VOL. 4 CENTRAL POINT, OREGON, THURSDAY, JULY 15, 1909. NO. 13

All Bids Rejected.

At an adjourned meeting of the town council Monday evening, he'd for the purpose of opening and considering the purchase of $25,000 5 per cent 30 year water bonds, it was found that but two bids had been received, one from the Central Point State bank for a portion of the issue at par and one from S. A. Kohn & Co., bankers, of Chicago, who submitted a bid for the entire amount at par less $2495 for expense of furnishing bonds, attorneys fees, etc. The bidders however, indicated that at a better interest rate they would be willing to pay a handsome premium for the paper.

It appears that money is in such demand in the eastern centers just now and is commanding such high rates of interest that five per cent investments even on strictly gilt edged securities, such as Central Point is offering, does not look good to capitalists. It was therefore decided to reject all bids received and to readvertise the issue at six per cent. Bids will be opened Monday evening, August 2nd. The re-advertisement will cause some delay in getting work started on construction but it seems to be unavoidable and with active work it will still be possible to complete the system before winter.

In the matter of the passage of a fire limit ordinance the ordinance committee reported that they had been unable to get a proper ordinance drafted and asked until Wednesday evening to complete the work, which was granted, and the council adjourned to that date.

Gigantic Electrical Proposition.

A mortgage was filed in Wasco county the other day from the Wasco County Electric & Power Co., to the Carnegie Trust Co., of New York, to secure a $15,000,000 bond issue for the purpose of constructing an immense power plant on the Deschutes river and building an electric road from Portland over the Cascade range and through Eastern Oregon, Idaho and into Montana. An auxiliary company, known as the Portland, Baker City & Butte railroad, has been organized to build the railroad and it is said that work will be commenced August 1st. The first 117 miles of the road, from Portland to the Deschutes river, will be operated by steam until the road is completed to the Deschutes and the power plant on that river is completed. The principal place of business of the new company will be at Condon, and a branch of the road will connect that city with the main line of the road at Burnt ranch, in Wheeler county.

County Court Will Aid Orchardists.

Last Thursday morning the County Court agreed to pay the expenses of Prof. P. J. O'Gara, the fruit expert of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, who was about to be recalled by the department because of lack of federal funds with which to meet his expenses. The court also appointed two additional deputy fruit inspectors to assist the County inspector in looking after the welfare of the orchards.

A committee of representative orchardists, selected by the fruit men of the valley, waited on the County court and presented the matter, showing the urgent need of more stringent restrictions on the selection of young trees as well as looking after the pests already in evidence in the older orchards. J. W. Myers, of Central Point, was appointed to look after the Central Point and Medford districts and J. C. Aitkin, of Woodville, for the Woodville Gold Hill section. J. L. Smith, of Ashland, is the present deputy for the upper end of the valley and G. W. Taylor, present fruit inspector, will remain in general charge of the work a l over the county.

Prof. O'Gara has been in the valley for almost a year and his work has been of a highly satisfactory order, and of great benefit to the fruit industry.

It is claimed of the 1200 different known fruit pests, but 22 have as yet made their appearance here and it is with the end in view of preventing the introduction of others that the present active campaign is being planned.

It is estimated that the expenses of Prof. O'Gara will amount to about $100 a month while the deputies will receive from the county $3.00 a day and expenses while they are employed at the work.

Teams have been engaged for some time hauling ore in from the mine the last loads being expected in tomorrow. The ore assays very high in values and the intention is to make a practical smelter test from this car in order to demonstrate exactly what values can be realized net from shipping.

The mine is one of the most promising in all of Southern Oregon and the owners expect to realize handsome profits from hauling and shipping to the smelter.

in Justice Court.

Judge T. M. Jones' court was busy Thursday afternoon when C. S. Sanderson, the well known local real estate man, was haled before the court on a charge of assault and battery preferred by W. J. Boosey, of North Jacksonville precinct. Boosey was also haled into the temple of justice at the same time and place on a charge preferred by Sanderson of an assault with a dangerous weapon.

The double header case was an echo of the old time boundary dispute between Mr. Boosey and former owners of the Sanderson farm, which has been a disturbing element in the circuit and supreme courts of the state since away back in the early days when Mount McLaughlin is said to have been a hole in the ground and Crater Lake is alleged to have been a towering, snow-capped mountain peak. A few feet of land was the pawn and the game was played as though millions depended on the result.

In the present case it appears that the old wound was opened by the attempt of Boosey to raze a fence on land claimed by Sanderson as his own and when Sandy protested it is alleged that Boosey made a pass at him with a Rooseveltian club whereupon Sandy dodged the impending calamity and countered on Mr. Boosey's jaw with his right.

Mr. Boosey immediately sought the district attorney and swore to a complaint as above indicated, and probably to show a sociable spirit and to keep the good work going forward Sanderson took the next move by bringing counter charges.

At the appointed time the wheels of justice began to grind and while they may not have, like the mills of the gods, "ground exceeding small," they handled the grist so quickly that before either party could say scat they were both bound over to keep the peace in the sum of $250 each. Hon. B. F. Mulkey, district attorney, appeared for the state and Judge Wedekin, of this city, handled the defense. After hearing some testimony on both sides the two limbs of the law got their heads together and framed up an Oregon Compromise that resulted in putting both defendants and complainants, and each was both, under peace bonds. The charge against Sanderson was dismissed.

