

BRICK AND TILE PLANT ENLARGES

CENTRAL POINT WILL BE CENTER OF CLAY PRODUCTS

For Large Building

Work on Manufacture of Various Kinds of Brick and Tile Will Start in About 30 Days.

Mr. Weise of Eugene, one of the new brick yard owners arrived in Central Point last week. The new proprietors are arranging for larger construction of the brick and tile plant in Central Point and manufacturing on a large scale will begin in the early spring.

Three new families from the Willamette valley will arrive in Central Point the coming week, adding to our population, our homes, school and society.

The men will begin construction work immediately.

Actual plant factory work will begin within thirty days.

The brick yards will make drain tile, building tile, fire and common brick from native clay, the best deposits in the state. Sheds and a draught kiln will be built and when the new plant is operating at full capacity it is expected that fifty men will be employed.

Much credit to the brick deal must go to Attorney W. G. Trill.

Central Point sure welcomes the newcomers. It will mean a business stimulant to our community.

AT THE CHURCHES

"The Stubborn Motor Car" presented by the Epworth League of southern Methodist churches of Medford will present a three act play, with eleven characters and a western play for western people that has combined in it thrilling, gripping and excitement with pathos a plenty mixed with humor. The play has been given in various parts of the county and it is said that one moment your sides nearly split with laughter and the next a tear may steal down your cheek. The play will be given this Friday night in the Central hall at 8 o'clock. The admission will be 35 and 25 cents. You will enjoy it.

Christian Church.

There will be preaching services at 11 o'clock Sunday morning in the Christian church. A message of vital importance is slated for that time. All are invited to attend.

The Federated Church, Central Point

J. M. JOHNSON, Pastor
The Sunday school lesson will be on the subject "The Relation of Jesus to His Disciples." John 17: 1-13. This being a part of the prayer which our Lord prayed just before His betrayal, and at the close of His earthly ministry, we can not over emphasize its importance. Come, and bring some one else.

Next Sunday is Thanksgiving Sunday. The sermon in the morning will present some of the many things for which we are thankful. The musical program will be full of the praise message. Come worship with us.

The evening service will be of special interest. Mr. Henry F. W. Spilver of Medford will bring the message of the evening on the subject "Men's Loyalty to the Church." Mr. Spilver is a speaker of more than ordinary force and ability, and you will greatly enjoy his message. His years of service in men's work gives him special preparation. Lets boost this service.

You will find a hearty welcome at the young people's meetings Sunday evening. The older young people are planning some interesting activities for the near future, and you need the devotional worship of the Sunday evening service. Come with a willing mind, and do your bit.

Mrs. Maude Boswell is superintendent of the junior work, and will be glad to see that you are enrolled if you belong in that department. Carl Boswell is the leader for the older young people's services next Sunday evening and will be delighted to have your presence and assistance if you belong in the older-young peoples

AN OLD FASHIONED MOTHER

Yes, they call her old-fashioned and all out of style,
Oh, but rouge has not clouded her wonderful smile;
For her hair is her glory, no scissors have shorn,
And her dress, plainly fashioned, in meekness is worn.

With the glory of God her dear face is ashine,
Tho' she's all out of date, this Old Mother O' Mine;
For her sleeves are too long, her skirts are askew—
If we judge by the fashions imported and new.

She is humble and true, this Old Mother O' Mine,
And around her dear self some sweet memories twine.
O, I love her, adore her—Old-fashioned may be,
But in spite of it all, she is "Mother," to me.

This Old Mother O' Mine keeps her eyes on the Lord,
There is Nothing can weaken her faith in His word;
Ev'ry promise she tries is a bulwork of truth,
For she anchors her faith in the God of her youth.

She takes time to be holy, this hurrying age;
Has no time for late fiction but pores o'er the page,
She renounces the "flesh" has no creed, but the cross,
And in winning her crown, she counts all things but loss.

O, this old-fashioned mother has learned how to pray,
For the boy growing wild, or the girl gone astray;
She believes that the promises, "Thy house shall be saved,"
Must come true tho' the frown of the world must be brave.

You dear laddies and lassies—at home or abroad—
Know this old-fashioned soul serves an old-fashioned God;
She is growing quite feeble, her hair has turned gray,
Why not write her a line 'ere they lay her away.

She has prayed for you long 'ere your feet went astray,
Make her glad that that prayer has been answered today.
What a joy, when the gates open wide by and by,
You may live with that old-fashioned mother for Aye.
—Contributed.

