through his secretary, William Loeb, issued another positive statement to the effect that he positively will not be a candidate for a third term. The statement was called forth by the letter of a lady in Peoria, Ill., in which she enclosed a newspaper clipping in which a strong plea was made to the president to again be a candidate.

The Medford laundry wagon will call for work in Central Point each Monday afternoon and Friday morning. Expert ironers from City Hall French laundry, San Francisco, employed. First class work guaranteed. 7-tf
