

UNION CHURCH

Title of Sunday school lesson: "The Triumphal Entry." Matt. 21. Outline—(1) The King Honored by the Concourse, vs. 1-11; (2) The King's House Cleansed, vs. 12-13; (3) The King Healing the Calamitous, v. 14; (4) The King Hushing Criticism, vs. 15-46.

Next Sunday morning is the time for the Children's Day exercises at the Federated church. A splendid program has been prepared, which will delight those who hear it. It is to be full of good things without being too full. One feature will be the promotion of the older Cradle Roll children into the beginners department of the Sunday school. We are expecting a goodly number of the Cradle Roll mothers to be present. This service will take the place of the morning preaching service.

In the evening the subject will be: "The Christ in the King's Life; And How He Met It." This sermon follows the one preached last Sunday evening, in the story of King Hezekiah. These sermons are historical as well as inspirational, and the young people should hear them.

Last Sunday was a "scorcher," as we used to say back in Kansas; but we did not mind the heat at the Federated church in the evening, for we went to the basement for the preaching service. Everybody seemed so well pleased that it was agreed to do the same thing at any time the weather is too hot to be comfortable in the auditorium.

Rev. Johnson, Pastor.

Great Voices Called Accidents of Nature

Great voices are rare and undoubtedly owe their wonderful purity of tone to an accidental combination of those physical characteristics which lead to the production of song. The human musical instrument, though built of living tissues, resembles in structure the reed organ pipe fitted with a vox humana stop. In both cases the note depends on the vibrations of a column of air produced in the organ by a reed and in the voice by the vocal cords. The human air chamber corresponding to the organ pipe is composed of the larynx and the bronchial system beneath it.

The throat, mouth and nasal cavities form the resonators which, by alternation in shape and size, are able to pick out and emphasize certain component parts of the fundamental tones produced in the larynx. The lungs form the bellows which produce the upward blast of air, and upon their quality depends the loudness of the voice.—London Daily Mail.

Glaciers

You liked the music instruments that glaciers made, but no songs were ever so grand as those of the glaciers themselves, no falls so lofty as those which poured from brows and chasmed mountains of pure dark ice. Glaciers made the mountains and ground corn for all the flowers, and the forests of silver fir; made smooth paths for human feet until the sacred Sierras have become the most approachable of mountains. . . . The primary mountain waves, unvital granite, were soon carved to beauty. They bared the lordly domes and fashioned the clustering spires; smoothed godlike mountain brows and shaped lake cups for crystal waters; wove myriads of mazy canyons and spread them out like lace.—John Muir.

Weird Coffee Recipe

French coffee, Turkish coffee, Russian coffee, all have had their vogue among those who are constantly seeking the bizarre; but in "All About Coffee" we find a recipe which should be weird enough to satisfy anyone's taste. It is "Judge" Walter Rumsey's "new and superior way of making coffee" as given in 1657.

You must "take equal quantity of Butter and Sallet-oyle, melt them well together, but not boyle them. Then stirre them well that they may incorporate together. Then melt therewith three times as much Honey and stirre it well together. Add therunto powder of Turkish Cophie, to make it Electuary."

Butter, salad oil, honey, and coffee mixed!

Aged Students

Cato at eighty, took it into his venerable head to learn Greek and Plutarch, almost as late in life, learned Latin. Theophrastus began his work on the characters of men at ninety. His literary labors were ended only by death. Socrates learned to play on musical instruments when well advanced in life. Colbert, the famous French statesman, returned at sixty to his Latin and law studies, and the great Doctor Johnson applied himself to Dutch but a few years before his death. Then there is the now forgotten Marquis de St. Aulatre, who was once regarded as a remarkable prodigy. At the age of seventy he began to write poetry and contemporaries declared that his verses were "full of fire, delicacy and sweetness."

VIOLIN TEACHER AND REPAIRER IN MEDFORD

T. H. Folkenberg, formerly of Portland, has recently located in Medford. Mr. Folkenberg comes to Medford highly recommended as a teacher of the violin, also a repairer of the instrument of which he has made practically a life study.

Mr. Folkenberg has organized a beginners' orchestra which is doing well and he is assisted in this by his wife, who is an accomplished pianist and piano teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Folkenberg expect later to take a summer vacation, but will return to Medford early in the fall and open their studio on the same floor of the building in which the Medford Business College is located.

They play well and have contributed to a number of musical entertainments since coming to Medford.

