Table Rockets

(Intended for last week.)
James Vincent and his header crew are finishing up the last of the grain and expect to be done Wednesday. Then we will all be in readiness for the thresher.

Rev. A. C. Howlett conducted religious services in the school house Sunday morning.

Miss Margaret Nealon finished a successful term of school in the Bergeman district July 31.

Mr. Frank Strang, who has been in the employ of Col. Washburn, is moving his family to Medford, where he will enter the service of the Burrell orchard as foreman.

Some of our ladies have organized a sewing society, which meets weekly.

The residence of Joseph Mayfield, in the Meadows, was destroyed by fire recently. Joe was absent in the field when the fire started and, he being a bachelor, of course no one was present, and when the neighbors got there they could save nothing but an organ.

Fire has been raging in Sams valley hills for several days and has done much damage to fencing and timber and filled the valley with smoke.

Job work of all kinds neatly done at this office. Call and see samples.

HERALD OFFICE,

Central Point, Oregon.

The czar's one-year-old boy already receives a salary of $50,000 a year. And still some people wonder that Russia is infested with nihilism and all that.

Very few of the big ones of history were able, like Roosevelt, to say on leaving the limelight, "I've had a perfectly working time here."

An English paper declares that the socialistic agitation is discouraging thrift, because socialists think there is a division at hand and are not inclined to increase their possessions to divide with others. In order to reap benefit from the division they reduce their own belongings to a small figure.
