The rally meeting for the men's bible class held Sunday morning proved quite successful, both in the matter of attendance and in the interest shown in the work. Several more than fifty men and boys were present during the Sunday school hour and the general attitude shown toward the work would indicate that this class is to grow and be a factor in the affairs of Christian work in the community. All men are welcome in the class.

Rather a remarkable record in school attendance is reported for little Miss Joy Hemrick who with this term completes her fifth year in school work in Central Point. During the five years Miss Joy has answered "present" to the roll call on every day that school was held with only one exception. One day's absence in the first five years of school attendance is surely setting a record which will be hard to compete with and little chance of bettering and Miss Joy is entitled to considerable credit for her steadfast attention to school duties.

For Sale

Four hundred feet second hand lumber, one single buggy, one single harness, one twelve foot gate with hinges. Would trade for wood or hay. Ira. L. Gleason, Central Point, Oregon.

A large number of our citizens were in Medford Monday evening to attend the opening play in the new theatre in that city and to take advantage of this opportunity of seeing Maude Adams in Barrie's fairy story "Peter Pan." Several automobile loads went up and a number drove while some went up on the afternoon train and remained overnight. All agree that the play is one of the best seen in the valley for some time. In all about forty from this city journeyed to the county metropolis Monday evening and both Tuesday and Wednesday evenings large delegations went up for a short visit.

A meeting in the interests of organizing a poultry association to promote the chicken industry in the valley was held at Medford Saturday last and much interest was shown in the project. R. H. Paxson who is one of the foremost poultry raisers in this section was chosen temporary chairman of the meeting and plans for the stimulating of interest in this very important industry were discussed at some length and much enthusiasm in the project was shown. Another meeting for next Saturday afternoon at the Medford library is called for the purpose of perfecting the organization and getting right down to work.

See Rube for special bargains in new and second hand goods, Central Point, Oregon. 22tf

Use a Cyphers Incubator and hatch a bunch of chicks with the same amount of labor it takes to hatch twelve or fifteen under hens. You'll find these machines at the C. P. Feed Store. They're self regulating. 44tf

Mrs. Oliver Ward of Hugo, Oregon, and Mrs. W. H. Livingston of Portland are in the city as guests of their sister, Mrs. George L. Neale, and their brothers. Mrs. Ward came Sunday while Mrs. Livingston came to Medford on the excursion Monday evening and was met there by Mr. and Mrs. Neale.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lovern, Mrs. T. D. Ross, Hugo Lang, and the Misses Florence Stearns, Etta Williams and Pearl Ross made up a picnic party and motored to the hills Sunday. A visit to Williams creek and later Lanes creek, an outing in the hills, and a sumptuous picnic dinner gave the party a most pleasant day.

The High school play, "A Night Off" will be put on at the local opera house tomorrow, Friday, May 23, at 8:00 o'clock in the evening under the management of the senior class. Elsewhere will be found the cast of characters and you are invited to spend an evening of enjoyment with the class. Tickets on sale at Sam Moore's.

H. W. Ward, driver for the Pantorium Dye Works, comes down from Medford every Thursday. Leave your order with J. E. Boswell and the driver will call for goods. Orders will be returned on Saturday by post or delivered by the driver on his next trip as you like. The driver gets a commission on the work and will give your order close attention. 2tf

Rev. Doran of Ashland preached in the local Presbyterian church Sunday morning to a large audience. Mr. Gore of Medford had been expected to fill the pulpit but later arrangements were made to have Rev. Doran here. Friends of Rev. and Mrs. Vernon and the little boy will be pleased to learn that the case of measles is only a light attack and that the patient is getting along very nicely.

All men who are interested in the improvement of the Presbyterian church grounds and premises are asked to be at the church next Saturday directly after the noon hour at which time it is planned to complete the work of grading the grounds. "Many hands make light work" so please come. W. B. Harris, Chairman board of trustees.

Many of our citizens visited Medford the first of the week to attend the I. O. O. F. convention and the various entertainments given in honor of the guests in the city. The Central Point Band furnished the band music for the occasion and the local orders of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs took active parts in the different features of the meeting. This with those who simply went to take in the sights made a pretty good representation of Central Pointers in the neighboring city.

