Judge Hanna Sustains Medford Water Injunction

Judge H. K. Hanna of the circuit court on Monday morning overruled the motion offered by City Attorney Porter J. Neff to dissolve the injunction restraining the city from entering upon the premises of M. F. Haney on Little Butte creek and laying the gravity water line, says the Tribune. The case will now be carried to the supreme court. Until a decision is received there the city will be forced to suspend all work when the line is completed to the Hanley ranch, which will be within the next few days.

For many weeks the citizens of Medford have awaited with much interest for Judge Hanna's decision in this case for it is of vital importance to the city of Medford. Now the city must wait such time as the case can be decided in the supreme court of the state.

One of the interesting features of the case will be the testing of the validity of the statute under which Governor Benson issued orders to Judge John J. Coke of the Second district to come to this district and hold a term of court to try the case. If this statute is unconstitutional as Attorney A. E. Reames contends, then Judge Coke will be out of a job.

It will be remembered that Judge Coke came to this district and held a special term of court and a jury awarded Mr. Haney $600 damages. This judgment was held up by Attorney Reames, who secured a temporary injunction preventing the city from entering upon the land. A motion to dissolve by Attorney Neff has just been overruled.

Open Season for Quail Eriday.

The open season for quail begins tomorrow (Friday) and hunters should get wise to the restrictions of the law with regard to this game bird. It should be noted that shooting from any public highway is forbidden, and it is not permissible to shoot within any enclosed property without the permission of the owner.

The section on quail reads as follows: "It shall be unlawful within the county on Jackson and Josephine to hunt, pursue, take, kill, injure, destroy or have in possession, or to sell or offer for sale, barter or exchange any quail at any time between the 15th day of December of each year and the 15th day of October of the following year, and it shall be unlawful in said counties during the open season and when it is lawful to hunt or kill the same, to kill, capture, destroy or have in possession any greater number than ten of the game birds enumerated in this section in any one day or more than twenty in said birds in any seven consecutive days. (L. 1909, p. 417.)"

The limit is placed at five in one day and ten in one week.

Coal from Cascade Mine Of Splendid Quality

The first load of coal from the Cascade mine was taken to Medford by Contractor C. Stambaugh Saturday afternoon. The coal is of a very good character, easily the best fuel taken from any of the coal mines, and as the coal is taken out in development work, it will be marketed here as fuel.

The Cascade is the finest north of the three properties owned by the syndicate headed by Col. J. F. Mundy and is considered by many the most promising of all. A double track tunnel is being driven into the coal, which has a working face of between seven and eight feet of good commercial coal.

Col. Mundy returned from Portland Monday and states that development work on the Cascade will be continued steadily.

Native Chaldean Here.

Rev. Merza, a native Chaldean, and who was born on almost the identical spot on which Abraham first saw the light, was here last Sunday morning and addressed a large audience in the First Christian church. The Chaldeans lay claim to the distinction of being the only primitive christians who have steadfastly adhered to the christian faith as promulgated by Jesus and his disciples, having never apostatized through all the centuries. Stephen, it is claimed was the first to preach the new faith in Chaldean in A. D. 32 and in A. D. 42 Thomas went there and organized the church. Mr. Merza's lecture is filled with interest and the large audience present was at once instructed and entertained.

Sunday School Convention.

Belknap and Mr. J. F. Hutchason, of Medford. The closing session was held last evening when Rev. J. V. Milligan, field superintendent of the Oregon Sunday School association, delivered an inspiring address.

