Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH
PERT PARAGRAPHS.

PERHAPS the reason some places seem so untidy and disorderly is because there are so many broken resolutions lying round under foot, cumbering the ground.

With some people it is never too late to be later.

The way to keep out of a quarrel is to have the first word and not use it.

Commander Peery now can feel that he has one perfectly good north pole and so will be able to keep down his temperature.

The only thing about new clothes that a boy really enjoys is the process of making them old.

Needs Operating On. Will the class in anatomy Please arise And listen while The professor tries His best to explain And to make the thing plain All that is known Concerning Winter's backbone? It is a cold story, Children, From cold storage. This backbone Of winter Has a way Of lumping itself. Not like the hump On a camel, Oh, no! More like the hump On Greenland's joy mountains. You may handle the subject Without gloves, But it is better To put on Your swollen mittens When you go to it. It has one Peculiarity That you will notice. You think It is broken When It isn't even cracked. One warm day And you say, "Happy!" That'll be all For it. Then right away It throws another fit. Stiffens up Like an alderman under fire, And you say: "Oh, shucks! It is here to stay!"

of Couraas. "Children seem badly reared nowadays."

"But not from ignorance." "No?" "No; there are legions who know all about how they should be trained."

"Indeed! Who are they?" "Those people who have no children."

Modernizing. "Can't we do something to bring this dump up to date?" asked the stage manager.

"What would you suggest?" "You know that line, 'A horse, a horse, my kingdom for a horse!' I thought we might have him ring for his automobile."

The Engagement Ring. "He hasn't any money."

"Is that the reason why she doesn't love him any more?" "No, but it is the reason why she has turned him out into the cold world to hustle up and make good or else she'll ring off."

Disappointments. "What are you crying about, Jimmy?"

"All the other boys get to stay out of school for a week or two except me. I can't have the measles nor have any leg broken nor nothing."

All Done. "He is trying to make a monkey of me."

"He can't do it, though." "You bet he can't."

"Of course not. Nature beat him to it."

Wasted Talents. "I saw Jones filling you up."

"Yes, but does he tell the truth?" "Most artistic liar I ever knew."

"Then why didn't he discover the north pole?"

The Choicest. For lack of cash to keep the pace The best man often misses. The only good things that are free Are kisses.

Depends. "It is easy to lie."

"Not when you have to depend upon the lie to make your living for you."

Reason Enough. "Why did he call it a popular lecture?"

"Because nobody came, I guess."

Man Next Door to Hear From. "He hasn't an enemy in the world."

"How odd is this marvel?" "Oh, about six or eight hours."

Wary of All Cures. "I see you have a very hard cold."

"Thank you. Please don't mention it."

AT BED TIME
The little people are usually afraid of the dark, and a light bed room gives them confidence. But a bed room lighted by open flame methods takes away from the secure feeling of the parents. Use electricity for light and there will be no danger of fire to the tiny ones. They can turn it off and on without danger. Send for the man NOW.
