SAMS VALLEY

The nice sunshine the last few days after the recent rains has been a great help to the farmers of this vicinity in their fall plowing.

Many of the hunters from here have returned, some with big deer as their reward and some reporting no luck. A few of the successful ones are James and Abe Johnson, George McDonough and Joe Hitch.

Members of the Straus and Day families have returned with their big band of cattle from their summer pasture in the hills. They report a very uncomfortable time on account of the rain, snow and sleet.

Misses Eunice and Geneiva Glass have rented a room here so they will be near the school house, as they are attending school at Sams valley this year.

The heating plant in our school will soon be completed and ready for use. It will make it pleasant for both teachers and pupils after having been inconvenienced for so long during the col drainy weather.

The grangers of our community must not forget that Saturday, October 23 is the date of the Pomona grange meeting at Wimer. Everyone is sure to have a good time. Also there will be a dance at night with good music and a good crowd.

All the school children were glad of the holidays this week, there being no school Monday and Tuesday on account the teachers institute.

Final preparations are now under way for the Halowe'en program to be given by the school. After the program refreshments will be served and games and a general good time will follow, also it is surmised that some of the neighbors will find some funny things have happened during the night as is always the case the morning after the night before.

Our grange meets Thursday night for the purpose of initiating some more new candidates. The lucky ones this time are Mr. and Mrs. Martin of Beagle, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn of Table Rock; Glenn Holst and Nate Milkowski both of Sams valley. Although we are a new grange we have more members than some granges twice as old.

Mrs. E. A. Wilhite has been visiting for the past few days at the home of Mrs. O. T. Wilson.

J. L. Rowe returned from a several days hunt on trail creek but reports nothing but hunters luck.

All in our community who receive the Central Point American say the last issue was bigger and better than ever. Its popularity is steadily increasing in this section and we hope it is the same other places.
