

IN MEMORIAM

On last Thursday afternoon funeral services for W. B. Harris were conducted at the Federated church, Rev. J. M. Johnson having charge, and he was assisted by Rev. Lawrence of the Presbyterian church, Medford.

Music was furnished by a mixed quartette consisting of friends of Mr. Harris. The singers were Mrs. Davison, Mrs. Stromeier, Mr. Hover and Mr. Johnson, with Miss Berniece Burger at the piano. The songs were old-time hymns, the last, "Sunshine in the Soul," being sung because it is a song which seemed to be a favorite of Mr. Harris, as he was said to often sing it when at his work about the home.

The sermon by Rev. Johnson was comforting, in which he stated that the circumstance of this death lost some of its sting because the deceased had died in the faith. He spoke of the useful life Mr. Harris had led, quoting from Hebrews the 11th chapter. His main text was taken from Deut. 30-15, "See, I have set before thee life and good and death and evil." He spoke further of Solomon and his trial of everything possible in a worldly way and of his final realization that all was vanity, quoting in this connection Ecclesiastes 2:11.

The floral offerings by friends were abundant.

The life-sketch of Mr. Harris follows:

William Blue Harris was born on March 28th, 1897, near Aledo, Illinois, and passed from this earthly life on Sunday, June 6th, 1926.

His father, John Harris, was one of the first settlers in that part of the state of Illinois where he was born and raised. W. B. graduated from the high school of Aledo thirty-six years ago this spring; and soon accepted a position as clerk in a hardware store where he remained for several years.

About a year after his graduation from high school, he was married to Miss Julia E. Park, whom he had met during his school days, and who was a member of the church choir in which Mr. Harris sang. To this union were born six sons, five of whom are living; the oldest, Frank Everet, having died when about sixteen months old.

The oldest son living is Russell L. Harris, who has just finished his course in Civil Engineering in O. A. C., and is employed with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, with headquarters at Portland, Oregon.

Herbert P. Harris has been with the Tacoma Smelting and Refining company for the past two years; but will return to O. A. C. in the fall, where he has had two year's work.

Ernest A. Harris has just completed his first year in the school of forestry in the University of Washington, at Seattle.

James S. Harris is at present employed at the Medford Hotel; but expects to enter college in September.

Walter L. Harris, the youngest of the sons, has been cared for since his mother's death, by Miss Harriet J. Henry, a cousin of his mother; and is a student in the high schools of Salem, Oregon.

Mr. Harris, with his family, came to Medford, Oregon, from Illinois in May, 1909; and in November of the following year, they moved to the ranch near Central Point where he has lived ever since. Mrs. Julia Park Harris died at the time of the birth of her son Walter, and her body lies in the cemetery at Central Point. Some six years later, Mr. Harris was married to Miss Mathilda E. Johnston; and Mr. and Mrs. Harris are so well and so favorably known among us that further mention is unnecessary. They have been unselfishly devoted to their work in order that the boys might continue in school.

For the first time in years Mr. Harris had planned to take a little vacation and attend the commencement exercises in connection with Russell's graduation from O. A. C. He was perfectly delighted with the prospect for this trip; and had so expressed himself to several of his friends. It was late in the week before he knew that he could leave his wife, who had had a major operation at the Community hospital. As soon as it was known that Mrs. Harris was recovering nicely, the arrangements were completed for his trip, and he and James left the ranch at four o'clock on Sunday morning in their Ford roadster.

They had passed through Corvallis at about one o'clock, and were going over to Salem to meet Walter, when, at a point about three miles south of Salem the accident occurred that ended his earthly life.

Mr. Harris has been a faithful member of the Presbyterian church for many years; and at the time of his death was a member of the Federated church board and also an Elder in the church at Central Point. He was consistent in his life, careful in his advice as an official in the church, kind, brotherly, unselfish, and always stood for the highest and best things. His seat among us is vacant; but the sweet memory of his presence will abide with us. W. B. Harris was an honored, beloved brother.

Mrs. Elmer Merritt from Merrill, Oregon, where her husband is postmaster of that city, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Merritt who recently came here from Corvallis, and purchased the Norcross home and property. She expects to return to Merrill on Sunday.

A. W. Beebe and D. W. Beebe and families are enjoying a visit from their brother, L. C. Beebe, of Marietta, Ohio.

"Even though we had a very enjoyable time during our nine months' stay in Los Angeles, we are glad to be home and meet our friends," say Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kyle, who returned recently from a visit in California. Mrs. Floyd Kyle, sister-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kyle, returned with them and in a few days will go to Corvallis, where she will meet Mr. Kyle.

Miss Gladys Bond, who is employed in Medford, was a guest last week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Merritt Hoagland and son are expected to arrive from Shasta City Friday night. The Hoaglands, who moved from here recently, will stay here for a short visit.
