CENTRAL POINT HERALD

VOL. 1. CENTRAL POINT, OREGON, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1906. NO. 30

Local and Personal

Mrs P. O. Applegate, of Jacksonville, is visiting relatives in this city. Big consignment of lard cans just arrived at Leever's, the hardware man. Holiday goods, all kinds and descriptions, at the Central Point Pharmacy. A few choice 5-acre tracts adjoining Central Point for sale by Downing & Emry.

Jim Grieve's young son was seriously ill last week, but is recovering at this writing. Mrs. Dodson, of Portland, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. M. M. Cooksey.

J. H. Downing, of the firm of Downing & Emry, is indisposed this week with an attack of asthma.

Mrs. M. E. Fries, who has been suffering from an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, is improving.

P. J. Hicken is again at his place of business every day ready to attend to the wants of his customers.

Holiday goods; Christmas presents; New Year gifts at the Central Point Pharmacy.

O. Pankey, who was seriously injured in a runaway accident two weeks ago, is able to be on the streets again.

Mrs. Drusilla Mee of Applegate was here last week visiting her daughters, Mary Mee and Mrs. Emma Bebb.

Remember that Joe Boswell cleans, presses and patches clothing—makes "new clothing" out of old clothes.

Arthur Brown, who is starting a fine young orchard on the foothills road west of town, was in town Saturday.

The Central Point Pharmacy has a change of ad this week. Read it and learn where to go for your X-mas goods.

BORN—November 1, 1906, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Wilson, a son. Mother and child are doing well, but the father is still excited.

Wm. Moore, an aged pioneer resident of this city, has been seriously ill for several days and at this writing is but little improved.

The ladies of the Christian Church will give a dinner and bazaar at the Christian Church on Thanksgiving day. Your patronage is solicited.

Tickets for the Grand Thanksgiving ball may be secured at any time from Mr. Wm. Scott. Buy your tickets early, boys, and avoid the rush.

FOR SALE—A six-room dwelling in Central Point, in good repair. Barn, good water, some fruit. A bargain. Inquire at this office.

L. Hatfield made a flying business trip to Portland during the week, leaving here on the early train Sunday morning and returning Tuesday noon.

Walter Robinson and family, of Eastern Oregon, arrived in Central Point last week and are visiting Mrs. R.'s mother, Mrs. T. J. Kelson, and looking for a home.

T. A. Glass, a well-known citizen of Beagle and one of the leading threshermen of the county, was in town Saturday delivering a shipment of fat hogs to R. C. Hensley.

Henry Freeman, Esq., an aged citizen of Woodstock, Ill., who, with his wife, is visiting his son, W. J. Freeman, for some time, has been dangerously ill for several days.

Select a Christmas present for your wife, mother, sister or sweetheart, as the case may be, from the mammoth stock of holiday goods at the Central Point Pharmacy.

J. H. Daley, of Eagle Point, who produced some of the finest colored Spitzenberg apples in the valley this season, has sold his ranch for $12,000. He has 10 acres in bearing orchard.

Mrs. Johnson, of Portland, who visited her aunt, Mrs. M. M. Cooksey, last week, went out to Sam's Valley Saturday to visit relatives there for a few days before returning to Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Arnett, former residents of this place, arrived last week from California with the intention of locating here. They have been on a deal for a few days for the purchase of the Ray hotel, near the depot, but at this writing "the deal" has not been consummated.

Joe Boswell went to the shooting match Tuesday.

All the hotels and restaurants in town did a big business during the time the teachers were here. Mrs. Gillett had supper and all the hotels came in for a share of the patronage.

Charlie Gay has sold his fine residence property in the east part of town to Mr. Kyle, the recent purchaser of the Minnick farm. Mr. and Mrs. Gay have moved into the Stidham cottage on Laurel street. The price paid for Mr. Gay's property was $1600.00.

