VOL. 3 CENTRAL POINT, OREGON, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1908. NO. 25

Local and Personal

K. D. Jones was in from Beagle on business Monday.
T. M. Witten visited at Ashland during the week.
The ladies of the M. E. church will serve dinner on Thanksgiving day.
Preaching services every Sabbath at the Baptist church at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Remember the dates for Dr. Davis, the dentist, Central Point, October 12th to 17th.

BORN—Monday, October 5, 1908, to Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Klum, of this city, a boy.

October 12th to 17th is the next date for Dr. Davis, the dentist, in his Central Point office.

Dr. Rawhouser reports the advent of a fine boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wagner, yesterday morning.

Mrs. Will Avery, formerly of this place, now residing at Roseburg, is here this week visiting relatives and friends.

Work is progressing on the new residence being erected just east of town by P. B. Simpkins. The cottage is a neat and modern one.

A number of the young men of the town are arranging for a social dance to be given in the opera house on the evening of October 17th.

Senator A. J. Beveridge, of Indiana, spoke at Medford yesterday afternoon from a special train on which he is making a stumping tour of the country.

Regular services at the Christian church next Sunday, morning and evening. Subject in the evening, "Is Conscience a Guide in Religion?" K. H. Sickafosse, Minister.

FOR SALE—A first-class parlor organ in good condition and practically as good as new. Have purchased another instrument and do not need this one. Inquire of F. A. Hawk.

BRICK FOR SALE—I have a good quality of brick for sale at $12 per 1000. $11.00 in quantities of 1000 or more. Ladders and step-ladders also for sale. —C. B. Rostel.

Mrs. J. W. Merritt returned from Portland Monday morning, where she went a couple of weeks ago to put her daughter, Miss Esther, in school. Miss Merritt is a student in the Portland Academy.

Attention is called to the new ad of the Medford Tea and Coffee House on another page of this impression. This firm will be found on West 7th street and have a most attractive line of goods to show you.

Initial steps have been taken here to institute a lodge of the Order of Eastern Star in this city and it is expected that the dispensation will be received and the lodge formally instituted within the next few weeks.

FOR SALE—Full-blood 3-year-old Jersey bull. Will sell cheap or exchange for well bred young animal that I can use. Call at old Murray place, Willow Springs precinct, 2 1/2 miles northwest of Central Point, or address J. M. Munkers, Central Point, Oregon.

Christian Science services are held every Sunday morning in the Masonic lodge room, opera house building, at 11:00 o'clock. All are invited to attend these services. Subject for Sunday, October 11th, "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?"

Attention is directed to the advertisement of the Central Point State Bank on page one of this issue. This bank is rated as one of the most substantial institutions of its kind in the West and every customer is assured of not only safe and conservative banking methods but also of courteous treatment in his dealings with the bank.

The building occupied by T. M. Jones' furniture store is being pretty thoroughly overhauled and remodeled. A new roof has replaced the old one, and inside the ceiling has been raised and the walls relined with ceiling. The improvements will give Mr. Jones considerably more room in which to display his Fall and Winter stock of goods.

J. P. Hoagland and family and Mr. Hoagland's mother, Mrs. S. C. Minnick, expect to leave Sunday for Los Angeles and other Southern California points, where they will spend the Winter. Mr. Hoagland has long been a periodical sufferer from rheumatism, and since selling his orchard he has decided to try a change of climate for a few months as a remedial measure. They will return in the early Spring.

It is said that three of the stingiest men in the state were in town yesterday. One of them will not drink as much water as he wants unless it be from another man's well. The second forbids any of his family from writing anything but a "small hand" as it is a waste of ink to make large letters. The third stops his clock at night in order to save wear and tear on the machinery. All of them decline to take their home paper on the ground that it is a terrible strain on their spectacles to read newspapers, even in the day time.

Council Meets.

Council met in regular session Monday evening, with chairman of the council Kyle in the chair in the absence of Mayor Hopkins. Routine business was disposed of and regular bills were audited and allowed. The resignation of T. M. Witten, city treasurer, was read and upon motion was accepted and after some discussion as to an available person to fill the vacancy Wayman Warner was appointed.

J. E. Ross, city marshal, filed his resignation with the Mayor a few days ago and that office was declared vacant and the matter of filling the vacancy was taken up. Ira Love, being the only applicant for the position, was appointed to fill both the positions of marshal and street commissioner at a salary of $50 per month. The appointment was duly approved by the council.

