Places Waiting for Men Who Have Special Technical Training

Corvallis, Ore., June 30.—Alfred Vitale, an Italian author of a new book on poultry culture, makes acknowledgment of much valuable aid received from Prof. James Dryden, head of the poultry department of the Oregon Agricultural college, both by personal correspondence and through the bulletins edited by Mr. Dryden, before coming to Oregon.

Two of this June's graduates if the college have just been appointed by the regents to good positions on the experiment station staff. They are George Reiben, of Banks, to be horticulturist for the station at Union, in eastern Oregon; and Leslie Beaty, of Walkerton, Ind., to be foreman of the Umatilla project. Both men have been prominent in the athletic and literary life of the college.

Prof. R. W. Allen, superintendent of the experiment station at Umatilla, will give a three week series of lectures before British Columbia fruit growers, beginning July 11. Starting at Kamloop he will travel south through the famous Okanogan district giving field demonstrations and stereopticon lectures.

Prof. H. D. Scudder, of the agronomy department, addressed the Western Development League at Prineville on "The Agricultural Possibilities of Oregon" recently.

E. J. Krause, of the horticultural department, has returned from an extended tour through eastern experiment stations, including the government plant at Washington, D. C.

Big Enrollment of Summer Students.

Corvallis, Ore., 30.—There are 19 different counties of Oregon represented in the enrollment of summer session students at the Oregon Agricultural College, beside the states of South Carolina, Washington, and Idaho. The registration for the first two days totaled 75, and it is expected that the number will be increased to 100 by the end of the week.

Representation from the various counties is as follows: Benton, 13; Yamhill, 10; Clackamas, 8; Multnomah, 6; Polk, 5; Douglas, Lane, Wasco, Umatilla and Washington, 3 each; Linn, Clatsop, Marion and Morrow, 2 each; Hood River, Coos, Harney, Lincoln and Tillamook, 1 each. Idaho and South Carolina have one each, and the state of Washington 3.

Among these are city school superintendents, county supervisors, high school teachers, and instructors of special branches, as music, drawing and science. The strong course in high school methods proved attractive to many, as did also that in the teaching of science in high schools, given by W. F. Fargo of the Salem high school.

NEW PASTOR IS WELCOMED

Rev. and Mrs. Aldrich are given Glad Hand by Citizens in General.

A formal reception by the church of floors and members to their new pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. H. N. Aldrich, was held in the Methodist church last evening. The church presented a beautiful appearance, the decoration scheme having been carried out with rare taste and skill.

Members of the church and invited guests arrived at 8:00 o'clock, the visitors being met by a committee of church officials and their wives who welcomed them and presented them to Rev. and Mrs. Aldrich.

After the guests were seated the following highly enjoyable program was rendered:

Organ solo, Lester Harvey.
Address of welcome, Rev. R. B. Shoun of the Baptist church.
Song, male quartette.

Address, Miss Barnett, president of Young Peoples' Missionary society.
Address, Miss Pankey, president of Epworth League.

Solo, Rev. H. N. Aldrich.
Address, Mrs. Kahler, president of Ladies' Aid society.
Address, Dennis Green, secretary Y. M. C. A.

Address, E. C. Faber, chairman of fiscal board.
Song, male quartette.

Address, Rev. Aldrich.
Following the program an enjoyable time was spent socially.

A generous bowl of fruit punch, presided over by some of Central Point's popular young ladies, was served during the evening.

Table Rockets.

S. K. Adams traded his Table Rock property to Mr. Reese of MacDougal, Calif, and left last week with his family for their new home. Mr. Reese and family have taken up their residence here and we welcome them to our neighborhood. The family have the sympathy of the community in their sorrow at the death of a son, Charles, who died on the 26th of consumption.

Many of our young folks attended the wedding of Mr. Hallie Head and Miss Elsie Beebe, which occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Beebe, at Agate June 28. Mr. and Mrs. Head are both great favorites with the young people of this place and have the hearty good wishes of all for a long and happy journey in double harness.

Ye scribe hereof attended the G. A. R. encampment at Ashland last week, and the "old boys" are well pleased at the hospitality extended them and are loud in praise of the beautiful city and its patriotic people. If we found the city "dry" it certainly wasn't dull.

A Famous Little Town.

Scio was once on a stub end of a railroad, but in course of time the town was left about two and a half miles to one side. The enterprise of the people and property-owners was not equal to putting in a line of their own. They did put in a light and water service, however, owned by the town; and Scio is celebrated far and wide for its condensary from which many carloads of fine milk is shipped. All it needs is something to loosen up the tight grip on the large areas of mis-used, half-used and entirely idle lands around it to be a flourishing little city, the capital of Santiam County, instead of an off-to-one-side village "up on William creek a ways."

TAKES MONEY GETS MAN

Woman Spurs Lagging Suitor by Skipping With His Roll

A white woman giving her name as Mrs. L. B. Dow, and her address as Akeley, Minn., registered at a hotel in Central Point on Thursday evening, after missing connections with the north bound train by a few minutes.

The woman came from Medford in an automobile and seemed much disappointed on learning that she could not get a train out for the north until the next morning. A few hours later Constable Singler arrived from Medford, in company with a Greek by the name of Elliott, in search of the woman, and after considerable parley she was induced to return to Medford with the officer on a warrant charging her with "lifting" the Greek's roll. Later it developed that the woman's name was Lena McLaughlin and that she had come to Medford with the Greek several weeks ago where the two had been living as man and wife. Finally becoming tired of his promises to marry her, which were never fulfilled, she took his money, amounting to $550 and skipped. And had she been but a few minutes earlier in reaching this place the Greek would have had considerable difficulty in realizing on his roll. He enlisted the aid of the police as soon as he found the woman gone and accompanied the officer here with a warrant for her arrest, but as soon as he heard her gentle voice in conversation with the officer his anger dissolved in a flood of tears which continued to flow copiously and loud until the party started on their return journey. By the time they arrived at Medford they had patched up their difficulties and the charge was withdrawn and a marriage license substituted. The couple left for the north on an evening train Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Grim and family picniced at Happy camp Tuesday.

