We have seen much discussion about the use by Southerners of the term "you all." In many examples, we have seen this used by writers who do not understand it to refer to the singular person, says the Troy Messenger. This is not the usage in the South by educated people but the term is often used to distinguish the plural from the singular "you." The same idea is found in a recent editorial in the New York Times in which the writer, telling of the efficiency of the New York police, of which the citizens in that city took pride, said: "It is something of which we all have a right to be proud." The propriety of the emphasizing and inclusive "all" is plain.

Not much is accomplished by the fierce scoldings for the transgressions of their offspring which it is the fashion, just now, to give the parent class. Much said about the breakdown of family discipline is unquestionably true. But if the boys and girls, the young men and maidens, of this day are to have the responsibility for what they do transferred to their fathers and mothers, why cannot the fathers and mothers say in turn that they are just what their own fathers and mothers taught them to be, or let them be, and so start a sequence of irresponsibilities that would go back to Adam and Eve?

A certain young lady who will graduate this spring is expecting a nice watch or piece of jewelry as a graduation gift. Why disappoint her? See Jones, the Jeweler.

Mr. Pervis of Talent, coach of the 1925 Jackson county basketball champions of secondary schools, was in town Friday and among the out-of-town persons attending the Junior class play at the high school.

After Sunday school there was the song and testimony meeting; following was the preaching by Rev. Goble. At the close of the meeting two came forward and were saved in the old-time way. Everybody invited. Come.—James McDowell.

P. T. A. NEWS

The program given by local people on Friday evening, April 30, as a final party for the benefit of the P. T. A., failed to be mentioned in last week's issue, due to a misunderstanding among reporters.

The program was sponsored by Mrs. Audrey Snyder and was well attended and seemingly enjoyed.

The entire year's work with Mrs. A. T. Lathrop as president, has been successful and much has been accomplished in an educational way.

Mrs. Lathrop has given untiring effort in behalf of this work. A closer relationship between parents and teachers has been established and it is hoped that many children will be benefitted in a physical way because of the many excellent suggestions as to health rules, etc.

The last meeting of the year was held last Friday, but as no nominations were made for officers for the following year, the meeting was adjourned to meet at a later date.

The executive committee expects to use the money now in the treasury in buying some fine playground equipment for the school yard.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Sunday, April 25, was Jim Watkins' 64th birthday. Jim came down town early with his horse shoes dangling from his arm and a peculiar look in his eye. On this day he had determined to clean-up southern Oregon or quit the game.

In company with a co-partner from Medford he went to Ashland where the pitchers of that city, Medford and Grants Pass were going to "pitch it out."

Jim and his pal "cleaned" all the pitchers in this art, of all the above mentioned cities. But he was still going good when he came home in the evening and won all the games played with home pitchers.

Moreover, he ended the day by hunting up the frail editor of this paper and offered to go in the ring for several rounds. We looked Jim over and decided to wait until he was older.

Jim Watkins is a good old scout and we wish him many more such birthdays.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Maud Boswell Saturday evening in honor of her birthday. The evening was spent in playing games, and a number of musical selections were played by the Burger sisters; after which refreshments were served.

ATTY. TRILL OPENS OFFICE IN NEW LOCATION

This week Attorney Trill, opened an office in the J. B. Stevens building just west of the State Bank. He will also enter the real estate business and write insurance.

Mr. Trill's two children will be here about May 18, to spend the summer with him. The building is being arranged for living rooms so that he will occupy the entire building.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Merritt of Corvallis, who recently purchased the Norcross home and property, took possession of their new home Thursday.

THE MAGI IS HERE!

You have all read stories of the ancient Magi of Persia, once a caste or cult of Priests who ranked next to the ruler of the land in importance; but how many of you have ever thought to meet one of these!

Well, you will now have that opportunity, as one of this cult has established his residence right here in town.

This is the way it happened:—two local men who have been spending every spare minute of time, for the past year and more, in experimentation have at last succeeded in their endeavor to produce something that is "just a little better" than anything in that line—an Automobile and Furniture Polish.

These gentlemen claim some very important improvements over any other product now on the market and are ready and willing to demonstrate and prove their contention.

This office has just finished the printing of the first lot of labels which are to appear on the containers for this polish and we are holding the "set-up" for more to be printed in a short time as there will soon be great demand for this product, there having already been received orders from as far away as Chicago, as well as several from this valley.

This polish, as well as several other kinds of polishes, has been named "Magi" because of its magical work on the various surfaces for which it is intended, and a special cut has been made for use on labels, etc., the said cut being obtained through this office.

These two gentlemen are well known in this vicinity, being none others than Messrs. Harold Fields and Frank M. Jones; it has been known by many that they have been doing some sort of experimental work, but not many have known the nature of that work.

Messrs. Fields and Jones will manufacture these polishes here in Central Point, and distribute to all parts of the country, either in wholesale, job or retail lots.

Everyone who has seen the work of their polishes has admitted that they "never saw anything just like it" and a great deal of encouragement has been offered by those who realize its merits.

We are glad to welcome this new industry to Central Point and hope that there will soon be such great demands for these products that a force of workmen will have to be added to carry on the work.

Mr. Jones is ready at all times to demonstrate these products at his Jewelry Store at Paxson's; Mr. Fields also will demonstrate. Their charge for this polish will be reasonable and the results of its use will be more than pleasing.

Beside this Auto and Furniture Polish these gentlemen have also discovered in the course of their work, an aluminum polish, brass and general metal polish, and a special piano polish and leather finish, the last two named not yet being manufactured because of lack of time and manufacturing capacity, but it is intended to put these out at an early date.

The Williams family has moved to the country.