L. L. Freeman, brother of W. J. Freeman, of this city and a former teacher in the public schools here, arrived Sunday evening from Live Oak, California, accompanied by his wife and son. The occasion of their visit at this time is the serious illness of his father, Henry Freeman, of Illinois, who has been visiting his son here for a few weeks and who has been dangerously ill for several days.

Central Point Creamery brand of butter has already made a record for excellence of quality that is second to none in the country. Every pound of the output is taken by customers as fast as can be shipped and not a single complaint has yet been registered by dealers who handle it. A California firm wrote to the management wanting to engage all of the surplus but, at this time there is no surplus every pound being taken by regular patrons.

L. W. Fansher, who recently sold the ranch east of Bear creek, now occupied by the Woodburn Nursery Co., has returned to Central Point after several months' travel in search of a better country, and will again locate here. Mr. Fansher has leased the Ross saloon building and with his son he will put in a first-class skating rink and a stock of confectionery. The building will be thoroughly remodeled and renovated. The rink will open within a few days.

MARRIED

At the home of the bride's mother, at Murphy, Josephine County, Wednesday evening, November 7, 1906, Miss Dorothy Day, of Murphy, and Mr. Myron Allan Jennings, of Grants Pass, were united in marriage.

The bride is well known in Central Point, having been a former popular teacher in the public schools here, and the groom is a well-known young business man of Grants Pass.

The happy couple will make their home at Grants Pass and will be at home to their friends there after Nov. 20th.

Southern Oregon Normal Notes

By C. G. Peebler.

Rev. Green of the Congregational church spoke to the students in the chapel Tuesday morning on the subject "The Ground We Conquer We Make Our Own."

The Congressional and Athena literary societies held a joint meeting the 8th inst.

The young men's Oratorical club met last Thursday evening. They have taken up the study of the Webster and Hayne debate.

New song books have been ordered and as soon as they arrive a chorus class will be organized.

Last Saturday a football game was played between the Normal and Grants Pass teams. The Normal won by a score of 11 to 0.

Thanksgiving Ball.

Central Point lodge, No. 193, I. O. O. F., will give a grand ball in the opera house on Thanksgiving evening, which promises to eclipse anything in the terpsichorean line ever given in Central Point. The best music in the valley will be furnished, the floor will be put in finest condition and nothing will be left undone that is necessary to add to the enjoyment of the occasion. Invitations will be sent to neighboring lodges and a large attendance is expected from all sections of the valley.

Teachers' Institute.

The annual teachers' institute which convened in the opera house in this city Monday morning, continuing in session until Wednesday afternoon, was one of the most successful occasions of the kind ever held in the county.

Prof. P. H. Daily, who in his capacity as superintendent of schools for Jackson County, was in charge of the affair, spared no trouble or expense in securing able instructors and arranging an instructing and entertaining program. There were present 135 teachers and the large number of citizens who attended every session of the meeting helped to swell the audience until seats and even standing room was at a premium.

The institute was organized at 9:00 a. m. Monday morning, and after the opening exercises R. F. Robinson, of Portland, gave an interesting talk on "Language." He was followed by Prof. B. F. Mulkey, of Ashland, whose theme was, "Civil Government;" Miss Cornelia Marvin, of Salem, who talked on "The Care of Books," and W. F. Cameron, of Ashland, who told the teachers of "Some of the Defects in Rural Teaching." In the afternoon Mr. Robinson spoke on "Arithmetic," Mr. Mulkey on "History," M. B. Signs of Medford on "The Recitation—Its Ends and Essentials," and Chas. H. Jones, of Salem, on "Geography."

Monday evening the local teachers entertained the visitors and the public with a short program in the opera house, at the close of which the visiting teachers were escorted to the Gillett restaurant, where a banquet was served in their honor.

Tuesday morning Prof. Robinson gave another interesting talk on "Language," Prof. Mulkey again entertained the audience on a selected subject, Miss Marvin talked on "The Use of Books," and Mr. Signs followed with some helpful thoughts on "Some Laws of Childhood." In the afternoon the time which had been assigned to State Superintendent Ackerman, who was unable to be present, was very acceptably filled by Miss Tou Velle, musical instructor in the Medford and Jacksonville schools, who, with two of her classes, a chorus from the Medford High School and a class of little tots from Jacksonville, entertained the large audience with one of the most enjoyable features of the entire meeting.

