R. E. Lee, manager for Swift & Co., of Portland, visited here Sunday with his cousin, Mrs. Will Owens. He left Monday morning for Ashland. Mr. Lee many years ago resided in Central Point and every once in awhile the longing for the old town brings him back. We had the pleasure of traveling with him as far as Medford, and enroute he subscribed for the Herald as he wished to keep in touch with the happenings of our city and country.

The Herald office for good job work. Keep clear of personalities in general conversation. Talk of things, objects, thoughts. The smallest minds object themselves with personalities. Personalities must sometime be talked, because we have to learn and find out men's characteristics for legitimate objects; but it is to be with confidential persons. Do not needlessly report ill of others. There are family boards where a constant process of depreciating, assigning motives, and cutting up of character goes forward. They are no pleasant places. One who is healthy does not wish to dine at a dissecting table. There is evil enough in man, God knows, but it is not the mission of every young man or woman to detail and report it. Keep the atmosphere as pure as possible, and fragrant with gentleness and charity.

Sidney Dean has traded his 40 acre timber land located in section 8, to C. S. Sanderson for his city lots. Mr. Sanderson also sold Mr. Dean the house belonging to S. F. Wheeler, the same being moved Wednesday to the Dean lots. C. C. Sanderson has moved upon the timber property and will be engaged this winter in cutting up the same into wood, which is expected to make about 4000 cords.

Miss Chapman of the Dalls was at the Eagle Saturday on her return from a visit to her mother and brothers at Lake Creek. Miss Chapman is a teacher in the Dalls school and will soon return to take up her work.

A Mr. Lake, who visited Jackson county some three years ago, wrote to J. W. Grover a short time ago and stated that he had traveled all over ever since he was here and had not found anything that suited him as well as Jackson county and the country around Eagle Point, and that he had intended to return and buy property as he met the most hospitable people at Eagle Point that he found in all his travels. Others would do well to follow his example and come and settle among the best people on the globe.

Army Engineers On Inspection Tour
(Grants Pass Courier.)

To make preliminary arrangements for a proper reception to the board of army engineers who will visit this district next month to inspect Crescent City harbor and the resources of the country back of it, a meeting was held last Thursday morning at the Commercial club rooms. Present at the meeting was a delegation from the coast city, including the three Del Norte county supervisors, Messrs. W. W. McLaren, Thos. Peacock and West Duley; City Attorney G. A. Webb, and others who were returning from the Tri-State good roads meeting at Medford. The board of trustees of the Commercial club was present, as well as a number of other business men.

The board of engineers which is coming from Washington City to inspect the Crescent City harbor with a view to recommending an appropriation for its improvement will consist of a party of seven or eight men, and the tour through Northern California and Southern Oregon will be in charge of Lieutenant Colonel Thos. H. Rees of San Francisco. The board has asked that no public receptions be provided and under the schedule as announced but little time would be given in which to inspect the country, one day being spent in investigating Crescent City harbor.

A delegation from Crescent City will meet the engineers at Eureka and will escort them up to the coast to their own city, where they will remain on the 19th, a party from Grants Pass meeting them there with automobiles and bringing them here on the 20th. An effort is now being made to have the party delay its departure another day, in which event they will be taken from Crescent City to Ashland by way of the Applegate, and then returned to Grants Pass via Medford, Central Point and Gold Hill.

While no effort will be made to show social attention upon the visitors, every effort is being made to properly represent the commercial and industrial interests and impress the board with the importance of building a harbor at Crescent City. The entire district of Southern Oregon is vitally interested, and the chief cities will be asked to cooperate. An invitation is being extended to the cities of Ashland, Medford, Central Point and Klamath Falls to send two delegates each, and also to send one auto each and to assist in entertaining the visitors. It is desired, if possible, to come from Crescent City to Camp Three Forks, remaining there over night, and make the tour of the Rogue River valley the next day.

A local committee to have charge of the arrangements and to receive the visitors at Crescent City and accompany them to Grants Pass, was appointed, Attorney O. S. Blanchard, who represented Josephine county at the hearing before this same board in Washington city last winter, being the chairman of the committee. The other members are Dr. J. F. Reddy, Wilford Allen, C. L. Hobart, Frank South, C. D. Selleck and P. B. Herman.

Eugene council and the Portland, Eugene & Eastern Ry. have settled their differences on Eight avenue, and construction work begins.

BRIEF WAR NEWS
Switzerland gives the powers to understand she will resist invasion of her territory.

Belgian authorities arrested 600 Germans supposed to be spies, and 100 are said to have been shot. Detachments of the famous Turcos or native troops from the French colony of Algeria penetrated Upper Alsace.

Austria, England, Russia and France acknowledge President Wilson's mediation offer, but the acknowledgments went no farther. The German troops inundated the valley of the Seille, hoping by this means to stop the advance of the French, but the quantity of water was not sufficient and the French troops were able to continue their march.

In the capture of Mulhausen, the French seized a great aeroplane factory, operated by a noted German manufacturer. Cholera is reported to have broken out among Austrian and Servian soldiers.

Arthur M. Huntington, president of American Geographical Society, and his wife were held as spies at Nuremberg. The German cruiser Augsburg was reported sunk by Russian torpedo boats in Baltic Sea, after bombarding Libau.

Many Czech soldiers in the Austrian army were shot for refusing to fight Slavs. The Belgian government seized 34 German steamers and two sailing ships in port at Antwerp.

Austrian troops having been withdrawn from the Servian frontier, Serbia began an invasion of Austria. Hundreds of American school teachers were marooned abroad. It was predicted that the opening of a number of eastern schools would have to be postponed as a result.

Despite strong pressure by Germany and Austria, Italy remained neutral. It was believed Germany withheld a declaration of war only because it still hoped to win Italy over.

Norway and Sweden have exchanged obligatory assurances with the view of preventing hostile measures being taken by either against the other because of the war.

The secretary of agriculture introduced a bill into the house of commons giving the British government power to seize all foodstuffs. The bill passed through all its stages. German Charge d'Affaires tells Secretary Bryan reports emanating from London and Paris put Kaiser in wrong light; alleges Britain wanted to tie up Germany, and make her fleet useless and otherwise sought to humiliate the German emperor.

The German reservists here apparently have despaired of getting back to the Fatherland. There are 56,000 stranded in New York. They were notified to return to their homes until further notice. Similar instructions were given to 10,000 Austrians and several hundred Dutch reservists.

The long list of captures of German merchantmen appearing every day are evidence of the exercise of sea pressure. Nothing in the shape of food can enter Germany by sea. Her seaboard supplies of every kind are stopped. The cessation of her trade and commerce and the consequent scarcity will presently have an influence upon her population generally and also upon her provisioning of her huge military forces.