That Frank Hatfield is taking an active part in social events as well as doing excellent work in his studies at the Albany College is attested by the writup recently given in the Oregonian describing the annual May day celebration at the college, which, by the way, is an event of considerable importance in the social life of the students at the Albany institution. In the crowning of Miss Mary Bryant as queen of the May Frank Hatfield was chosen one of the guards in attendance at the ceremony. The crowning and the attending festivities were witnessed by hundreds of people, says the Oregonian, and the honor to which "Happy" was elected is a matter of much gratification to his friends here who know he deserves any good things which come his way.

Some person entered the cellar at the I. C. Robnett residence Sunday afternoon while Mr. and Mrs. Robnett were away from home and no one but the hired girl about the premises. Just what induced the visit to the store-room is not known but probably a desire on the part of the intruder to find something to eat best explains his call which worked to considerable worry on the part of the stranger. There being nothing but some canned fruit and such like stored in the cellar not much attention is paid to keeping the door leading in from the outside securely fastened during the day time and it was through this door the visitor made his entrance and by the same door came his trouble. The door is provided with a spring lock and when the man went in the door swung too and the lock snapped in place. The girl had left the house for a few minutes to visit the postoffice and returning to the house about 4:30 p. m. she heard a commotion in the cellar and investigated to learn the cause. Never suspecting that she had a real burglar caged but with the idea that some dog had been shut in she opened the door and the visitor lost no time in getting out and away. The girl was unable to identify him and whether it was some local party merely taking a look around or some tourist expecting to find something worth while is unknown. At any rate he will take more care next time in arranging for his departure.

Mrs. R. L. Voelker of Portland who is the guest of relatives in Medford for a few weeks was in this city Tuesday as the guest of Miss Mary Mee and Mrs. Emma Bebb and family.

Pat Stidham was down from Ashland the first of the week for a few days visit with relatives in the city. Pat is employed in the round house in Ashland and was enjoying a day or two of vacation.

That Oregon should make a string exhibit not only at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco in 1915 but at the San Diego exposition of the same year is the belief of people who are studying the benefits to be gained from these two big events. A representative of the San Diego Fair says it will be visited by 15,000,000 people. It will be open the entire year of 1915.

vegetables. The same activity is going on throughout the whole state and this year's contest will more generally represent all Oregon than the last.

The Pacific International Livestock Exposition, scheduled for Portland next Fall, promises to be one of the best stock shows ever held in the West. Great preparations are being made already to secure the entry of a very large number of blooded cattle, sheep and hogs. This is the third annual show and premiums amounting to $10,000 have been arranged.

Medford council has now rescinded the franchise given to the Minney company and later sold to another syndicate which called for privileges in building and operating a street railroad system in that city and to extend into interurban lines and granted a like favor to one S. S. Bullis, only with the stipulation that work shall commence immediately. One mile is to be completed within eight months and two miles within the year. It seems the former company is willing to give way to the Bullis interests and that all parties concerned are agreeable to the change. It appears, too, that Mr. Bullis and his people really mean to deliver the goods. The irrigation project bids fair to be soon under way. The cement plant for Gold Hill is assured. Now with the prospect of motor car lines in the valley it would seem as if times were really looking up.

School children of the state are busy gardening, intent on securing prizes offered at the State Fair next Fall. The schools of Portland are teaching gardening just as religiously as they do arithmetic, and 2,700 boys and girls are tilling individual plots and planting

You Don't Buy Drugs Unless You Need Them

Therefore it must necessarily follow that when you buy drugs the best you can get is what you most want. Our long experience in this business has given us a pretty good insight into the numerous needs of patrons.

To those who are used to patronizing our store we feel that we have small need of emphasizing the fact that we pay more than ordinary attention to the selection of our drugs and to the compounding of prescriptions that come to us. To those who have not been acquainted with us in our business dealings we give this assurance and ask for a trial order.

We charge you nothing extra for our long experience in the business but give you our very best both in work and material used at very reasonable prices.