Lincoln Savage, Superintendent of Josephine County, followed her with a short talk on "Mental Arithmetic," and R. F. Robinson talked on "Arithmetic." Prof. Mulkey followed with one of his excellent renditions from "Hamlet," which was highly enjoyed by the large audience present.

Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock Prof. Robinson delivered an excellent lecture in the opera house to a large and appreciative audience on the subject, "Progress and the Initiative." He spoke of the wonderful material progress of the last few years and directed attention to the fact that in governmental affairs Oregon has led all the other states in adopting the initiative amendment, and that if we are to make a success of the experiment we need to progress, especially in education and in the cultivation of all those virtues that go to make up good citizenship. After the lecture the young men of the town gave a pleasant social dance, where many of the visiting teachers spent a pleasant hour or so.

At the Wednesday morning session D. J. Sullivan, former superintendent of schools in San Francisco, spoke on "Primary Reading," R. F. Robinson on "Primary Language," Frank Robinson on "Geography," and D. J. Sullivan on "Conditions in San Francisco." In the afternoon State Superintendent Ackerman was present for the first time during the session, having been unavoidably delayed in leaving Salem. The superintendent rounded out the already rich program in two separate talks on general educational topics, which were chock full of excellent suggestions and pointers to all teachers.

The following instructors were present to assist Superintendent Daily in the work of the institute: J. H. Ackerman, B. F. Mulkey, R. F. Robinson, W. F. Cameron, Miss Cornelia Marvin, M. B. Signs, Chas. H. Jones, J. Percy Wells, Lincoln Savage, D. J. Sullivan, Frank Robinson, Miss

Tou Velle.

Business on Hand.

Many people are going about with a cheerful smile and a light head as though wholly unaware of the fact that the serious business of electing a congressman is before them this fall.

They go to watering places, also to butter-milking places and several other places that might be mentioned, giving no thought to the serious business of self government to which they must soon attend.

Apparently, as far as they are concerned, any old dub will do for a congressman, but the roar they put up when congress meets and does not pass a bill to pension their mothers-in-law is calculated to make people a block away think that some one is trying the horn of his new auto on the natives. Eternal vigilance may be the price of liberty, but a careful search of their clothes would not disclose the price.

Chance of a Lifetime.

"Her daughter is going to marry the landlord."
"I suppose she is greatly pleased."
"Oh, tickled to death."
"He must be a great catch?"
"Oh, it isn't that. She has rented from him for eight years and she is just dying to serve a term as his mother-in-law."

Couldn't Do It.

"Now," said young Sapeld grandly, "I never talk scandal."
"No," murmured Miss D. Mure softly. "It would be so unbecoming, you know, as you always talk about yourself."

Scenery Didn't Count.

"Were the places you visited attractive?"
"Yes, indeed. They have the loveliest lot of souvenir postals that you ever saw."

The Afterclap.

In the spring the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love, and he marries merry Mary. While the organ plays above. In the fall he sits and wonders as the leaves begin to turn. Where he's going to get the money for the coal they'll need to burn.

People are Waking Up on the orchard proposition in the Rogue River Valley. A good orchard on the right kind of land is very attractive.

The right kind of an orchard will prove a bonanza; the wrong kind is sure to prove a "white elephant" on the owner's hands. A man who is not in touch with the orchard business cannot put you right on the proposition any more than a blind man can lead a blind man. If you want to avoid getting left with a "white elephant" on your hands, do business with the Rogue River Land Company, Medford, Oregon.

They are in touch with the orchard business, thoroughly familiar with every tract in the valley, know what each district is best adapted for, and they will see that you are put right in every instance. Every man who has ever bought through this agency can sell to-day for a great advance over his purchase price. This is endorsement enough. Consult any business man, bank or orchardman in the valley as to their reliability.