The profile and field notes of the survey recently completed by R. F. C. Astbury, city engineer, was filed with the council, and by direction of the chairman the engineer was requested to file with the report an affidavit certifying to the correctness of the survey.

An order was made on the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Co. to remove their poles from Pine street into the alley, the present position of the poles being such as to interfere with the construction of the new cement sidewalks. A similar order was made to the Rogue River Electric Company to remove their light poles on Pine street to a line outside the curb and gutter. Council adjourned to meet Tuesday evening to consider other business.

Bakery Changes Hands.

Herman Turrill has sold the Central Point Bakery to George Schiller, of Jacksonville, who will conduct the business in the future. Mr. Turrill has built up an excellent business here, but he has worked hard to do so and now feels that he needs a rest for awhile, so has quit business for the present and will take things easy for a season. Mr. Schiller has been in the baking business about all his life and recently sold his place at the county seat.

LUMBER BARGAIN.

We have for sale 150,000 feet of 4 and 6 inch old-fashioned bevel siding at from $13.00 to $22.00 per thousand feet, surface measure, at our mill.

Extra for delivering the same f. o. b. cars in any quantity at the following points: Woodville 75c; Gold Hill $1.00; Central Point $1.25; Medford $1.40; Ashland $1.70 per M.

The cheaper grades are plenty good enough for ordinary buildings. This style of siding makes buildings look nicer and turns wind and water better than rustic.

GRANTS PASS BOX CO.,

Grants Pass, Ore.

New Walks Needed.

Stuart McKissick, civil engineer, came down from Medford yesterday to set the grade stakes for the new cement sidewalks. It is probable all the property owners on Pine street between Front and Fourth streets will lay new walks at once, as most of the old walks are in bad condition, some of them being actually dangerous to walk over.

Under the ordinance all walks not on grade may be condemned by the city council and new walks ordered, and the new walks must in all cases be of cement to comply with the provisions of the ordinance.

Another Runaway.

C. S. Sanderson, the real estate man, is bound to keep things moving some old way and when business is a little dull for half a day or so he keeps the wind stirring with a runaway or something or other. Saturday evening Mr. Sanderson unhitched his driving mare from the hitching rack at the city hall and when about to get in the buggy the animal started to run, throwing Mr. Sanderson to the ground and dragging him for a considerable distance. The mare made connection with an electric light pole at the Pleasants hotel corner, where she demolished the buggy to a fare-you-well, after which she quietly allowed herself to be caught and led home. Mr. Sanderson was somewhat bruised, but fortunately was not seriously injured. He thinks the mare jumped at least 30 feet the first jump and that he went some 20 feet in the air. Mr. Sanderson says he first thought he would hold to the lines and stay in the race, but on second thought he concluded that the pace was too hot for him and that for once in his life he was out-classed in the get-there game. He thinks of training the mare for the races next Fall.

Hesselgrave—Alexander.

Mr. Fred Hesselgrave and Miss Hallie Alexander, both well known and popular young people of this city, were married at Ashland last Wednesday. Rev. Mellinder of the Christian church of that city performing the ceremony. The happy young couple took a short wedding trip to California, returning to this city Sunday evening. Many friends will unite in best wishes.

RECENT DEATHS.

Rush.

Mrs. Ina Bell (Alexander) Rush, wife of Ray C. Rush and eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alexander, of this city, passed away Sunday afternoon at her home on Manzanita street, aged 21 years, 11 months and 15 days.

Deceased was born in Chanute, Kansas, November 19, 1886. She came to Oregon to visit with relatives about two years ago, and later her father disposed of his business in Kansas and removed his family to this place. She was married to Mr. Rush August 10, 1907, and for several months they have resided here. Before her marriage Mrs. Rush was in charge of the Central telephone office here and in that capacity she made many friends by her happy and obliging disposition. Besides her heartbroken husband, parents and sister she leaves a baby boy, born Saturday morning. The earnest sympathy of the entire community goes forth to the sorrowing ones in this their great bereavement.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon from the First Christian church, Rev. K. H. Sickafosse conducting the services. The interment was in the Central Point cemetery.

Jonas.

