Mrs. McKee entertained at dinner on the twenty-second. Covers were laid for ten, the dining room was beautifully decorated in flags. Natural flowers formed the center piece in red white and blue. The favors being the same. Mrs. McKee as usual was a delightful hostess.

Slow wives make fast husbands.

Talk about a good time! Well we had it at the Parent-Teachers and Grange entertainment. The farce was the hit of the evening, the actors being in an extra mirthful mood, gave the audience a great big round laugh.

The fish pond was well supplied with skarks, eels, suckers, and apron trout, cap-fish and red snappers. A fine assortment of homemade candies were sold by charming young ladies. The coffee and doughnut booth being the most substantial was presided over by matrons of county wide renown. Pop corn which had no home was disposed of by vendors with good strong voices. The neat speech made by Mrs. Ellen designating the object of the occasion "Children's Welfare Day" which was observed all over the United States was very interesting. From a financial standpoint the affair was a decided success.

Mr. Seabrows had quite a lively time last week when his team getting frightened at something ran away and did considerable damage to the wagon they were hitched to. Fortunately no one was hurt but Mr. Seabrows had a close call.

Two of our citizens visited Medford Monday and were so taken up with the moving picture shows and the rides on the Garnett-Corey elevator that they got home too late to attend the Harrington lecture, at least, that's what they say.

The Arrowhead literary society has been rehearsing the comedy "The Yankee Peddler" and will put it on the stage Saturday evening and as the society has the reputation of always making good those who attend will be well entertained. A small charge will be made to defray expenses of scenery, costumes, etc. Don't forget the curtain will rise at 8:00 p. m. and be prompt so you will see it all.

Supervisor Peterson accompanied by Mr. Harrington, from the office of State Superintendent Churchill, visited our school Monday. Mr. Harrington is visiting the country schools for the purpose of interesting the children in agriculture and domestic science and the people generally in making the school house the social center of the community. He organized the children into a club and outlined the work they should take up to enable them to compete for the prizes offered at the state and county fairs. The club officers are Loyd Caton, president; Katherine Nealor, Secretary; Joe Collins, Treasurer. In the evening after a short program given by the children, Mr. Harrington delivered a lecture outlining the work and object in which he is engaged which was very interesting and well received by the large audience present.

MISS ALICE PAUL

Miss Alice Paul, head of the Suffragists' Congressional Union, which is trying to secure action by Congress.

Creditors of the Mercantile bank of Memphis, Tenn., will receive 50 cents on a dollar, despite the shortage of $1,091,750, according to the report of the state superintendent of banks.

Poultry Observations and Helps

BY R. H. PAXSON.

It will not be long before we will all have to confine our laying hens in yards to keep them from destroying the garden. When this is done and the yards are small very few eggs will be produced unless all the materials for making eggs are supplied to the hens.

Beef scraps will take the place of bugs and insects which they eat in large numbers when on free range. Fresh clean water must be provided at all times as an egg is composed of about sixty-five per cent of water. Grains and dry mash will be provided, of course, in the usual manner, a little more when in confinement than when on range. Don't forget the grit and oyster shells, the former to digest the foods in the gizzard, as you know the hen has no teeth. The oyster shells are essential to produce the egg shells and all must be provided in the right quantities, as if one element is scarce the manufacture of the egg is retarded until sufficient of the scanty material is collected with which to turn out the finished product. With all the above provided the last but not least must not be overlooked, which is green food.

When you are making your garden, the very earliest one, put in a liberal supply of some or all the following for the chickens both old and young. Thousand headed or cow kale, mangel-wurzels, swiss chard, rape and lettuce.

Kale should be grown exactly as cabbage. By frequent sowings a supply of the plants may be on hand all summer and they may be set in odd places where garden stuff has been used. Some of the best I ever raised was from small plants set between the hill of yellow bantam sweet corn and the kale had the use of the ground after the corn was harvested.

Swiss chard should be sown just like garden beets and when four to six inches tall transplant to garden rows so that they will be at least two feet apart each way. This is used by breaking off the lower leaves and feeding green.

The best way to plant rape to spade up a corner of the poultry yard very early and sow the seed broadcast and put some wire netting around the spaded portion to keep the fowls away from it until the plants are a foot tall, then turn them in and see the hens enjoy themselves.

In planting lettuce the Big Boston will be found best as the heads grow to immense size. This is specially good for chicks and they devour it greedily.

At least ten per cent of the poultry and eggs produced in this country never reach the consumer at all, but go to the dump, crematory or some other place not meant for foodstuffs, declared Dr. M. E. Pennington, chief of the food research laboratory of the department of agriculture, in a statement setting forth the enormous waste of perishable food products.

"If we estimate the value of the poultry and egg industry at $750,000,000 to the consumer, which is not below the actual value," said Dr. Pennington, "the loss from waste would be $75,000,000. About $250,000,000 could be assigned to the value of the poultry and about $500,000,000 to eggs and we therefore would have a loss of $50,000,000 on eggs alone."

Dr. Pennington added that besides the actual loss there was a loss of deterioration in the remainder of the crop of perhaps 30 per cent due to bad handling. He said that his estimate of the value of the poultry and egg production might possibly be a little too conservative and that trades-people say that it reaches $1,000,000,000.

We Promise You Relief from All Stomach Troubles Or Your Money Back
We honestly believe we have the best remedy in the world for indigestion and dyspepsia. We urge you to try it at our risk. If it doesn't relieve you—as we feel sure it will—we'll give back your money without a word.
Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are, we honestly believe, the best remedy made for Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all other Stomach Ills
We Know They're Good Delays Are Dangerous You Risk No Money
Retail Dyspepsia Tablets, in addition to other ingredients, contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two great digestive aids used by the entire medical profession. They soothe the inflamed stomach, check the heartburn and distress, stimulate a healthy secretion of the gastric juices, aid in rapid and comfortable digestion of the food and help to quickly convert it into rich red blood, and thereby into flesh, bone and muscle. They relieve stomach distress promptly, and, used regularly for a short time, tend to restore the stomach to a comfortable, easy-acting, healthy state. They aid greatly to promote regular bowel action.
Don't neglect indigestion; for it frequently leads to all sorts of ills and complications. The pain and discomfort is not the most unfortunate part. The fact that when the stomach is not acting right, the material needed to repair the wastes that are constantly taking place in the body is not being given to the blood either in the proper condition or fast enough is far more serious. Nothing will cause more trouble than an unhealthy stomach. The blues, debility, lack of strength and energy, constipation, biliousness, headaches and scores of other serious ailments result from the failure of the stomach to properly do its work.
Our willingness to have you use Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets entirely at our risk proves our faith in them. We always sell them this way, and it is because we know that they have greatly benefited scores of sufferers to whom we have sold them. There's no red tape about our guarantee. It means just what it says. We'll ask you no questions. You needn't sign anything. Your word is enough for us. We know that when they help you you will consider it money well spent even if they had cost you ten times as much. If they don't help you, the money you paid for them is yours, as we want you to have it.
Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores—the World's Greatest Drug Stores. In convenient boxes—three sizes: 25c, 50c, $1.00
