

OREGON LEGION DELEGATION ARE ASSIGNED BOAT

Portland, Or.—The Oregon delegation which will attend the Paris convention of the American Legion next September will sail from Quebec on the steam ship Montclair of the Canadian Pacific line instead of on the steam ship Orca of the Royal Mail line from New York it was announced by Carl R. Moser of Portland, department France convention officer of this state.

The change in assignment of the Oregon Legionnaires will not only afford better travel accommodations but will enable the veterans a stop-over in Brussels, while enroute to Paris without additional charge. Under the new assignment the advance and return sailings for the Legionnaires of the state will also be much better, it was announced by Mr. Moser. Under the new assignment the Oregon Legionnaires will shove off from Quebec on September 9.

The steam ship Montclair is one of the fastest ship on the trans-Atlantic service and with a length of 613 feet and 25,000 tons displacement is steady in all kinds of weather. An outstanding feature on the steamship Montclair is the excellent ventilation throughout the entire ship. With special air shafts from the promenade the inside rooms are as well ventilated as the average outside room. The public rooms on the steam ship Montclair including a richly furnished smoking room, a veranda cafe with windows on three sides, a large dining saloon, lounge and an airy winter garden deck with large windows and wicker furniture, are some of the added attractions of the ship assigned to Oregon under the change.

Under the better sailing conditions for Oregon, announced by Mr. Moser, the Legionnaires who wish to go in advance of the main movement may sail on the steam ship Montclair of the same line from Montreal to Liverpool on August 26. A total of four return sailings are available for the Oregon veterans under the new travel plans. The return sailings are: SS Montroyal, September 25 from Cherbourg to Quebec; SS Montclair October 6 from Southampton and Cherbourg to Quebec; SS Montroyal October 20 from Southampton and Cherbourg to Quebec; SS Montclair November 4 from Liverpool to Montreal.

Oregon Legionnaires who have already made reservations will be assigned the nearest equivalent on the new ship, Mr. Moser announced. A two color "On to Paris" steamship folder showing the SS Montclair and containing the official plans and information concerning the coming convention may be obtained by writing to Mr. Carl Moser, 207 Chamber of Commerce building, Portland, Or. or to the France Convention committee, National headquarters, The American Legion, Indianapolis, Ind.

MANY EDITORS IN EUGENE

Over 100 Scribes in Attendance at Newspaper Meet.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Mar. 7.—(Special.)—With approximately 100 editors, representing the prominent papers of the state, in attendance, the ninth annual newspaper conference opened here last Friday morning.

Discussion of the project of a field secretary and consideration of advertising problems made up the morning program, Ben H. Read, regional secretary, western division, National Editorial association, and executive secretary of the Southern California association, discussed "The Necessity for Organization; how the Field Agent Earns his Salt." Fraudulent advertising was the topic of Robert M. Mount, manager of the Better Business Bureau of the Portland Advertising club, while national advertising was discussed by Walter P. Burns, manager of the Pacific Coast Bureau of the American Newspaper Publishers association. Harris Ellsworth, of the Four-L Lumber News in Portland, talked on "What the local advertiser needs to know about your paper."

Lucien Arant of the Baker Herald, Don Skene of the Portland Oregonian and recently a member of the foreign staff of the Chicago Tribune Clark Wood, editor of the Weston Leader and a meeting of Associated Press clients made up the afternoon program

After the annual banquet in the evening, the editors were University guests at the second basketball game of the Pacific coast conference between Oregon and the University of California five. One of the features of the banquet was a talk by President Arnold Bennett Hall under the title of "As a Newcomer Among Us."

The conference closed Saturday noon with a luncheon at which the editors were guests of the student body.