Homer Peart, who celebrated the Fourth at Butte Falls, and a member of the Central Point band and the ball team had the misfortune to twist an ankle during the game Tuesday afternoon. He experienced no trouble for several hours when enough swelling and pain ensued to spoil the evening's dancing program for Homer. He returned on yesterday morning's train and came down from Medford by auto.

Mayor Leever did not motor to the mountains for a quiet day 'mid sylvan scenes on the Glorious Fourth as he planned. It was not that his Honor was not patriotic, nor that he didn't want to take the trip but rather that the motor wouldn't motor or the gasoline wouldn't gas, or the carburetor wouldn't carb, or something. Anyway the pesky auto ought to have known better than to treat any man so scandalously on a hot holiday. But motor car engines are reputed to be no respecter of persons.

EAGLE SCREAMS BUTTE FALLS

Patriotic People of Tall Timber Metropolis Prove Royal Hosts

About 100 Central Point people celebrated the Fourth at Butte Falls Tuesday many taking advantage of the occasion to make their first visit to the beautiful and prosperous "metropolis of the Tall Timber."

Most of the crowd drove to Davis station, just east of town, where they took the train, others drove to Eagle Point, while some went to Medford and took the train there. Large delegations also joined the excursion at Eagle Point as well as at the many way stations along the line and when Butte Falls was reached practically every inch of train room was occupied.

At the depot a delegation of leading citizens and officials met the excursionists with a hearty welcome and escorted them to Plaza Park, in the center of the new city, where the formal exercises of the day were successfully carried out. A splendid program was rendered, the principal address being given by Rev. Dr. Jones, of Butte Falls, and Mr. J. C. Wilson, Esq. of Medford.

Dr. Jones, made a most excellent address, steering clear of the stereotyped platitudes of the average Independence day oration. His remarks, however, were rich in matured thought, logical and reasonable ideas, regret at our national tendency to waste opportunities and kindly counsel as to our national duties.

Mr. Wilson also showed rare taste in his remarks. He dwelt particularly on historic features of our nation comparing present with past conditions.

Butte Falls people showed themselves to be the soul of hospitality. Nothing was too good for visitors and nothing was left undone to give everybody a pleasant time. They are proud of their town, with its wealth of natural resources. They have the purest and coldest water, the most healthful breezes, the tallest timber, and the finest townsite in the world and they have a right to be proud of it. They have a population of nearly 500 souls, which is rapidly growing, a sawmill, the biggest in the county, which is being improved and enlarged, and they are soon to have a city incorporation, a municipal water system, sewers, fire protection, and a through line, transcontinental railroad, with old Jim Hill posing as the man behind the gun and the check book.

Here's to Butte Falls; in a big beaker of her own pure, clear, cold, sparkling mountain water.

Long may she wave.

An automobile party consisting of Messrs. H. N. and W. A. Glenn, J. W. Bowers, Misses Bowers and Willocks, of Ashland, stopped in Central Point on the Fourth long enough to enjoy one of mine host Dunlap's excellent dinners.

GOLD MINE IN ORCHARD

Table Rock Man Makes Interesting and Valuable Discovery

L. Harry Wilcox, owner of the Arrowhead Orchards at Table Rock, has made an interesting mineral discovery on his property, which, according to reports coming from practical mining men who have inspected the property gives promise of yielding high values with development.

The prospect was struck somewhat by accident and only the chance visit of an old prospector who "knew the color" when he saw it, brought the find to the owner's notice.

A little work was sufficient to follow the trace up the mountain side to where indications of a ledge was discovered and subsequent development work has shown a very encouraging condition. It is said that under a heavy cap of lava and hardpan, such as may be found in many of the broken up sections of this part of the state, and which is generally passed over by the casual prospector, has been found a well defined strata of heavily mineralized matter which shows encouraging prospects and gives good promise of satisfactory values with intelligent development.

Fruit Inspectors Relieved.

So well have the fruit inspectors under Prof. P. J. O'Gara done their work that three men can now handle the institution and the other three have been relieved for a time. Those men employed as inspectors are Chief J. W. Myers, E. C. Smith, Ashland; Jack Aitken, Woodville; Clyde Barnum, Phoenix; Vern Pendleton, Table Rock, and J. G. Medley, Medford. The Phoenix, Table Rock and Medford districts are the ones in which the work has been finished.

E. C. Faber and family are camping at Chautauqua park, Ashland for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. J. W. Merritt and Miss Esther Merritt spent the Fourth and fifth at Butte Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cowley and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Perkins spent the glorious fourth at Happy camp, on Rogue river.

But two accidents occurred to mar the celebration at Butte Falls. During the afternoon an 8-year-old daughter of Mr. Hughes, prominent merchant of that city, while at play in the dancing pavilion, fell and broke her arm and during the evening a Mrs. Clark fell into a well some 20-feet deep and sustained serious bruises.

Married—Prof. Paul F. Klein, the well known instructor in music, and Miss Elsie Dunlap, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Dunlap, of the Hotel Dunlap, were quietly married at Medford, Monday afternoon, Judge Taylor performing the ceremony. The happy couple enjoyed an outing at Butte Falls Tuesday.