NEWS NOTES OF HOME INTEREST

MATTERS OF INTEREST ARE PUBLISHED

Pert and Personal

Items Gleaned Here and There Are

Read by All the Family; Interest to All.

Join the Red Cross.

Next month is Christmas.

Mining activities are increasing all over Southern Oregon.

Everybody reads Jackson County's weekly paper.

Please try to get copy in before Thursdays.

Soil is certainly in fine shape now. A delightful rain the past week.

This is Red Cross Week, you can join anytime.

Joe Mayfield, of The Meadows, was in town Tuesday.

J. S. Vincent, of Sams Valley, was in town the first of the week.

J. G. Reader of Agate, a business visitor Tuesday.

C. E. Wallace, of Jacksonville was a Central Point visitor Tuesday.

C. E. Vellin, of Millionaire Row, was a Central Point business visitor Monday.

G. Lacy Garrett, living west of town, was visiting during business hours Monday.

The Gleason barber shop and Fox real estate office are improved with a newly painted front.

The Grimes Battery and Electric shop is placing a good many Atwater Kent radios to the satisfaction of their customers.

R. E. Nealon,, of Central Point, was in Medford the last of last week transacting business at the local stores.

Jno. Anderson, of Tolo, was exchanging greetings with Central Point people, and transacting business at our bank Tuesday.

James N. Cornutt, of near Gold Hill was transacting business at our bank and shopping in Central Point last week.

C. F. Carpenter, of the Rogue River Poultry Farm, near Jacksonville, was transacting business in Central Point Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Thompson and baby are moving into their new home, recently finished on the Pine Grove tract. The pretty place is about two miles northwest of town.

Considerable building is in progress along every country road adjacent to Central Point. New homes, new barns and property improvements are much in evidence.

Mr. Faber and Rev. Johnson attended the meeting of the Kiwanas Club in Medford Monday. A banquet program, and the launching of the Kiwanas Red Cross Drive made the meeting an exceptionally good one.

Your sister, mother, or sweetheart, or maybe yourself, would like a nice box of stationery or two with their name and address printed on them. See these we have at the American office.

Thousands of wild geese and ducks are flying South. Monday night many people were awakened by their clatter as they passed over the city. Is it a sign of approaching cold weather?

F. M. Jones, jeweler of Central Point, made a business trip to Marshfield recently, leaving Sunday and returning Wednesday. Mr. Jones reports lots of employment in the Marshfield mills as the East side is again in operation.

Call this week if you want some Christmas cards, envelopes to match and your name printed on them in appropriate type. We will now make you a splendid price for the greeting card and work. Best Christmas presents to order at very little expense.

There are several readers who are back on their subscription, and we can't understand the reason. The address date on your paper explains to when you are paid.

People are beginning to buy

Christmas gifts and are making "fancy articles." Merchants want some of this business are too early in letting the American readers know what's what through our advertising columns. Please send your ad copy to us by Wednesday.

Quality and prompt service their first consideration and we assure you that prices are reasonable. They are to be complimented on the policies they have carried their business and the service they have rendered to the upbuilding of Jackson county.

NATURALLY

"Have you been doing your holiday shopping early?"
"Well, not of late."

If mistletoe enhances the joy of Christmas, there should be lots of joy in Southern Oregon.

FOR THE LADIES

A Thanksgiving showing new dresses. Your choice of these new dresses, jersey or flannel, now for $10.

FOR THE MEN

We have in a splendid new line of Ties, Caps, Socks, Shirts, Shoes, etc. Pretty new designs. Look over now for first selections.

TIES 50c UP

L. HATFIELD

Thanksgiving Sale

of Roasters
and Carving Sets

Prices Reduced
10 to 25 per cent

W. C. Leever

THE WINCHESTER STORE

BLACK BEAR

Fire Retardent Roofing Paint
For Shingles, Metal and Paper Roofs
Tested and Approved by Fire Chiefs of the State of Oregon

Spark Proof, Rust Proof and Moss Proof

Guaranteed by Standard Roofing Company Sales Agent

Complete line of Shop Celebrated Cement Brick all colors, Building Tile, Sand and Cement

Gold Hill Lime—None Better

Everything in Manufactured Cement
STANDARD ROOFING CO.

Your Servant

S. Fir and 10th St.

Medford, Oregon

Sweet, Tasty Meats

THE CHOICE OF THE LAND—ALWAYS FRESH AND TENDER

"Quality and Service"—Our Motto

Central Point Meat Market

I. D. LEWIS, Prop.