"5000, IN 1912"

The man who enters business expecting to put all his contemporaries to the bad generally makes a monumental success as a failure.

That one man town never existed that was worth an iota as a commercial point, a home for labor or a place in which to rear a family. There are manufacturing towns controlled by one man power, but such towns are always rotten as Dowie in Zion.

Two copies of the Central Point Herald as samples to Mr. Brandon of Washington and Mr. Daugherty of Kansas is bringing in two new business men and families for the town. Try this method yourself, it will only cost you six cents to boost your town.

A peddler of cheap pot metal shears and various articles which can be purchased at our hardware stores, drug stores and other business places for less money, was doing the town last week and did it plenty. Business was so good that he stayed two days and suckers were as plentiful as flies in dog days.

To support the assembly ticket is very much like doing a sum with the answer printed at the bottom. In other words the political pelicans who pollute, simply ask us to close our political think tanks and connect our franchise pipes with the old sewer, rusted and reeking in rottenness. "Not tonight, Pauline, not tonight."

From every point of the compass in Central Point is heard the sound of the hammer and song of the saw. Absolute confidence in the future of the town is causing men to buy lots and build homes, also to put up substantial business houses. May every town in the county move forward is our wish, you can't lose us, Central Point is in the middle of the push.

No great enterprise was ever brought to successful consummation without a number of "Doubting Thomases" standing around and whining that it would be a failure. This is more than likely the case in the trolley line matter. Big undertakings require time and we are of the opinion that in due time electric cars will be serving the people well from Grants Pass to Ashland.

The attempt of "tenderfeet," who have viewed the west only from the platform of Pullman cars, to dominate the conservation policies of the great western forests, smacks to us of immaculate and corrugated gall. There is neither economy or common sense in withdrawing vast acres of fine merchantable timber from use to mankind and feeding it to the flames, which the policies being pursued by the government increase every year.

We see no reason why the regular army should not be used to guard the forest and prevent the disastrous fires during the months of July, August and September. God knows they are used for nothing else, outside of potlatching and parading and occasionally ordered to join the paw paw militia in forcing the laboring men of the country to submit to the vices of combined capital. Yes, send them to the woods to cut away and burn the underbrush and harass the cotton tail and the cougar, we don't need them in the forts, as the people are weary of "Rastus on Parade."

Many citizens here are putting out shrubbery, and during the next year we will have a city of roses. This fact is due to the splendid new water system.

William J. Clark is making an active campaign for state printer on the flat salary platform and is guaranteeing the taxpayers of the state a saving of $20,000 and there is music in the sound, music.

Everybody should honor and revere an Old Timer, a pioneer who blazed the trail and placed the foundation of a new empire, they were brave, patriotic men, but because some fellow from 'Possomwalk settled here in '69 or '70, is no reason why he should have any more privileges than a man who invested yesterday. Noah was the first man to settle on Ararat after the flood, but he didn't run the country all by himself. There were others.

The forward movement in Central Point is neither due to the dry element nor the wet element, but due to an awakening of all the people and the adoption of progressive methods which cannot fail. The same condition exists in Medford, Jacksonville and Gold Hill, which are wet, and Ashland which is conservatively dry. The great progress in Rogue river valley is due to the fact that the whole people have "caught the inspiration."

Rogue River Land.

Go 'way now, Mr. Preacher, you needn't talk to me
About a land that's paved with gold,
Beyond the jasper sea;
Of course, no doubt, there's such a place,
But don't you understand,
The soil won't raise good apples like our own
Rogue river land.
I want to live among the bloom of peach and apple trees
And drink the breath of sweet perfume that floats upon the breeze;
To garner fruits from Nature's breast and watch the rainbow dyes
Which glint the east and gild the west,
Where snowy mountains rise.
I crave no shining harp of gold upon a golden strand,
I'd rather spend eternity on this Rogue river land.
I seek no blissful Eden, far beyond some mystic hill,
When here we see for you and me this fertile soil to till;
These meadows blooming rich and sweet and fields of yellow corn,
Where Nature seems to empty out her very lavish horn.
Here fruit and vine are oil and wine, Samaritan of good,
And finite man can work and plan where he is understood.
The orchards rare, the mountain air, the forest, field and brook,
With sapphire sheens and pleasant scenes most everywhere we look;
With silvery rivers spurring down from snowy mountains grand;
I'd like to stay and live away in this Rogue river land.
No, thank you, Mr. Preacher, I wouldn't care to change
These fields of green, this home serene, for some old Eden strange.
I doubt not that your Beulah land is full of harp and song,
But not like Rogue a singing as he gently flows along;
Not like the soft winds sighing through the boughs of stately pine,
Where the orchard croons to pippins in this valley home of mine.
Where busy housewives hum the tunes that soothe the babe to sleep
And gentle climbing roses round the cottage windows creep;
Where nature plays her minstrel lays which we can understand,
And we till and fill our pockets from the rich Rogue river land.
Charley L. Gant.

HAIL HURTS APPLES.

J. W. Upton, one of our progressive orchardists, was in town Monday and placed his name ahead on our lamb's book of life. Mr. Upton, who lives about two miles from town, says that an early hail storm did much damage to the young apples in his community. He is an enthusiastic Rogue river valley man, however, and is highly pleased with the growth of Central Point and the new life taken on throughout the entire community.

The mayor should appoint each attending minister a policeman without pay at all camp meetings. The policeman who keeps order at a camp meeting must be on the grounds at all times, and with the regular officer this is impossible, as he has four miles of territory to cover.

A Poor Weak Woman

As she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.
Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most experienced medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for many years and has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.
The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG.
SICK WOMEN WELL.
The many and varied symptoms of women's peculiar ailments are fully set forth in plain English in the People's Medical Adviser (1008 pages), a newly revised and up-to-date Edition of which, cloth-bound, will be mailed free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Address as above.

Back AGAIN

My absence from my office for the past three months was due to the expected dullness in my business during those months, also to the amount of building that I had on hand. The fall business is now opening up, and you can find me at the office at any time now. Come in and let us talk over property values. You are welcome.