Prof. James A. Jonas, of Eagle Point, for many years a teacher in the public schools of Jackson County, died last Saturday, aged about 55 years. A widow and two sons survive him.

The funeral was held Monday, interment being in the Central Point cemetery.

The Medford Fair.

The second annual exhibition of the Southern Oregon District Fair was held in Medford last week, closing Saturday evening. The weather was against the success of the enterprise the first two days, but on Saturday the conditions were perfect and an immense crowd was present. It is estimated that fully 5000 people were present at the races in the afternoon.

The exhibits were not what they should have been in this favored valley, but, considering the off year for all kinds of crops and the fact that it takes time to arouse public interest in such a project, they were perhaps as good as could reasonably have been expected.

Such an exhibition is of great value to the county if the proper interest is taken and it is to be hoped that by another year the display of products for which this section of the state is famous will be more extensive than it was this year. The committee in charge doubtless did all in their power to secure exhibits; but two or three men cannot do all. An aroused public interest is necessary to make such undertakings fully successful.

Pull Together.

The upbuilding of a place and its general prosperity does not depend entirely upon the cash which each and every one of its inhabitants has tucked away in the banks against a rainy day, or can draw cheques for. Not by a long chalk! That counts for very little. A man with a few dollars at his command and the love of his own town deep in his heart, can do more for its upbuilding and improvement than the multi-millionaire who locks his ducats in the vault and snaps his fingers at what is going on and being done around him.

When any matter is on foot, it is the long pull, the strong pull and the all pull together that does the business and brings about results every time. —Peoples Press.

A Good Dairy Record.

Tyson Beall, one of the progressive farmers of this section, is rather proud—and with good reason—of the September milk record of his herd of high grade Jerseys. Mr. Beall is milking only 11 cows at the present time, a number of which are young animals with their first calves, but his September check for milk sales amounts to $116.69, or an average of better than $10.60 per cow. This gives him better than $15.00 per ton for his hay, besides giving him an additional profit in the separated milk which is fed to young pigs, while the benefit to the land in feeding his hay at home and returning the fertilizing values to the soil is considerable. Mr. Beall will milk 20 head of cows during the Winter.

People Will Vote on Water Supply.

The beginning of the end of Medford's water squabble seems to be in sight. At a council meeting Monday afternoon the council, by a unanimous vote, decided to put the entire proposition up to the people to be voted on at a special election to be called for that purpose November 2nd. Ten days are to be allowed for the different promoters who think they have water to sell to the city to get their proposals in shape for the ballot; then 15 days will be allowed in which to advertise the election.

The Condor Water and Power Company, the Fish Lake Company and the Sterling Company are sure to submit proposals, but Mr. Hanley, who owns the Wasson canyon water, is undecided whether he will submit his proposition to a popular vote or not. Mr. Hanley is quoted as saying, however, that he is certain of one thing and that is that he proposes to see to it that no one else sells his water, which is taken to mean that he will dispute in the courts any attempt of the Fish Lake people to sell water to Medford. The proposition that wins in the election must have a clear majority over all competitors and in case none has such a majority, then the two projects having the highest vote will be resubmitted at another election, the result of which will definitely settle the question.

With Wasson canyon eliminated from the race the fight will be between the Condor people, Fish Lake and the Sterling, unless a proposal to bring in Big Butte should be submitted, which is hardly probable because of the cost being too great for Medford to bear alone.

With the Fish Lake right questioned by Mr. Hanley and the Sterling right disputed by the Applegate farmers, many citizens of Medford are of the opinion that the Condor Co. has the best of the fight on the start, especially when it is considered that their bid is very much lower than the lowest of their competitors. Their absolute right to an unlimited supply of water is undisputed and their cheap pumping facilities and apparently fair proposition is said to make their proposal a favorite among the people.

Judge Neil Urges Experting County Books.

County court met in regular session yesterday and during the session Judge Neil is again urging the necessity of having the county books examined by an expert accountant. It will be remembered that at the last meeting Judge Neil urged the same matter, but Commissioners Patterson and Owens would have none of it. Since that time the grand jury has been in session and that body made an earnest recommendation that the books be experted without further delay. The grand jury was composed of representative citizens of the county and their report may be taken as an expression of the wishes of the people of the county as a whole. It remains to be seen whether the two commissioners will continue their opposition to a business proposition that the people who pay the taxes so urgently demand.
