was in town trading Saturday afternoon.

Meet your friends Saturday evening at the Quality Store. "Something doing."

Frank Davis is here from California visiting his parents, Dr. and Mrs. E.
Davis.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Taylor, of this city, June 8th, a fine 10-pound daughter.

Mr. White, of Ashland, visited his relatives, Mr. and Mrs. James Gay a few days during the week.

Mrs. V. Bursell has returned from a visit with her parents at Eugene accompanied by her sister, Miss Corum.

Peter Applegate, former pioneer citizen of this city, now a resident of Salem where he served the state one term as state land agent, was here during the week visiting his son Clyde Applegate and family.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Van Buren and children, of Jefferson, Oregon, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. H.
Cornelius for a few days during the week. Mr. Van Buren is Southern Pacific and Wells Fargo agent at Jefferson.

Haymakers are some busy the last few days since the rainy season let up.
The first crop now being taken care of is the heaviest crop cut here in years and the indications are that the second crop will be equally heavy and of much better quality.

There is positively no excuse for anybody who wants work or who needs work being idle in this valley at the present time. The orchards and farms are in need of much labor just now and in one way and another the demand will no doubt keep up until late in the Fall at least.

Call up the Central Point Feed Store the next time you need flour. They have Balfour Guthrie's Royal Brand the best flour made on the coast. Its from bluestem wheat, unbleached, and you get your money back if it is unsatisfactory. 4tf.

Under a recent ruling salmon caught with hook and line in Rogue river may be sold. Under former interpretations of the Rogue river fish law it was held unlawful to sell any kind of a fish from that stream all of which helped out the downtrodden railroad company in giving them freight charges from Portland on most of the fish consumed in Southern Oregon.

The Central Point Cubs went to Rogue River near Woodville last Sunday and engaged the ball team of that town in immortal combat. The cubs have license to take the so-called "first team" of this city to a first class "cleaning" and it is probable arrangements will be made soon to give them a try at it if the "experienced" players of the first team are game.

The Department of Agriculture at Washington has just issued its 1911 Agricultural Year Book—a bound volume of several hundred pages containing much interesting and instructive information regarding agriculture, horticulture, stock raising, etc. Each senator and representative has copies of this year book for distribution and any farmer can secure a copy by sending to one of the members of the Oregon delegation.

THESE TO LAUGH AT

WHERE HAPPINESS ABOUNDS

Some fellows think that happiness is leavin' up in town, In streets all hot an' dusty, with th' sun a-beatin' down;
But that don't fit yours truly, for when I want some fun
I get my pole an' can o' bait an' head for Willow Run.
Just get away out there on some old blew-down tree With no one for companions but my fishin' worms an' me.
An' the little cork a-dancin' puts all my bad to flight While I sit there a-dreamin' an' a-wait-in' for a bite.

—Portland Spectator.

In Concord, New Hampshire, they tell of an old chap who made his wife keep a cash account. Each week he would go over it, growling and grumbling. On one such occasion he delivered himself of the following:
"Look her, Sarah, mustard-plasters fifty cents; three teeth extracted, two dollars! There's two dollars and a half in one week spent for your own private pleasure. Do you think I am made of money?"

The scorching cyclist was on the road to Stratford-on-Avon. He was bent over the handle bars, and the beads which bespoke the strenuous toiler were trickling off his face.

"Hi, sonny!" he called to a passing youth. "Am I right for Shakespeare's house?"

"Yes, you're right, mister," was the dreamy reply of the leisurely youth; "but you needn't hurry—Shakespeare's dead."

There were three raps on the table.

"There you are, Mrs. Moriarity," said the medium. "The spirit of your husband wishes to communicate with you."

"Aw, go long wid yez!" retorted Mrs.
Moriarity. "Ye can't fool me. Thim soft little knocks niver was Dinney's.
Whin he whacks th' table ye'll know at by th' shanke of the hoose!"

John Drew, the actor, was moved to talk about the bible at a society dinner one evening. On his way to the club with a friend later on he said:

"Nobody reads the bible any more.
The ignorance of the average person about the bible and biblical things is absolutely amazing. After I had talked my head off regarding the scripture this evening, a young lady said:"

"I have enjoyed what you said, but do you know, I always thought Solomon and Gomorrah were man and wife?"

"An older woman made this comment:"

"Oh, well, I suppose they ought to have been if they were not."

Here is a story that was enjoyed keenly by members of both parties in the House and Senate cloak rooms. It is related that a man, armed with an imposing looking document, called on his neighbor.

"Bill," said the caller, "I want you to sign this petition."

"What is it?" his friend asked suspiciously.

"Well," was the reply, "it looks as though Roosevelt would be nominated at Chicago and Bryan at Baltimore.
This is a petition praying that the country be restored to the Indians."