GRISHAM-COLLINS

On Monday, May 31, Clarence Grisham of Central Point, was married to Miss Norma Collins, formerly of Medford, but who, with her parents, had moved to Fresno, California.

Miss Collins met Mr. Grisham at Yreka, where the marriage took place.

They are well and favorably known in this community, Clarence being the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Grisham.

Their home will be in Medford where Clarence has a position in the Stott's garage. Congratulations are extended.

MONTANA WILL CELEBRATE

Former residents of Montana will assemble in annual picnic at Riveria park, between Gold Hill and Grants Pass, Sunday, June 13th. Bring lunches; coffee will be served on the grounds.

SEE THEM! HEAR THEM!

Professor Hull of Los Angeles and his family of Vaudeville Entertainers will show at Central Point, Gateway Theatre, Thursday, June 17. A clean, snappy, comic musical show, clever repartee and sparkling jokes and fun. An Unusual show—the kind you will enjoy.

Admission—adults 35c; children 15c.

LEASE ORIENTAL GARDENS

Roy Lindsey of the Central Point Hotel, with a Mr. Powell and a Mrs. Duffey, who are known as two of the best dancers on the Pacific coast, have leased the Oriental Gardens at Medford.

Their opening date will be Saturday, June 12, at which time a 7-piece orchestra will furnish the music.

These people will give dancing exhibitions, also private lessons.

Their regular dance dates will be on Wednesday and Saturday nights.

Charley Cline lost his bill book while in Medford last Saturday, containing a $10 bill and a check for the same amount. It was found by a couple of boys. They spent the money and tried to cash the check at Weavers Store. They were caught by Marshall Cummings and brought before the police judge. One boy was sent home and the other will be sent to the reform school.

"Steve" Stephenson received the sad news of his father's sudden death on last Sunday at Scotia, California. Steve had visited his father and mother several weeks ago, when the mother was very ill. She however is now recovering. Mr. Stephenson was born in the state of Maine in 1847, moved to Grants Pass about 1870, later to Cottage Grove and still later to California where his home has since been.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bohnert of Central Point in company with Marmie Olson and Oletha Currier of Medford, made a week-end trip to Crescent City, coming north to Coos Bay, then across to Roseburg and home on the Pacific highway, on Monday. A trip of this kind could not be made without seeing Nature displayed in her most marvelous forms.

Earl Loffer has asked that his paper be sent to Phoenix, near which place has a tract of land. He will be employed in the local mills.

The Closing Out Sale at Faber's continues with greater interest.

Mrs. L. H. Smith who is well known here, is home from southern California, where she has been making an extended visit with a son and daughter, located at Whittier and Los Angeles. Mrs. Smith is the mother of C. E. Smith.

The condition of Mrs. W. B. Harris, who is in the Medford hospital, is reported by friends here as being very favorable, allowing for the great shock which her husband's death necessarily brought to her.

Mrs. Guy Tex and daughter went to Prospect Tuesday where Mrs. Tex will remain for a few days' visit with relatives and Geraldine will prolong her visit.

Mr. O'Hara, an elderly gentleman living in Central Point, suffered a slight stroke of paralysis early this week. His physician says that with care he will recover.

A short but interesting Children's Day program was given at the Christian church last Sunday morning. A number of children leaving town at the last minute broke into the plans somewhat.

Mrs. J. T. Frye has gone to Roseburg to attend the Free Methodist Camp Meeting and conference in session there. She went with friends from Medford and expects to stay several days.

Teachers' examination is being conducted in Jacksonville this week. The announcement of subjects reached our desk too late for publication.

John Sheley and family were guests of G. C. McAllister and wife at a picnic last Sunday in the Ashland city park. Everything was fine and a pleasant day enjoyed.

Ray Henderson returned from Roseburg last night. He has been spending a short vacation in that city and Eugene since the Medford schools closed last week.

Mrs. Edith Deuel left Wednesday for Ashland where she and her husband will be at home at 316 Hargadine street.

LOCAL INVENTOR TO GO TO PORTLAND

Scott R. Darby, living two miles from Central Point, and who is known as the inventor of the tractor governor and tractor wheels for the Fordson, will be in Portland during the Rose Carnival and will also attend the National Inventors' Convention at that place held in the Multnomah Hotel.

Mr. Darby is having a good sale of his inventions and expects to establish a wholesale house as his work is becoming recognized as excellent.

This office is putting out a nice line of job work for Mr. Darby, preparatory to his trip to Portland, June 17-18-19.
