

CENTRAL POINT HERALD

LANCASTER & PATTISON, PUBLISHERS
S. A. PATTISON, EDITOR.
J. E. LANCASTER, BUSINESS MANAGER

An independent local newspaper devoted to the interests of Central Point and the Rogue River Valley.
Published Every Thursday.
Subscription price, $1.50 per year, in advance.

Entered as second-class matter, May 4, 1904, at the Post Office at Central Point, Oregon, under the special postage of March 3, 1879.

"It's a long lane that has no turning," says the old saw. And it seems that the Portland police department has just discovered that one "Lane" of that city, otherwise known as "Mayor Harry," has turned like unto the proverbial worm and put the entire grafting detective department out of business at one fell swoop. Then, adding insult to injury, as it were, he has served notice on all other city employes of the appointive class that every mother's son of them who henceforth fails to do his duty and earn his salary will be fired forthwith. That's the stuff, Mayor Harry; if you have the stuff in you to keep up that kind of a "lick" you should be governor or president. Aye, but there's the rub. Could you hold out against the mighty power of the "system" that David Graham Phillips has been telling us about? It's doubtful.

The sensational little town of St. Johns, down near Portland, is reveling in another first-class scandal. One Congregational minister has publicly accused a ministerial brother with having stolen his wife's affections. It seems that the offending brother was a guest for a time at the home of the accusing brother, and it may be assumed, in charity, that the visitor may have discovered that his hostess could cook chicken better than could his own wife, who he had left for a time somewhere back east. Good chicken is said to be one of the weaknesses to which some ministers are liable to give way.

By a notice elsewhere it will be seen that all parties interested are invited to call at the county assessor's office, prior to a certain date, and examine their assessment. That would cost money. Most of the taxpayers do not possess passes. If we had a law compelling the publication of the assessments, taxpayers would save money, see what they are assessed at for the small sum of ten cents each or less, and also ascertain what their rich neighbors who can afford to travel are down for. Publish the list.—Woodburn Independent.

General Liarliarski of Warsaw was assassinated the other day presumably because he was not truthful. Judging from his name he must have been a double dyed prevaricator.

Speak it gently if you wish but don't fail to mention the fact to your neighbor that Central Point needs a good water system mighty bad.

"Fire in the mountains; run boys, run." Smoke in the valley, boys, is not much fun.

Keep your eye on Central Point, and watch the old town grow.

Central Point Against The World

Sam Baxter, foreman of this office, who has traveled a great deal both in this country and in Europe, says that Central Point girls are in the lead as regards beauty. Sam says he could point out a Central Point girl in any crowd by her peach cheeks. He attributes their beauty to the fact that they eat so many of the fine flavored peaches grown in this locality. It is to be hoped that this little article will not cause any of the Central Point beauties to lose their heads and kill themselves eating peaches.
