

Agriculture Is Main Topic Here

 natural conditions are here waiting for the right folks to come along and cash in on them.

The specialist is today making the money, not alone in the professions, but on the farms. Anybody can be a specialist by simply specializing, and he can get big prices for what he produces, or some reason, however, most men are content to raise average things and get only average prices.

More farmers are wanted in Jackson county, whether they farm on a big or a small scale. We offer them just as many chances to prosper as they now enjoy, and besides we offer them our many natural advantages.

Farming is at the best hard work, but in Jackson county everything so contributes to human comfort and happiness that the routine labor on the farm is relieved of many of its trials.

You farmer folks who are living where you are not getting much out of life, come out here where you can get all there is in it, and maybe a little bit more.—County Booklet.

SAMS VALLEY

The program of reading and impersonating, given by Mrs. Walter Johnson of Idaho was well attended. It was given under the supervision of the Sams Valley Grange. Half of the net profit going to them. We all found Mrs. Johnson a very entertaining woman.

The Sams Valley Grange will hold an all day meeting Dec. 4, with a large dinner at noon. There will be special attractions because of that date being the anniversary of the first Grange ever organized. We hope to have a good attendance at this meeting.

Everyone in Sams Valley is feeling fine after the Thanksgiving vacation. The teachers as well as scholars. We received many compliments on the program given by the school children at the school house Wednesday evening. It was attended with a record crowd and some very interesting numbers were presented.

Misses Naomi Moon, Vida Dent and Naoma Magrader spent their Thanksgiving vacation with the McDonough family. They enjoyed the program Wednesday evening and also took in quite a large amount of the Thanksgiving dinner at the school house Thursday noon.

A large community dinner was held at the school house Thanksgiving day. A large number of people enjoyed it. The tables fairly groaned under the load of good things to eat and, in fact, we had to hunt an extra table to take care of the cakes and pies which were made by some of the best cooks in the country.

Several of our young people attended the dancing party given by Miss Aletha Gray at the community club house on Thanksgiving evening. They reported having a most wonderful time and were sorry to depart when the time came.

AT THE CHURCHES

Central Point Union Church.
 Sunday, Dec. 5.

Title for Sunday school lesson: "The Betrayal." John 18.

Let us start right on time next Sunday morning with every teacher in place. The lesson is so full of important things that we need every minute available.

The sermon in the morning will deal with the subject: "What the Scriptures Consist of, and their Uses." Come, let us exalt the word of God together. The young people will meet at 6:30 p. m. for their service, and at 7:30 p. m. the service will magnify the Lord in song; and the sermon will be on the subject: "What the Bible Teaches About Retribution." There are many false things being taught about this subject that all who wish to know what the Bible really does teach should be in this service.

J. M. JOHNSON, Pastor.

OBITUARY

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Norcross have returned from Oakland, California, where they were called by telegram Armistic day, announcing the death of E. J. Norcross that morning at 9:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Norcross and L. L. Norcross of Ashland left that afternoon by auto, arriving in Oakland Saturday morning. The funeral which was private was at 2 o'clock at the home. E. J. Norcross on several occasions had expressed a desire to be cremated and his wishes were carried out. He has been a resident of California for many years in the banking business, associated with his eldest son, Fred Norcross in many different parts of the state. Of late years he had retired from active business and had enjoyed visiting many places of interest. Accompanied by his wife and youngest son, he made an auto trip back to his childhood home in Wisconsin, stopping in Castania, Iowa, where he first was in the banking business renewing old acquaintances in all these places, later they took a trip to Alaska, spent one winter in Honolulu and had made many visits to Medford and Central Point where his brothers and sister live. He has made many friends during these visits who extend their sympathy to his bereaved wife and children and brothers and sister at this sad time.

E. J. Norcross lived to the ripe age of 75 years.

THE KIND THAT COUNTS

He—Think we'll have a green Christmas?
 She—I hope so—a "long green" one.

Maple Popcorn Balls

Pop three quarts of corn and discard hard kernels. Melt one tablespoonful of butter in a saucepan, add one cupful of maple sirup and one-half cupful of sugar. Bring to boiling point and let boil until mixture will become brittle when tried in cold water. Pour mixture gradually, stirring all the while, over corn which has been sprinkled with salt. Shape into balls, using very little pressure.

Then and Now

The old-fashioned boy who used to get an apple, an orange, a handful of mixed nuts, a dime's worth of powder and shot or a new pair of home-knit socks for Christmas now has a grandson who must have a new car, a diamond ring, and a check. Times change.

At Christmas Time

Mr. Smiles—But why do you expect a Christmas box from me? Surely I have had no dealings with you?
 Boy—Yes, sir—please, sir, you tripped over my 'oop last week.

Origin of Carols

Few, if any, Christmas carols were ever sung in Scotland, while from earliest times the custom has been universally prevalent in England, France, Italy and other countries of the European continent.

COUNTY HEALTH NEWS

A particularly bright boy of 12 years is one of the "shut-ins" whom Miss Vera Beard looks forward to visiting on her rounds of public health nursing. He is expecting her long before it is humanly possible for her to fit in a visit with him along with school inspections, maternity work, clinics, etc., but she is thinking of him and trying to solve his problem long before she arrives at his home. After turning off the highway and driving 18 miles towards Mr. Pitt she has plenty of time to think of all the cheerful news she knows a live wire boy would like to hear, but she must also remember that her visit must not make him restless and long to take part in the football game she wants to tell him about. Miss Beard's patient has tuberculosis of the spine perhaps it is cured from having been in a cast for a year and given complete rest until this past summer when he was released and allowed to walk across the room. For the past few months he has alternated a day in bed with a few steps the next day and has been counting on beginning the new year with going to school and playing in the snow. His mother knows that his schooling will be postponed even later than that. Miss Beard and Dr. Geary do all they can but are worried about one of the boy's knees that is becoming inflamed and wish they had met this boy in a clinic when he was many years younger. If they can not save this boy they hope to save every other child in the county from developing tuberculosis of the bones, oft of the lungs, or any other sickness for that matter. This boy is receiving god care in his own home with his mother following instructions carefully to guard the others from catching this dread disease, but the big mistake was made three years ago when a quack doctor tried to cure the sore spine with irritating "electric rubs" until the child developed a fever each afternoon and became too weak for further treatments. Later the family moved west settling in their present location and after a long time, too long in fact, they were put in touch with the County Health unit which promptly adopted them.

To reach invalids like this as well as the healthy children, the Jackson County Public Health association recently put into 76 schools the essay contest, having as its subject: "Why we should buy Christmas Seals."

"IKE" A BUSY MAN

According to Jailor Dunford of Jackson county, the store room at the county jail is full to overflowing with seizures of illicit "booze." In his custody are 16 cases of synthetic gin 324 pints of "moonshine," a keg of sherry wine and numerous other flasks of the amber fluid. In addition to the above seizures like iscustodian of a jail full of guests either serving sentences or waiting for trial.
