Providing the baby with hard crackers, oven toast and crusts to chew as soon as his first teeth are cut will help to strengthen his jaw muscles, develop well-shaped jaws and bring plenty of blood to the roots of the teeth.

NEW ENGLAND BOY WANTED THOT TO BE ON WEST COAST

Somewhere this very morning a lad is roaming far from his Springfield, Mass., home—if injury or death has not befallen him—the while his mother, Celia Chodrowe, is sending queries to all parts of the country in hope of getting word of him.

His grandmother is critically ill, and it is hoped that news of his safety would prolong her life.

The boy's name is David J. Chodrowe, but his mother thinks he may be using the name of "David James."

For those who may have seen the lad, the mother gives this description:

His height, 6 feet 2 inches; weight, 195 pounds; complexion, medium; eyebrows, dark and heavy eyes, hazel color; quiet, unassuming doesn't make friends; uses perfect English and is a constant reader of good literature—visits libraries.

His mother will be glad to know if any one has seen him any time in the past year, and where.

Write to Mrs. Celia Chodrowe, 121 Daviston St., Springfield, Mass.

Delicately flavored stuffed peppers can be prepared by the following method: Cut the stem ends of the peppers and remove the seeds, boil for two minutes and drain. The peppers are then stuffed with a mixture of rice, tomato and left-over meat, ground or chopped. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake until the peppers are tender and the crumbs brown. After the peppers come from the oven, narrow strips of pimento may be spread across the tops.

Old Monument Gone

In "The Innocents Abroad" Mark Twain tells of an inscription which reads, "We are the Canaanites driven out of Canaan by the Jewish robber, Joshua." The monument bearing it was described by Roman historians 2,000 years ago as standing in the streets of Tanager. It is not known what became of this monument, but the people of Tanager today still point out where it stood.

Worthless Eggs No Waste

Eggs that are worthless so far as food value goes are not wasted by the large dealers, but are covered with kerosene after being broken, treated with boric acid and sold to tanneries for use in one of the first processes of making leather. The shells are removed by sieves and the egg mixture is placed in a revolving drum with the raw hides to make them pliant.

Paris Latin Quarter

The Latin quarter of Paris is the section of the city in which the University of Paris is situated. Education in the university was formerly given in Latin, and the students used to go about the town singing their songs in Latin, thus giving rise to the name which persists to the present day.