Has Husband Arrested; Then Released

Franklyn W. Maple, one of the publishers of the Rogue Valley Record, was taken into custody by Sheriff Wilbur Jones last Thursday afternoon and taken to Jacksonville, where he was lodged in the county jail to await an examination before County Judge Neil on a charge of insanity, which had been preferred by his wife and business associate, Mrs. Evelyn Maple. The examination was held Saturday but evidence sufficiently strong to convince the court that the man was a proper subject for the insane asylum not being forthcoming he was discharged. Mrs. Maple then went before Justice of the Peace Dox and swore to a complaint charging her husband with threatening to kill. A hearing was given the accused man, and upon the evidence adduced Justice Dox held Maple to the grand jury in the sum of $500 bail. Maple, however, was released on his own recognizance and given until Monday to secure bondsmen. He came to Central Point Saturday evening, and it seems that on Sunday the couple patched up their differences, as on Monday morning they visited a number of citizens and business men in an effort to secure satisfactory signatures to his bond. Failing in this, however, the couple drove to Jacksonville Monday afternoon where Mrs. Maple asked for a dismissal of the case stating that they had settled their differences and were again living together. It is understood that this was agreed to and that the case was allowed to remain open until Mrs. Maple can settle the accrued costs when the case is to be dismissed.

Maple has been in Central Point for several months being employed for some time as a printer in the Herald office. After leaving that office it appears he conceived the idea that a second newspaper and print shop would be a highly profitable business in Central Point, and being without sufficient funds, it is said, to embark in business on his own account, he advertised in a Portland paper for a partner who could finance his project. The present Mrs. Maple, then Mrs. Pillsbury, of Port and, came here in response to the advertisement, bought a printing plant and a few days later the couple were married. Since that time there have been frequent rumors of indications of lack of harmony within the firm the recent proceedings in court being the latest outcome.

WANTED—Capable woman or girl to assist with house work, washing, ironing, etc. two or three days in the week. Enquire at this office.

- III Thou shalt patronize thine own merchant, also the printer, and they shall patronize thee.
- IV Thou shalt pay thy bills promptly, that thy credit may be good in the land where thou dwellest, and thy neighbors greet thee gladly; then deposit thy surplus in home banks.

Will Consider Community Advertising

A special meeting of the commercial club will be held next Monday evening, October 18th, when William Bittle Wells, manager of the community publicity department of the Southern Pacific company, will be present to discuss with the club members a proposition to advertise Central Point and locality through the community advertising plan of that company which has been so successfully employed by almost all the progressive towns in Oregon.

When the club was organized last Spring a proposition fund of more than $1000 was subscribed by the business men citizens and a large amount of this fund is now available. The club issued a small folder early in the summer but beyond that nothing has been done towards inaugurating a systematic advertising campaign. The governing board of the club however, have decided to consider the Southern Pacific plan and for that purpose the Monday evening meeting is called that all members may have the opportunity of getting first hand information regarding the plan from Mr. Wells himself.

An extract from Mr. Wells' letter to the club will give a general idea of the plan:

"What you want to do, of course, is to interest people in Central Point and vicinity. The way to do this is to tell them about your community. That means that you must advertise Central Point and issue literature to send to inquirers. Our experience has proven that any publicity campaign for a community that is not based on good literature is a mistake.

"We have various propositions to make to commercial organizations (at the lowest amount when we ask a community to pay is $1200.00. We add $5.00 now practically to every dollar that a community pays, so that by paying to the Southern Pacific Company $1200.00 you get an advertising campaign that is easily worth $7,000 or more.

"Our complete plan which you would get for $1200.00 calls for the highest class of work along all lines. It furnishes photographers, artists and writers at your disposal for a year, three or four units of value literature, advertising in Sunset Magazine and elsewhere, and many other important features."

All members of the club are expected to be present at this meeting.

Choice Fruit For Portland Exhibit

A. L. Aitkins, collector of fruits, etc., for the permanent exhibit at Portland, shipped his first consignment yesterday consisting of a very fine apple of the Thompson seedling grape from the vineyard of J. W. Hicks, in the Willow Springs neighborhood. One bunch of these grapes weighed 23 pounds. Besides the grapes Mr. Aitkins has secured some very fine pears from the orchards of W. G. Goffe and D. McKillopp and some corn equal to the Missouri product from Dr. Hilstrom. Other samples are in sight and will soon have an exhibit in Portland second to no part of the state.

Weston Offered Handsome Adviance

Frank Weston who bought 10 acres of the Norcross orchard last winter at $1500 an acre, or $15000 for the 12 acres, was offered $23000 for the place, an advance of $8000 within a few months. It is estimated that the present crop will bring $3000 to $4000. And yet some people have been telling us for years that the limit has long ago been reached in Rogue River orchard values.
