

PURELY PERSONAL

C. W. Jeffers was a Medford business visitor last Friday.

J. W. Merritt visited Gold Hill on a business trip during the week.

Holbrook Withington, the well known Medford attorney, was in town on legal business Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Conro Piero entertained a number of friends from Medford the end of the week.

C. H. Pierce, a real estate man of Medford, was here yesterday looking for investments in business property.

Dr. Ray was here from Medford for a few hours last Friday on business connected with leasing his hotel property here.

Rev. Porter, of Portland, was here during the week assisting Rev. Hazelton with the M. E. church revival meetings.

Mrs. Ella Roper, of Grants Pass, visited her sister, Mrs. N. E. Childers, last week for a few days. Mrs. Childers, who has been very ill, is improving.

Mr. G. Hog, from time immemorial rated as a weather prophet of high degree, fell down pretty hard this year as the bright sunshine of the past few days would indicate.

Rev. and Mrs. Sickafosse left Monday morning on the local for their future home at Mosier. They expect to stop over for a week with relatives at Monmouth before continuing their journey to Mosier.

Livery Service For Funerals.

For the information of my customers and the public generally, I wish to make the following statement regarding the price of livery rigs for funerals:

I cannot afford to keep a line of stock especially for funeral occasions and must supply such orders from my regular commercial stock of horses and rigs, which are in service among regular customers practically every day. I therefore find it necessary when rigs are ordered in advance to be held for afternoon funerals to charge the full-day rate of $5.00 for the service. Persons willing to take chances on getting a rig at the hour wanted without making reservations in advance can have same for the regular one-half day rate.

W. H. FERGUSON,
Liveryman.

Table Rockets.

At the request of the board of school directors Prof. V. A. Davis has withdrawn his resignation and will continue until the end of the term.

The literary entertainment by the school children was very good and much appreciated by the large audience present.

The Patch brothers gave a moving picture show Friday evening, which was a good one and well attended.

Rev. M. C. Davis was from some cause unable to fill his appointment here Sunday evening.

Miss Maud Fields is visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Vincent. Mr. C. F. Garrison, from Medford, was here last week on business.

Christian Endeavor Convention.

The Oregon Christian Endeavor Union is planning to hold a big convention in Ashland February 10, 11, and 12. Dr. W. B. Hinson, of the White Temple of Portland, and Paul C. Brown, Field Secretary for California, are among the prominent speakers and workers on the program.

A rate of one and one-third fare for the round trip has been granted by the railroads, but it is necessary for delegates to secure a certificate from the agent at the time of purchasing ticket and bring it to the convention, to be signed by the State Secretary.

Free entertainment, consisting of a room and breakfast, will be provided for all delegates during the convention.

Ashland is one of the most beautiful residence cities in the state and has a reputation for hospitality second to none. Indications are that the convention will be a great success and all who can possibly do so should plan to attend.

John Rigg, of Ashland, is secretary of the Registration committee and delegates should send names to him.

RETURN HOME THROUGH

THE SUNNY SOUTH.

When you arrange your eastern trip be sure to include the Sunset Route through New Orleans, El Paso, Los Angeles and San Francisco for return. It is a splendid educational journey, and at this time of the year especially delightful because so warm and comfortable. Every mile is through the sunny southland—the rice and cotton fields of Louisiana and Texas, the vast mirage mesas of New Mexico and Arizona, now spread with bright green, the orange groves and semi-tropic charm of California, miles and miles along the ocean shore, and several of the most interesting cities on the continent. Ask your local railroad agent all about it.

Mr. I. B. Rhodes, State Secretary of Oregon and Idaho, was in town one day last week inspecting the work of the local Association. In the evening he addressed the board of directors.

Rev. K. H. Sickafosse, the retiring pastor of the Christian church, addressed the meeting in the Town Hall Sunday afternoon. A male quartette, composed of Henry and George Farnum, A. W. Moon and Henry Riley, rendered two selections, which were much appreciated by those present. Mr. Jas. McDowell also sang a solo. At the close of the address Mr. Sickafosse was presented, by the Association, as a token of esteem and remembrance, with a very nice serving dish, which he accepted with a few well chosen remarks.

On Monday evening about twenty-five boys of the ages from 12 to 14 years met and organized themselves into a club, the name to be decided on at the next meeting, to be affiliated with the Associated Boys' clubs of Oregon. The following officers were elected: Iral Stewart, president; John Conley, vice-president; Elmer Kyle, secretary, and Leonard Freeman, treasurer. The object of the club is to meet once a week for a short bible study, to be followed with a general good time. The meetings will be conducted in an orderly and businesslike way, so the boys will not only have a good time, but will be getting instruction which will be beneficial later in life. The club voted the fee for membership 10 cents per month, the money to be spent as the boys may so vote. A part of the plan of the club is to organize ball teams and other out-of-door sports, including tramps, picnics, etc.

The double tracking of the O.—W. R. & N. line down the Columbia river from Echo to Portland, as authorized this week by the Harriman directors in New York, will be of great benefit to the whole state. Fare from other points is in proportion, for example, $33 from Chicago, $32 from St. Louis, $50 from New York City, $49.75 from Washington, etc.

Captain Eggleston.

until elected to the state Legislature last November. During his term as recorder of Ashland, Captain Eggleston was several times commended in the highest terms for his successful management of an office involving large financial, judicial and executive responsibility. In addition to being recorder, he was also Justice of the Peace, which position he held until his death.

Being well versed in law, he was able to attend to the duties of City Attorney with the result that in 1906 the people of Ashland abolished that office and transferred the duties to the recorder.

His advent into the office opened an era of municipal improvement in Ashland, as, by virtue of his education and experience as an engineer, he was able to project and organize the financing of that city's fine sewer system. He also organized the movement which resulted in the laying of miles of paved streets.

His talent for organization and administration of public affairs, together with the high esteem with which he was held by his fellow citizens resulted in their inducing him to accept the nomination for candidate for County Judge in the primary election in 1908, but he was defeated by a small margin.

Over ten years ago he wrote the first literature descriptive of the Rogue River Valley, intending to induce immigration to the valley. He was the pioneer publicity man in this section, was for several years secretary of the Ashland Board of Trade and was for three successive terms President of the Ashland Commercial club.

The funeral services were held at the Methodist Episcopal church in Ashland Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Interment in Hargadine cemetery.

Captain Eggleston leaves a wife, stepdaughter and a sister, Mrs. Josephine D. Brooker. He was aged 56 years and 20 days.

Will Boost All Oregon.

State Development will receive a new impetus if House Bill No. 301, now before the legislature, passes. This measure will create a statistical bureau, and immigration agent and authentic statistics presenting the opportunities of Oregon will then be available for use by the various commercial organizations that are now without an official source for reliable data. A state booklet, furnishing facts about Oregon in concise form, will be the basis of extensive advertising.

The bill now being considered was framed by the Oregon Development League to meet a general demand for a state publication. The measure provides that the immigration agent shall serve without pay, but makes an appropriation of $25,000, barely the cost of compiling and printing a limited original edition of the booklet. Once available, such a publication will be duplicated widely.

The Presbyterian Missionary Society meets with Mrs. W. H. Norcross Wednesday, Feb. 15th, at 2:00 P. M. Officers will be elected.

The remains were interred in Hargadine cemetery.