"You can't do such a thing as that," asserted a citizen to the judge after court adjourned. "Well, we did do it," replied his honor, "and we done it with the approval of both lawyers and at least one complainant and one defendant. Shouldn't that make it mighty nigh unanimous."

Commercial Club Meets.

At a regular meeting of the Commercial club Wednesday evening of last week routine business was attended to and a few bills were audited and allowed. An informal discussion relative to the need of improvements in the mail service, the installation of a telegraph office and other matters of importance was had. On motion the chair appointed T. M. Jones, A. L. Aitkins and J. O. Isaacson as a committee to investigate the matter and to take action looking to a remedy.

Work Begin At Ray Dam Fishway.

Work on repairing and remodeling the fish ladder at Gold Ray was begun Wednesday under direction of Deputy Fish Warden Brown of Portland. As soon as finished work on the new fish ladder at the Ament dam will be begun. Saturday Master Fish Warden H. A. McAllister visited both dams.

Colone Ray at once placed a dozen men at Mr. Brown's disposal and showed his willingness to co-operate in every way possible way with the authorities to make the fish ladder perfect. He has spent some $10,000 on fishways and hopes this time to finish the work for all time. Beyond some damage done by the high water of last winter, the fishway is practically as it was a year ago, when it was officially accepted by the authorities.

Practically no salmon are in the river so far, only one light run, which lasted a day, having reached the dam this year.—Tribune.

A Human Bull Dog.

C. E. Bailey, a well known resident of the Beagle district, across Rogue river, came to town Monday afternoon to have a terrible wound on his face attended to which he alleges was inflicted by the teeth of William Scott in a fight between the two men that day. A section of skin and flesh the size of a half dollar was bitten entirely away from the man's chin and another serious wound on his forehead was further evidence of Scott's bull dog proclivities.

According to Bailey's story Scott accused Bailey of lying to him about a hog. Bailey denied the accusation and after a few words Scott struck at Bailey, who parried the blow when Scott rushed grabbed him around the waist and fastened his teeth in Bailey's chin. Bailey attempted to choke his assailant but his heavy gloves prevented him from doing so when another man mixed in the melee and struck Bailey in the back knocking both men over. As they fell the piece of flesh held in Scott's teeth gave way baring the jaw bone. After getting to their feet Scott again rushed Bailey and fastened his teeth in the latter's arm, clinging to it with the tenacity of a madened brute until Bailey secured a rock with his free hand and pounded Scott on the head until his hold gave way. Bailey at once came to town to have his injuries attended to by a surgeon bringing the detached piece of his chin with him hoping that it might be grafted to place again but the surgeons found it impossible to do successfully. The man will be disfigured for life if he is fortunate enough to escape death from blood poisoning which is so often a result of being bitten by a human being.

Poor Mail Service.

That Central Point is not the only town in the valley in which dissatisfaction exists regarding the present mail service is shown by the following from the Medford Tribune:

Much complaint exists throughout the valley on account of poor mail service resultant on the change of schedules. Train No. 16, which carried the north-bound mail, no longer takes it, but it goes on train No. 14. In consequence, letters mailed in Medford, Ashland and other points are not distributed in Portland until the following afternoon, and it is no longer possible to get mail to the people in the valley on the day letters are written.

Central Point has the poorest mail service in its history—virtually one mail a day. The complaint is loud and universal. There seems no excuse for switching the mail car to No. 14, which is a fast train, and as each car added reduces the speed, it prevents another sleeper being carried to increase accommodations for the traveling public.

Jacksonville is also bewailing its poor mail service. The Barnum road has switched the mail from the 6 o'clock train to the 3:30 and in consequence most of the Medford mail is received the day after it is written, including the newspapers.

The best way to remedy this condition is for all the towns in the valley to unite in asking for a change. The former arrangement by which the north bound evening mail was carried on 16 was as good as was possible to have and there seems to be no good reason why the change was made. Let us all get together and urge a return of the old regime.

Mrs. W. M. George was recently called to Cottage Grove by the serious illness of her father.

Officials Have Troubles.

Union, Ore., July 12—The proposed recall of Mayor Law and the entire council received a temporary setback this morning when the administration called a special meeting and accepted the resignation of Recorder Hapner, leaving the city without a recorder. Hence the recall petition cannot be filed as there is no proper official to call the election petitioned for by the people.

The matter will be taken into court immediately unless the council appoints a recorder. There is much bad feeling. Mayor Law and Councilman Pratt are under arrest. Law is accused of killing game out of season, and Pratt in connection with taking beer away from one of the local ball players at the Fourth of July celebration. Today a warrant was issued for the arrest of Special Policeman Wolfe charged with confiscating a bottle from visitors during the celebration, which contained soda instead of liquor. He is accused of highway robbery. More sensational developments are pending.

A prisoner in the county jail at Jacksonville who was thwarted in an attempt to escape last week attempted suicide by hanging himself with a towel that night. A fellow prisoner in an adjoining cell reached through the bars with an old case knife and cut the rope at the opportune moment, but the would be shuffler off of this mortal coil was unconscious for some time. His name is Wilson and he was sent up from Ashland on a burglary charge and is looked upon as a bad man.

Bowel Complaint in Children

When six months old the little daughter of E. N. Dewey, a well known merchant of Agnewville, Va., had an attack of cholera infantum. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was given and effected a complete cure. This remedy has proven very successful in cases of bowel complaint in children and when given according to the plain printed directions can be relied upon with perfect confidence. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to young children. For sale by Mary A. Mee.
