MEDFORD NEWS

By Bliss Heine
The Medford Floral Society was organized last week at the public library and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. L. E. Williams; vice-president, Raymond Miksche; secretary, Mrs. A. R. Hedges; treasurer, Mrs. E. N. Biden; press committee, Misses Janice Butler and Eunice Davis. The object of this organization is to interest local people in the growing of flowers and shrubs, telling them what, how and when to plant and the care of same.

A window display attracting considerable attention in Medford last week was the life-like picturization in colors of a forest fire in the window of the California Oregon Power company which shows the flames leaping skyward by means of an electric device. It predicts what actually happens when a serious forest fire occurs.

Walker's mid-week dance last week was given in the form of a Jungle Party with the hall transformed into a huge jungle scene with mounted animals placed in the proper places. This made such a decided hit with the large crowd present that it was enlarged and given again on Saturday night when nearly 400 people attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dickey have returned from an eight weeks' engagement at Lake Tahoe, California, and were again on the job at Walker's dance last Saturday night.

The D. O. K. K. band rendered another excellent concert in the city park last Friday evening under the able direction of F. Wilson Waite.

The Interstate Transit Company which operates the big olive-green buses between Portland and San Francisco now has a service plane in the form of a Fokker monoplane to carry a mechanic and parts to their buses at any place on the road. This plane stopped in Medford last Thursday where the pilot and mechanic remained over night. In case of a breakdown of one of their buses on the road, all they have to do is send a long distance telephone call and the plane brings the necessary aid immediately, which is a real service to the passengers by preventing unnecessary delay.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS DELAYED ON ACCOUNT OF BUSY SEASON

Owing to the pear picking season we are advised against starting the Community Men's Bible Class now. Announcement will be made later about the opening date.

We have a letter from the Loyal Men's Bible Class of Elwood, Ind., in which that class shows an anxiety to contest our boys for attendance. Theirs is the oldest class but our is the largest.

We can doubtless accommodate them for a friendly contest and give them something to remember at the same time.—I. G. Shaw.

Attendance at the Oregon Caves now equals the record set in any previous year. George Sabin, manager of the Oregon Caves Resort company reports that more than 16,000 tourists have already visited the caverns this season. Last Sunday was the third largest day of the season. With 308 people through the Caves, this attendances was only surpassed on July 4 and 5, holidays, which were the largest days in the history of the resort.
