Dot, the wonder horse was on exhibition last week on the streets of Medford in a compartment on a Reo Speed Wagon which drew considerable attention. This small horse has only three legs and there is no indication of its ever having had a fourth leg. It was captured on the range this way.

Elaborate plans are being made to celebrate the opening of the air mail service at the fair grounds.

Medford's newest orchestra made their debut at Walker's dance in the Medford building last Saturday evening. They made quite a hit with the large crowd present and will appear again next Saturday.

Max Crowson of 253 Eighth street Ashland, early Thursday evening unavoidably ran over Kenneth Dale Cohrs, six-year old son and step-son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee of Prineville, Oregon. The boy was almost killed instantly. Crowson was exonerated by eye witnesses. The Cohrs boy ran directly in front of Crowson's car, Crowson being unable to turn to the left because of other cars coming from the opposite direction. The body was taken to Prineville.

Saturday night between 10 and 11 o'clock the Rogue River Valley Canning company's plant on south Front street caught fire in the upper floor and did considerable damage to the roof and store room. Within twenty
