

CENTRAL POINT HERALD

LANCASTER & PATTISON, PUBLISHERS
S. A. PATTISON, EDITOR.
J. E. LANCASTER, BUSINESS MANAGER

An independent local newspaper devoted to the interests of Central Point and the Rogue River Valley. Published Every Thursday. Subscription price, $1.50 per year, in advance.

Entered as Second-class Matter, May 4, 1906, at the Post Office at Central Point, Oregon, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

President Roosevelt recommended in his message that school boys should be provided with rifles and drilled in the art of expert marksmanship. Of course the President is supposed to be right about all such strenuous matters; but here is one humble editor who serves notice that, if Young America is to be armed with anything more dangerous than the present-day "bean shooter," he will quit business and "skidoo" for the tall timber. We're not hankering for any "peek-a-boo" effect finish on our anatomy.

Teddy, the second, is just now dividing the honors of public attention with his illustrious daddy. Young Rosey has, within the week, been reported engaged to a chorus girl, and has been initiated into the order of Dickey boys at Harvard. This entitles him to a position in the limelight and to have his picture in the daily papers.

A Portland minister said in a sermon last Sunday that "godliness pays even in politics." Wonder how he made this discovery? It hasn't appeared in any recently published newspaper or magazine article touching on politics and politicians that any American politician has tried the experiment.

While the Hood River Valley and the Willamette Valley are scrapping about the excellence of their apples, the epicures of the world are busily muncing the Rogue River Valley product and declaring, "Never tasted anything so good in my life," and, after all, that's what counts.

Eugene Guard to the Front.

The Eugene Daily Guard last Saturday issued a most excellent special edition of 32 pages, every one of which is replete with valuable information and excellent illustrations of the resources and industries of Eugene and Lane County.

The Guard is to be congratulated on having a location in a community whose progressive citizens make such an edition as was issued last week possible and the city of Eugene is also to be congratulated on having a newspaper which possesses the high degree of merit that the Guard does in bringing that city and surrounding community to the front.

People who are disposed to poke fun at the Willamette Valley should secure a copy of the Guard's special edition and then make an effort to bring their own towns up to the Eugene standard—as indicated by the appearance of this number of the Guard—before indulging in any further pleasanties.

Table Rockets

Intended for last issue. Those in charge of the Christmas tree entertainment report that our people have subscribed liberally, and that all families will be represented.

Two Sams Valleyites were discussing the new hitching rack at Central Point the other day. Said Will: "It is too darn far from town. I just as well hitch my team at Agate." Said John: "It fits me fine. When I want to start for home I can take a swig from my little old flask and not have the Central Point girls turning their noses up at me. — Sarvy?"

T. C. Law and family were visiting relatives here Sunday.

Thanksgiving was a dull day here. No school, no mail and no roast turkey.

Read that article in last week's Mail and then kick yourself for not having located at Table Rock. We have room for a few more, and they should come early before the rush that letter will make.

Eighth Grade Examinations.

A recent circular letter from State Superintendent Ackerman's office gives the following information concerning the Eighth Grade Final Examinations. Four examinations will be held during the year 1907, as follows:
January 21-25; May 16-17; June 13-14; September 19-20.

The following program will be given:
Thursdays—Arithmetic, Writing, History, and Civil Government.

Fridays—Grammar, Physiology, Geography, and Spelling.

Questions in the following subjects will be taken from the following sources:

Geography—State Course of Study; the course print in Frye's Elements of Geography; map questions in both course and fine print of Frye's Elements of Geography.

Spelling—Eighty per cent from miscellaneous test words in Reed's Word Lessons, and twenty per cent from manuscript.

Writing—Specimens of penmanship as indicated in copied matter and from manuscripts.

Language—Reed's Graded Lessons in English, no diagramming.
Civil Government—United States Constitution.

History—List of topics from History Outline in State Course of Study and Current Events.

Growing Aches and Pains

Mrs. Josie Sumner, Bremond, Tex., writes, April 15, 1902: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for three years. I would not be without it in the house. I have used it for my little girl for growing pains and aches in her knees. It cured her right away. I have also used it for frost bitten feet, with good success. It is the best liniment I ever used." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Central Point Pharmacy.
