I. O. O. F. LODGE HAS PICNIC

Last Sunday the members of the I. O. O. F. lodge of Central Point, and their families enjoyed an all day picnic at the Howard Mayfield farm, on the banks of Rogue River.

About 40 were present to enjoy the chicken dinner at noon. In the afternoon Howard gave the visitors a real treat from his melon patch. They kept him on the jump for some time but he finally won out as the visitors eventually gave up the idea that they could eat all the melons in the patch.

Boating and swimming were also enjoyed by many present.

The lodge wishes to thank Mr. Mayfield for the fine Sunday outing on his farm.

Hiram Says--

It beats all tarnation how much pullin' power them women's community clubs have when they get to functionin', whatever that last word means. Their influence fur the good of a community is like a mustard poltice to a boil, I'll be henpecked if they ain't.

There ain't no use talkin, folks, wimmin make good leaders. I know, fur after 20 years of married life I've learnt to follow the halter rope an' my wife had a hard cuss to work on.

I reckon about the hardest thing is fur a woman to get her mind made up in the right direction, but once that is done all heck cain't stop 'em. There ain't no man that ever escaped leap year if the woman had her mind made up before the year run out.

But honestly folks, when it comes right down to accomplishin' things fur the good of a community, fur the good of society an' fur the good of each other, we've got to "hand it" to the wimmin. One woman has got a mustard poltice backed off the map an' when you get a lot of 'em pullin' together they kin pull a crooked politician right down to plain citizenship in no longer time than it takes to mark a ballot, I'll be darned if they cain't. By the way folks, that's where I want to speak a word to the wimmin.

A politician is a thing that looks like a man but ain't. He is a counterfitter of truth, promises an' vote-gettin' words that just mean two things: his election an' slaughter of honor. Professional politicians have bin, an' are now sellin' the liberty, confidence an' honor of the greatest multitudes of proponents an' guardians of liberty the world has ever known, the American common classes.

The greatest steals an' robberies in history of the world have bit committed by politicians an' their cohorts under the guise of remedial legislation, but the remedial legislation always turns out to be axle grease fur the politician's buggy.

There ain't bit a time in American history when the necessity of puttin' every-day, honest-to-gosh real men in public offices wuz as urgent as right now, an' fur that matter, I calculate it wud be a good idee to put some wimmin in office too, I'll be darned if I don't.

I'm stronger than a pole cat fur the middle classes which is might nigh all counted among the farmers an' the workin' classes. These are the producers of the country an' they are consumers of the country also. This bein' the case, I figger we're in a hell of a mess if we cain't pick reliable, trustworthin' an' efficient public officials from these two classes that wud be honest an' equitable with all classes.

I've got a heap of respect fur the legal profession but I'm so darned disgusted with most lawyers as politicians, that I wish I wuz a skunk when I meet one in the road.

The splendid wimmin of them community clubs haz got the power to do a lot of good scratchin' on their ballots an', when they come to it, I'm sure hopin' an' believin' they'll do a tarnation good job of it without any attention to the candidates politics.

To you mothers I pray that you'll make it a part of your club work to learn an' know that the man or woman you vote fur has got all the ear-marks of honor an' courage then vote yourself an' all your neighbors fur 'em an' I believe you'll do it, I'll be henpecked if I don't.

Yours,
H.
